NEWS OF THE CAFES

Honoring James "Jimmy" Ha featured player in "Hell's Angels and Mierna Kennedy, popular screen actress, a special entertainment will be given in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel Monday evening. On the program several features will be introduced, including Jolson's colored jubilee singers, comprising forty voices. Irving Aaronson and his Commanders, introducing new dance rhythms and musical diversion, also will appear. With early indications pointing to a large turn-out of celebrities and others in tribute to the well-known players, preparations are being made in the Blossom Room to receive a capacity crowd.

NOVELTIES PRESENTED

In presenting to the Southland the many intriguing novelties of Franco-Italian cafe atmosphere the Paris Inn, on East Market near Los Angeles street, is said to surpass itself with the completed decorations of the Gold Banquet Room, as originated by Jack T. Arnold, assistant maitre d'hotel. Bringing to the establishment his years of experience, Mr. Arnold has rapidly perfected many delightful highlights. Social events and civic banquets are scheduled for the coming season, according to Mr. Arnold. Mayor Porter will be the guest of honor at a luncheon next week, it was announced.

DANCE PRIZES OFFERED

Miniature Spanish treasure chests containing doubloons and "pieces of eight" to the equivalent of $200 in gold are offered as final prizes in the fifth of a series of dancing contests which will be held at Gene Olsen's Revue Club, Culver City, tonight. The winning couple each Friday night receives a handsome silver trophy cup and the right to compete in the finals on the night of June 4. In addition to tonight's dance contest the program will feature Olsen and his music; George Murphy and Juliette Johnson, dancers; Jack Shutta, comedian; Dave Franklin, songster; Jack Lester, dancer, and the ensemble of sixteen show girls.

ARTISTS VISIT CAFE

Artists and art lovers gathered at the Casa La Golondrina, on Olvera street near the Plaza last night. The occasion of interest centered on a display of paintings by Francisco Carnejo, Mexican artist. A special program was arranged featuring Senorita Mildred Cortes.

TEA-ROOM COMPLETED

Westchester Tea Room, Pico Boulevard at Westchester Place, announce completion of their establishment. Mrs. Gertrude M. Magee, who has had many years experience as a public caterer, will be in charge. Luncheon a la carte from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and a specially prepared evening dinner, table d'hote from 5:30 to 8 p.m. will be served daily.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 30. [To the Editor of The Times:] Just been down to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. Flags flying, old men and young marching. This is quite a day with them. We are getting everything so well-organized that everybody that has done something for us, why we very liberally allow them a day. Free room and board and a day's speeches a year ain't hardly all we promised 'em at recruiting time, but they are good sports and take it good naturedly and keep on speaking to us. They just got time to sit and read our minds. They must just pity us. They know we will have the same old "bologna" to hand out to the next bunch to keep our investments intact (although we don't call it investments. We will tell them it's democracy.)

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Suburb of Enterprise and Rich Farming Section Now Periled

ALEXANDRIA (La.) May 30. (AP) Red River's devastating flood tonight was lapping at the gates of Alexandria with hope almost gone for saving from inundation the suburban section of Enterprise and a rich farming section stretching for fifteen miles up the river to Boyce.

The flood had eaten its way through the Bayou Rapides levee protecting Enterprise and fifty families there left their homes to add to the list of 10,000 to 15,000 flood refugees housed in camps between here and Shreveport.

Scores of levee workers labored throughout the day building a run-around emergency levee on the north side of the river, where the

Couple Drowns When Boat Tips

OSSINING (N. Y.) May 30. (Exclusive)—A 22-year-old girl and her sweetheart were drowned in the Hudson River and her twin sister and a male companion were rescued by a passing oil tanker late this afternoon after choppy water had upset the canoe in which the two couples had ventured out into midstream from a camping place at Rockland Lake, on the western shore of the river.

The drowned couple, whose bodies are being searched for by the Ossining police, were Miss Olga Miller of Ridgefield, N. J., and Herman Leppert, 21, Union City, N. J., who lost his life in trying to save Miss Miller.

GETTYSBURG REHALOED

War Dead Again Paid Tribute

Hoover Asks Preservation of Solidarity in Talk at Battlefield

Thousands Hear President Call to Mind Scenes of Lincoln Address

GETTYSBURG (Pa.) May 30. (AP) Leading the nation in its Memorial Day tribute to the war dead, President Hoover came to Gettysburg today, and amid the graves that dot the battleground pleaded for preservation of the spiritual solidarity that has created a great people.

Then putting aside for the time the cares of official routine, the Chief Executive turned northward for a 150-mile automobile drive through the Allegheny Mountains to the hunting and fishing lodge of Jay Cooke, Philadelphia financier, whose guest he is to be until early Sunday.

HILLSIDES PACKED

Thousands, packed on the hillside stretching away below the stand from which the President spoke, stood silent through the course of the address, the 1020-word text of which was the briefest Presidential address at Gettysburg since Lincoln's immortal speech in 1863. Speaking slowly and earnestly, visibly moved at times by his own words into the microphones which carried his voice to the massed crowd within view and the millions throughout the nation, the President recalled the "lonely vision of Lincoln, whose immortal words dominate this scene."

The spot where Lincoln spoke in dedicating the national cemetery now is marked by a high monument at which Mr. Hoover paused and left his car to lay a memorial wreath while en route to the covered, flag-draped cupola from which he delivered his address. It was barely visible through the trees in back of the throng that circled the speakers' stand.

LONE BOY IN GRAY THERE

Bright sun beat down upon the scene and among the row on row of graves flags whipped in a brisk wind. On the graves also were flowers which had been strewn by hundreds of children who broke across the rolling road to scatter them as the President reached the cemetery.

Behind the President sat a remnant of the "thousand brigades which marched in that great conflict," the dark blue of the fifty-six Union veterans contrasting with the Confederate gray of a lone Confederate cavalryman, William Haines, 93 years of age, of Washington. He was the first survivor of the southern ranks to sit on the platform at Gettysburg Memorial exercises.

Mrs. M. O. Smith, 87 years of age, of Hanover, Pa., who sang in the choir on the platform when Lincoln dedicated the cemetery, was back in a place of honor today.

CALLS FOR LEADERSHIP

Grouped about the President also were Secretary of War Hurley; Henry P. Fletcher, former Ambassador to Italy; Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania, who presided and introduced the President, and others prominent in State and national life.

Only as the Chief Executive began speaking and at the end did applause resound. As Lincoln had stood sixty-seven years ago and in his brief address awed the crowd into silence by the beauty of his thought, so Herbert Hoover stood today and called for leadership of the nation, tempered by moderation and the calm vision of the Civil War President.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Fellow Countrymen:

We stand today amid monuments to the valor and glory of a generation of Americans, north and south, now well-nigh gone. Most of those who bore the burdens of the Civil War have joined their comrades who sleep beneath these mounds. Of a thousand brigades which marched in that great conflict, scarce a score remain.

To the dead we pay again our tribute of gratitude and devotion. To the living we extend heartfelt wishes for a continuation of peaceful years, serene in contemplation of their glorious youth. The time must come all too soon when these living ties of our generation with the historic past will have passed on. Then we shall have only cherished memories to remind us of those men who heroically died and those women who bravely suffered for great ideals, or who lived on to consummate the

HOOVER SALUTES VETERANS

National Capital Observes Memorial Day With Pilgrimage to Graves of Hero Dead

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—The capital led today in the national observance of Memorial Day with a pilgrimage to the Arlington Hills across the Potomac, where the clustered graves of veterans received their annual homage of flowers and prayers.

Here came from the obscurity of civil life the man who nine years ago was given the solemn privilege of choosing the body of the Unknown Soldier who now lies, enshrined in marble, a symbol of America's reverence for all who, giving their lives in war, lost also their identity.

Bergt. Edward S. Younger, a little stouter but still trim in his khaki, placed flowers on the Unknown's tomb while about was gathered a group of veterans in which blue uniforms added a touch of color to the more somber hues of those signifying participation in later conflicts. They had marched earlier in the day in thinned ranks through the streets of Washington, past the White House where President Hoover received their salute of dipped flags before he left for Gettysburg to deliver an address near the spot where Lincoln spoke his immortal words.

They did not march all the way

CANCER CURE ANNOUNCED

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune]

VIENNA, May 30. (Exclusive)—A cure for the dread cancer, for which medical science has been searching unsuccessfully for many centuries, was announced here tonight by Dr. Ernest Freund of the University of Vienna.

He explained his discoveries before a gathering of the Vienna Medical Society this evening, outlining briefly to his colleagues the results of years of research to find a means of combating the seemingly incurable disease whose death toll grows yearly. Dr. Freund has found that in the human intestines there are two kinds of bacteria, one which aids in the growth of cancer and another which combats its growth.

In a healthy person, he said, the number of cancer-combative bacteria greatly outnumbers the opposite kind, whereas in persons suffering cancer there is a great preponderance of bacteria which aid cancer to thrive.

In working with cancer patients at the Rudolfine Hospital here he succeeded in introducing into their bodies anticancer bacteria to combat the cancer already at work. The results with these patients have been highly successful, Dr. Freund told the medical society. The cancer growths immediately shriveled. One man who suffered so much that he has had to be kept under the influence of morphine is reported to have had his pain entirely eradicated after treatment.

Prof. Burghart Breitner, chief surgeon of the Rudolfine Hospital, has confirmed Dr. Freund's discoveries. While the medical world is very skeptical of cancer cures, he said he believes that Dr. Freund's experiments are the most valuable made to date. Prof. Breitner said that he has observed many of Dr Freund's patients and found their recovery from cancer to be remarkable.

THOUSANDS FLEE CHINA RED TROOPS

All Nationalist Officials Reported Resigned Under Anti-Nanking Pressure

SHANGHAI, May 31. (AP)—Dispatches from Amoy today said thousands of residents are fleeing from that city fearing an attack by Red troops to be imminent.

All nationalist officials are reported to have resigned under Communist anti-Nanking pressure and missionaries are ready to flee in the event of a Red attack.

Part of the government troops garrisoning the city deserted to join the Reds, whose troops practically isolated the city by digging trenches across roads and cutting telegraph lines.

One dispatch said the Communists had kidnapped the Chinese agent of the Standard Oil Company of New York at Changchow, holding him for a ransom of $15,000 Mexican (about $7500.)

Refugees from Chankehow, practically surrounded by threatening troops, reported on the verge of attacking the city, are heading toward Amoy.

Unconfirmed reports from Honan Province said a series of northern victories there had driven nationalist troops westward from the Haichow-Tungkwan railroad. A second line of defense is said to be consolidated at Tangshan, a village fifty miles west of Suchow.

Glenn Curtiss Flies Faster

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—Retracing the route of the epic flight he made twenty years ago, Glenn H. Curtiss today flew a giant transport plane from Albany to New York. Taking off from the Albany Airport at 2:15 p.m., he flew to Governor's Island in New York Harbor in eighty minutes. On May 29, 1910, it took him 152 minutes.

HEAD WINDS SLOW SPEED OF ZEPPELIN

Graf Will Not Land at Lakehurst Before Dawn; New Records in Sight

LAKEHURST (N. J.) May 31. (Exclusive)—At 12:30 a.m. the following message was received here from the Graf Zeppelin:

"Will not arrive before 6 o'clock unless north winds decrease. Present position, latitude, 36 north; longitude, 75 west."

This position would place the airship about sixty miles at sea south of the Virginia Capes, and would indicate that her progress since her last message had been considerably reduced by headwinds.

ABOARD THE GRAF ZEPPELIN, 5:10 p.m. ship's time, May 30. (Exclusive)—Racing on at an average speed of seventy miles an hour, the big airship should pass over New York City some time after midnight, but will not land at Lakehurst until after daybreak Saturday morning.

At present the sky is overcast and we are passing into a low pressure area.

If we should be at Lakehurst by 6 a.m. Saturday, the Zeppelin will have set the following new records: Entire distance from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst, 20,793 kilometers (12,912 miles) in 210 hours; Pernambuco to Lakehurst, 7318 kilometers (4545 miles) in 67 hours.

The highest speed on the trip was 169 kilometers (105 miles) an hour. The total mail carried was 1200 kilograms (2600 pounds.) On the trip to Friedrichshafen the Zeppelin will carry an automobile from Lakehurst.

St. Patrick and Joshua Ought To Fix This Up

PETERSBURG (Ind.) May 30. (AP) Those readers interested in cause and effect will please concentrate so as to be sure to understand just how things are here in Pike county.

The fault seems to be with the sun. The sun has been preseasonally hot, drying and baking the strawberry plants.

Certain insects like their strawberry plants dried and baked, so the said insects have been around this year in great numbers.

Frogs like insects. A frisky frog will hop a long way to find a mess of insects; and with the abundance of insects—due to the dried strawberry plants, which, in turn, were due to the hot sun—there have been a great many frogs.

Snakes like frogs.

The farmers explain that (a) the sun dried the strawberry plants. The (b) dried strawberry plants attracted the insects. The (c) insects attracted the frogs, and (d) the frogs brought the snakes.

Ergo, there's a plague of snakes in Pike county this spring.

FAIRMONT (W. Va.) May 30. (AP) Everett Arnholt, 30 years of age, of Coshocton, O., was killed, and Lieut. Loren H. Scott of Marietta, O., was critically hurt at Arnettaville, near here, tonight as their plane crashed while fireworks were being set off from the plane during a holiday celebration.

MORE THAN FIFTY PERILED, THREE DIE IN SEA WRECK

Fishing Launch Capsizes in Gale Off Topanga Canyon With Missing Listed as Six by Police

Swamped by a heavy sea in a stiff gale a mile and a half off Topanga Canyon, the fishing boat Ameco, with nearly sixty passengers aboard, capsized late yesterday, and three are known to be dead, six are reported missing and fifty saved in heroic rescues, according to Chief of Police Webb of Santa Monica.

Caught in the teeth of the gale while rolling on the fishing banks with the holiday fishermen, the Ameco's anchor chain is believed to have snapped in a particularly heavy swell and she veered into a trough to be smashed and capsized by ponderous seas.

Dead, Missing and Rescued in Sea Wreck

DEAD

Three bodies had been recovered at 10 o'clock last night from the Ameco sea wreck. They are:

Margaret Keller, 18, of 11626 Santa Monica Boulevard.

C. C. Barnett, 26, of 2126 Mozart street, Los Angeles.

John W. Lockhart, worked at 917 South Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena.

MISSING

The list of missing, reported at midnight, was still considered incomplete. It was compiled by Chief Webb of Santa Monica police and differed somewhat from other lists. Those listed by the police department are as follows:

James Hunisman, 14, 1240 Gorham street, Sawtelle.

W. Ferguson, 49, 1117 West Garfield avenue, Glendale.

Joseph Memoli, 1237 Sundy Drive, Los Angeles.

Richard Conifey, 623 East Fifty-fifth street.

C. K. Lake, 323 West Cypress street, Glendale.

Sam Syemori, 35, Fifth and Alameda streets, Los Angeles.

RESCUED

Totals of those aboard the craft, the numbers saved and those reported missing varied at midnight as further check-up progressed. Capt. William Lightfoot, master of the Ameco, told Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office he counted his passengers as they came aboard and there were fifty-two. He said he was licensed to carry sixty-five.

Mrs. C. A. Morris, head of the firm that owned the boat, told Bright she sold fifty-five tickets to prospective passengers before the firm that owned the boat, however, told Bright she sold fifty-five tickets to prospective passengers before the boat sailed for the fishing banks. Lists of dead, missing and saved place the number at fifty-nine.

Loss of life perhaps would have been greater had it not been for the nearness to the scene of the fishing launch Freedom, whose master, Capt. Jo Fudge, put full speed ahead to the rescue when he saw the plight of the Ameco. He rescued many, including the crew of the boat, and recovered one body.

BODIES RECOVERED

Haste of the Freedom, however, was not enough to save the lives of four men and a girl caught in the swirling sea beneath the overturned hull of the Ameco and quickly battered and drowned.

The bodies of Miss Margaret Kellar, C. C. Barnett and John W. Lockhart were recovered and taken to morgues at Santa Monica.

Of the thirty-four known to have been rescued many returned to their homes last night, but others remained in the infirmaries on doctor's orders lest complications arise and cause their deaths.

HORROR SCENES

Indescribable scenes of horror attended the foundering and sinking of the forty-five-foot Ameco when Miss Kellar was torn from her father's arms and buried to death, a wife was separated from her husband and thrown into the sea, and for minutes almost certain death grasped at the entire sixty.

The Ameco started from her Santa Monica dock with the heavy passenger load, apparently equal to any coastwise sea and capable of making the trip in safety. She set her course for the "Bubble Hole" between Topanga Canyon and Point Dume, where excellent fishing was reported.

Near Topanga Canyon, according to the best accounts, she dropped her anchor while fishing lines were cast over. A strong gale came up quickly out of the west and heavy seas started running.

DISASTER VERSIONS

First accounts said that Capt. Lightfoot started to bring the craft about for a return trip to Santa Monica and was caught in the sea trough, with the disastrous results. Another version declared the anchor chain snapped and the Ameco slipped into the trough.

The trouble arose quickly, some of the passengers said, and when they first were aware of their plight the craft was wallowing in the trough, slapped and staggered by huge waves kicked up by the wind.

Hardly had she recovered from the first drubbing of the pounding water than a huge comber broke and boomed over her and in her trough position she was caught in an immense vise of water that snapped shut with the force of hundreds of tons.

With the force of wave and wind she rolled over. Passengers were thrown helter-skelter into the sea. Several went under with the boat's decks—and their deaths are believed but a matter of a few seconds.

CITIES LEAD IN CENSUS GAIN

Reports on Twenty-eight California Counties Show Increase of 37.6 Per Cent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (AP)—Twenty-eight of the fifty-eight counties in California, exclusive of Los Angeles county, reported a net census increase of 554,835, or 37.6 per cent.

The preliminary figures and the few revised totals available from the reports of census supervisors disclose that the rural population increase, to the extent already available, has not equaled that of the cities but probably will not fall more than 10 or 15 per cent behind.

Seventy-one California cities above the rank of 5000 population have reported a net aggregate increase of 907,665, or a trifle more than 55.6 per cent.

The city of Los Angeles is not included in this total, not having reported. It does include, however, such cities as San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, San Diego, Long Beach, Stockton and Pasadena.

Part of the increase indicated in census reports of the cities is duplicated by that shown in the reports from the counties but the trend appears to bear out earlier indications that the net gain of the Golden State will exceed 2,000,000.

NEW ORLEANS REMAINS LARGEST CITY OF SOUTH

NEW ORLEANS, May 30. (AP)— New Orleans retains its place as the largest city of the South, a report of the district census supervisor giving it a population of approximately 451,634.

The figure represents the total population with the exception of one small district, which the supervisor estimates will swell the total by a few hundred.

The census means an increase during the last ten years of at least 64,415, or 16.6 per cent, as the 1920 population stood at 387,219.

PRESIDENT LEADS NATION IN TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD

reunion of our country, to give stability to its government, and peace to its peoples.

Every American's thought of this great battlefield of Gettysburg flashes with the instant vision of the lonely figure of Lincoln, whose immortal words dominate this scene. No monument has been or can be erected here so noble and enduring as that simple address which has become a part of this place. Greater than the tribute of granite or bronze remains that memorable message to the American people. That appeal for the unity of our people and the perpetuation of the fundamentals of our democracy is as vital today in our national thinking as it was when Lincoln spoke. Behind him were the seventy years of national experience that had passed between himself and Washington. His words from their span of the past rang with courage and assurance for the future. Though no President has been so beset, though no time in our history has been so dark, though never have strong men been so afflicted with doubts, yet in the midst of all that turmoil he found strength to lift his head above the clouds and proclaim that vision which the passing years have so fully confirmed.

Today nearly seventy years have passed since Lincoln spoke. Ours is a new day and ours new problems of the republic. There are times when these problems loom ominous and their solution difficult. Yet great as our difficulties may sometimes seem, we would be of little courage if in our concerns we had less of faith than Lincoln had in his far greater task.

COUNSEL SOUNDED STRANGE

Lincoln's counsels sounded strangely when spoken in the midst of war. His was the call of moderation. Our history would be even brighter than it is if his predecessors and his contemporaries had spoken as temperately as he, and if they had been moved by charity toward all, by malice toward none.

We shall be wise to ponder here what precious wealth of human life might have been preserved, what rivers of tears might never have flowed, what anguish of souls need never have been, what spiritual division of our people might have been avoided, if only our leadership had always been tempered by the moderation and calm vision of Lincoln. Since his day reason has not always ruled instead of passion, knowledge has not always been sought instead of reliance upon improvised conjecture, patience has not ever delayed the impetuous feet of reckless ambition; quiet negotiation has not always replaced the clamor of the hustings, prudent common counsel has not invariably overcome the allurements of demagogic folly, good will has not always won the day over cynicism and vainglory. Yet the ideals which he inspired have served to mold our national life and have brought in time great spiritual unity. His words have poured their blessings of restraint and inspiration upon each new generation.

DESTINY PATTERN CHANGES

In the weaving of our destiny, the pattern may change, yet the woof and warp of our weaving must be those inspired ideals of unity, of ordered liberty, of equality of opportunity, of popular government and of peace to which this nation was dedicated. Whatever the terms may be in which we enunciate these great ideals, whatever the new conditions to which we apply them, they must be held eternally valid. The common striving for these ideals, our common heritage as Americans, and the infinite web of national sentiment—these are the things that have made us a great nation, that have created a solidarity in a great people unparalleled in all human history.

The weaving of freedom is and always will be a struggle of law against lawlessness, of individual liberty against domination, of unity against sectionalism, of truth and honesty against demagoguery and misleading, of peace against fear and conflict. In the forming of this pattern, the abuse of politics often muddies the stream of constructive thought and dams back the flow of well-considered action.

NEW LAMPS TO GUIDE

In the solution of the problems of our times we have some new lamps to guide us. The light of science has revealed to us a new understanding of forces and a myriad of instruments of physical ease and comfort to add to the joy of life. The growth of communications, of education, of the press, have made possible a new unity of thought and purpose. But the light that guides our souls remains the same as that whereby our fathers were led. It is the store of knowledge, the great inspirations of men's souls, the ideals which they carry forward, that have lifted the nation to ever greater heights.

The Union has become not merely a physical union of States, but rather is a spiritual union in common ideals of our people. Within it is room for every variety of opinion, every possibility of experiment in social progress. Out of such variety comes growth, but only if we preserve and maintain our spiritual solidarity.

The things of the spirit alone persist. It is in that field that the nation makes its lasting progress. To cherish religious faith and the tolerance of all faiths; to reflect into every aspect of public life the spirit of charity, the practice of forbearance, and the restraint of passion while reason seeks the way; to lay aside blind prejudice and follow knowledge together; to pursue diligently the common welfare and find within its boundaries our private benefit; to enlarge the borders of opportunity for all and find our own within them; to enhance the greatness of the nation and thereby find for ourselves an individual distinction; to face with courage and confident expectation the task set before us, these are the paths of true glory for this nation. They will lead us to a life more abounding, richer in satisfactions, more enduring in its achievements, more precious in its bequests to our children—a life not merely of conflict, but filled with the joy of creative action.

MOTHERS WELD MEMORIAL LINK

Gold Star Groups Hear War Heroes Praised in France

Pershing and Edge Speakers at Cemetery Rites

Tie With France Renewed by Visit of Bereaved

PARIS, May 30. (AP)—America's Gold Star Mothers today lent a new note to Memorial Day in Europe.

The presence of several hundred war mothers of the United States at the several ceremonies in France furnished texts for speakers and inspired the thousands who heard them with the significance of the observance which has been maintained in their sister republic for three-score years.

With all France paying homage to the American Gold Star Mothers and the sons whom they came here to honor, it was pointed out by officials that today's celebration and the pilgrimages will do more than diplomacy ever can to smooth out the petty differences that have crept into Franco-American relations since the close of the great war.

SILENT UNDERSTANDING

A "silent but complete understanding between French and American women bereaved by the war" was dwelt upon in several different places by orators as certain to overcome the "barrier of language differences and the difficulties of distance and endure above all temporary and petty interruptions."

The third contingent of mothers arriving at Cherbourg on the liner George Washington, was just too late for the ceremonies, but those of other contingents were at Bony, where Gen. John J. Pershing spoke; at Suresnes, where Ambassador Edge was the speaker; at Chateau Thierry, to hear Theodore Rousseau and at Romagne.

THOUSANDS OF GRAVES

Save for the thousands of graves of war dead that stretched out before them, the Memorial Day participants in France saw scenes which have been going on in thousands of American communities since shortly after the close of the Civil War. While America has its cemeteries in which war veterans are grouped, they are few. Here are fields of white crosses and green mounds, beneath which doughboys and poilus sleep in everlasting glory.

At Bony, where Gen. Pershing and Maj.-Gen. William H. Johnston were speakers, a solemn benediction was pronounced upon the dead by Mrs. Mary C. Stolper of Miami, Fla., one of the Gold Star Mothers whose son rests where he fell on the "Hindenburg line."

AMBASSADOR SPEAKER

On the slopes of Mt. Valerien, overlooking Paris, in the Suresnes Cemetery, Ambassador Edge lauded the American and French veterans and their departed brothers and spoke of a new era of peace. He praised the results of the recent London naval conference in which America and France joined in a new attempt at disarmament.

As the morning ceremonies were being held, many cities throughout Europe were holding observances.

In Warsaw, Poland, American Ambassador Willys placed a wreath upon the tomb of Poland's Unknown Hero. The staff of the American Embassy witnessed the ceremony.

Three hundred Americans in Istanbul, Turkey, held two separate celebrations for decoration of civilian graves, there being no American soldier dead in Turkey.

to the graves of their comrades, but yielded to the burden of the years and rode to the gates of the National Cemetery.

There they heard Col. U. S. Grant, third grandson of the Union commander, eulogize the dead of the Civil War and they banked the monument raised to their comrades with heaps of flowers.

At the grave of the Unknown Soldier the simple notes of the bugler's "Taps" rang out.

Elsewhere in the capital heroes of the nation were remembered. In Bethlehem chapel of the National Cathedral, the tombs of Woodrow Wilson and of Admiral Dewey were decorated with offerings from the White House, the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, Spanish War Veterans and other groups which keep alive the memory of these men.

Dewey was remembered also at Arlington, where stands the mast of the Maine, tribute to those who went down in Havana Harbor.

Sergt. Younger took part once more in the day's events, speaking briefly tonight over a radio network before returning to his Chicago home and his task as a mail clerk.

ILLINOIS GOVERNOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE

CHICAGO, May 30. (AP) — Gov. Emmerson, and army and navy officers watching Chicago's Memorial Day parade narrowly escaped injury today when part of the reviewing stand in which they sat collapsed and fell about four feet to the ground. No one was seriously injured.

water had broken through the Bayou Rapidees levee.

Red River here has risen five-tenths of a foot in the past twenty-four hours.

The River at Alexandria was predicted to go to 39.7 feet between June 1 and 3, more than three feet above flood stage.

From Natchitoches to above Shreveport the river was falling today and inundation from the canals and bayous in Caddo and Bossier parishes was draining out gradually but below Natchitoches the stream continued to rise with a seven-inch higher level in twenty-four hours shown at Colfax.

The marooned were provisioned today from funds in hand and an emergency appeal was sounded for immediate additional money for relief and rehabilitation.

YAZOO VALLEY LOWLANDS INUNDATED

JACKSON (Miss.) May 30. (AP)—Hundreds of acres of lowland in the Yazoo River valley were inundated today as the stream continued to rise along its lower reaches.

Elsewhere in Mississippi, streams were receding and the danger of extensive flood damage was believed past.

The region most seriously stricken by the Yazoo overflow was in the vicinity of Vicksburg, where the stream empties into the Mississippi River.

FITTS CALLS FOR BATTLE ON WRONGS

Fight for Right by Ballot Urged in Memorial Day Address at Selma

SELMA, May 30. (AP)—Calling on the citizens of this city to carry on in a fight for right against wrong during times of peace, just as did the soldiers who died in warfare and whose memories are being honored, Dist.-Atty. Fitts of Los Angeles was the Memorial Day speaker here today.

Fitts urged that his listeners be contemptuous of the man or woman who refuses to stand up for his government in peace time, declaring that good government is based on the proper use of the ballot in placing the right man in public office.

After paying tribute to the memory of the soldier dead, the speaker declared that protection of the youth of America through good government, good homes, and good institutions should be the constant aim of every citizen.

BANK LOSS IN ROBBERY RUNS HIGH

St. Louis Grand National Declared to Have Been Robbed of Million

ST. LOUIS, May 30. (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says information today from reliable sources was that more than $1,000,000 was taken in the looting of the safe-deposit department of the Grand National Bank here last Sunday.

Known losses to the bank and customers in cash, securities and jewelry exceed $660,000, and the Post-Dispatch says it has information the bank lost $350,000 in securities deposited by customers as collateral for loans and $35,000 in cash, instead of $20,000 as previously announced.

Other developments today included an offer by the Vandeventer National Bank to purchase the business of the looted bank and take over its quarters. Grand national directors said they were considering the offer.

Gifford J. Herbert, cashier, and William S. Brittin, custodian of the safe-deposit vault, are under $50,000 fund each booked on the police blotter as "suspected of embezzlement," in connection with the bank burglary. They were questioned late yesterday by police and State authorities.

Another development was an announcement that an examination of the Continental Life Insurance Company, which lost $93,000 worth of bonds in the burglary, had been started by representatives of the State insurance departments of Missouri, Illinois, California, Washington and Utah. E. S. Mays, president of the bank, also is head of the insurance concern.

DAUGHTER OF DONNER SUCCUMBS

Only Two Now Remain of Historic and Ill-Fated Pioneer Party

STOCKTON, May 30. (AP)—Death today reduced the ranks of survivors of the historic and ill-fated Donner party to two with the passing of Mrs. Leanna C. Donner-App, daughter of the valiant leader, Capt. George Donner. She died at her home in Jamestown at 95 years of age.

The two surviving members of the party are Mrs. Naomi L. Pike-Schenk of The Dalles, Or., and Mrs. Isabelle Green-McMahon of San Francisco.

Mrs. App was 12 when saved from death by the first group of rescuers to reach the Donner party.

The Donner party left Springfield, Ill., in the spring of 1846, expecting to reach California before winter. Slowed up by hardships and loss of life on the deserts, the party reached the Sierras later than was expected and became snowbound at what is now Donner Lake. Many had died from starvation and exposure before rescuers from Sacramento reached the lake.

Mrs. App's funeral will conducted Sunday.

Hi-jack Bootleg Pair Murdered

RIDGEWOOD (N. J.) May 30.—(Exclusive)—Two robber barons of bootleggery, described as a pair who hijacked one beer truck too many, were found murdered, their bodies showing evidence of cruel torture, beneath fragrant wild cherry blossoms on a remote New Jersey road at 12:15 p.m. today.

They were Antonio (Spark Plug) Wilda, 32 years of age, a swarthy ruffian called the toughest hijacker in Passaic and wanted for various crimes, and "Big Bill" Schlessinger, 26, a blonde husky known to police as Wilda's field marshal.

DOOM BATTLED BY 'LITTLE BILL'

Tennis Star Johnston Gamely Fighting Tuberculosis

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY

ROSS, May 30. (Exclusive)—For twenty-five years William M. Johnston carried a racket in his hand and an indomitable courage under his shirt every time he stepped onto a tennis court. The combination shaped an unknown boy of a San Francisco playground into a world's champion.

It was inevitable the process should win him the respect, the admiration and love of his contemporaries and the sports-loving public. It was not inevitable but a factor of his evolution into "Little Bill" that he developed a style and finish that was held up to aspiring youth as the model of perfect form on a tennis court and drew the plaudits of kings, queens and presidents.

But the old intestinal fortitude was "Little Bill's" greatest asset. It made him face physical shortcomings of stature and weight and fight the good fight with a smiling face, win, lose or draw.

FIGHTS FOR LIFE

He needs all the courage he has because he's fighting to win the hardest match he ever played. He's lying on his back in a little room in the Ross General Hospital, looking out toward the hills of a region the home folks call "little Switzerland," playing for his life. His opponent is tuberculosis, far more ruthless as a foeman than those he could smother with a forehand drive or a backhand cut.

There are no runners up in this contest; no Davis Cups to decorate the mantle; no cheers from excited thousands to spur him on. He has a physician, Dr. Sydney Shipman of San Francisco, in whom he has the utmost confidence; nurses who know what to say and what not to say, and when; his wife, whose courage keeps pace with his; definite knowledge of his own condition, the courage to face it and the will to win.

AND HE'S WINNING

He's winning in straight sets.

When he granted an exclusive interview with the correspondent of the Los Angeles Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance he did it with a smile and a touch of his ever-present modesty about his own accomplishments.

"I don't know what I can say, he declared, "except that I'm here but I'm going to get out again."

He held out his hand. It was never large because "Little Bill" never was a big man. His hand always seemed pigmy-like against the long hand of "Big Bill" Tilden, his greatest rival, but one of his greatest friends. But it's skinnier than ever now and by no means has the grip it had to have on a racket to win singles and doubles championships in cities, States and nations.

FIRST REST IN YEARS

His hand shows his condition far more than his face.

"It may sound odd," he confided, "but I feel better than I have in the last fifteen years. For the first time in my life, I'm getting a rest. I'm sure now that's what I've needed more than anything else.

"Naturally, I did not enthuse when I learned my trouble. I had been experiencing a consistent run-down feeling. My appetite was off. I tired easily, I was working hard—too hard, I suppose—and I hadn't had a decent vacation in fifteen years.

"When I wasn't working, I was getting in shape for a tennis tournament, or playing in one, or going to or from one. It wasn't rest. I was keyed up all the time.

SPOT ON ONE LUNG

"Then, just like anyone would, I came down with a touch of 'flu.' My doctor looked me over and did a thorough job, including X-rays of my lungs. I saw the plates when they were finished. There was a spot on one lung.

"My doctor called in a tuberculosis specialist and—well, I had it. Fortunately, both lungs are still good. The infection had just got a start. So I stayed in bed.

"I remained home for about a month; had just played, in fact, in the Burlingame tournament—I've been playing off and on since I quit steady competition, to keep in shape. Then they brought me over here. That was three or four weeks ago. I'm probably good for a couple of months more here, a few more months at home after that; a careful routine with emphasis on no over-exertion and then—well, then, I may be able to play some tennis again."

It will be a long time, though, before the fans will see "Little Bill" on the courts again. He realizes that.

"The most important thing I have to remember," he admitted, "is not to tax my strength. It probably would finish me. I'll have to take it easy. But I know it and that's in my favor."

VICTORY RECALLED

It's a certainty "Little Bill" never again will be the champion he was when he and "Big Bill" Tilden, at the height of their respective powers, collaborated in the two-man team that brought the Davis Cup title back to the United States in the epic 1920 matches at Sydney, Australia.

The sports world never can forget how they individually bested Norman E. Brookes and Gerald L. Patterson in the singles and then joined rackets to win the doubles for a clean sweep. It brought back a championship that remained here until the two "Bills" fell in 1927 before the attacks of Jean Rene La Coste and Henri Cochet of France. Tilden and Francis Hunter, paired in the doubles, defeated Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, it will be recalled, but that was not enough.

That was the end of "Little Bill" as an international tennis figure, except in memory, but the old flame still exists and it will do more than anything else to pull him through his present fight.

MOB THWARTED BY STEEL DOOR

Oklahoma Lynch Party Fails to Get Negro

Prisoner Held for Attack on White Woman

Troops Rushed to Scene and Guns Mounted

CHICKASHA (Okla.) May 31. (AP)—(Saturday) — Besieged by a thousand men, National Guardsmen holding the Grady County Jail here early today, laid plans for extreme measures to disperse a mob which still seemed intent on lynching a Negro, accused of attacking a white woman.

CHICKASHA (Okla.) May 30. (AP) The front door of the Grady County Jail, in which a Negro, Henry Argo, is held for an asserted assault on the wife of a farm hand near here, was battered down late tonight by a mob of approximately 100 men who were seeking to lynch the Negro.

The men immediately rushed to the second floor, where the Negro was held, but were unable to reach him because of a solid steel door.

Capt. E. R. Smith of the local National Guard unit, and Lieut. H. G. White succeeded in forcing the invaders back to the ground floor, where they milled about the corridors.

VOLLEY FIRED

Capt. Smith, on orders of Adjt.-Gen. Charles F. Barrett at Oklahoma City, mobilized the local company of the One Hundred and Eighty-ninth Field Artillery, and the National Guardsmen were arriving at the jail. The first detachment of about a dozen arrived in a truck upon which a machine gun was mounted and fired a volley of blank cartridges above the heads of the mob. The crowd began to disperse but gathered near the jail again within a few minutes.

BRICKS THROUGH WINDOWS

Although only about 100 men are believed to have been actively engaged in efforts to get the Negro, approximately 1000 persons were near the jail.

The remainder of the National Guard company arrived at the jail a few minutes later and went into the building to maintain order. Although activities of the mob had not materially increased, some of its members still were inside the jail.

Windows of the jail were broken by bricks thrown by members of the mob who were on the outside.

Ralph Capone Faces Charges

CHICAGO, May 28. (AP)—Ralph J. Capone and seven associates were indicted by a Federal grand jury today on charges of conspiring to violate the National Prohibition Act.

The charges resulted from recent raids on the Cotton Club and the Montmartre, Cicero resorts said to be owned by Capone.

TONG CLASH OVER FISHING AVERTED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (AP)—A threatened clash over shrimp-fishing rights between the Sen Suey Ying tong and the four families appeared to have been averted today, although Police Chief Quinn was taking every precaution to guard against the possibility of an outbreak in the Chinese quarter. Similar precautions were being taken in Oakland's Chinatown by Chief of Police James T. Drew.

WOMAN INVADES MALE HAVEN

Ida M. Tarbell First of Sex to Use Membership in Authors' Club

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—The Authors' Club, founded by Mark Twain as a retreat for male members of the profession, has fallen upon what he probably would have viewed as evil days.

The first woman ever to attend a meeting of the club as an elected member invaded the clubhouse in West Seventy-sixth street last night. She is Ida M. Tarbell and is the only one of eight women recently elected to membership who appeared.

Ex-Archbishop of Canterbury Laid to Rest

CANTERBURY (Eng.) May 30. (AP) Lord Davidson, who was Archbishop of Canterbury from 1903 until 1928, was laid to rest today under the shadow of the cathedral he loved during his many years as primate of all England.

Most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, present Archbishop of Canterbury, administered communion to many priests and friends who kept a vigil all night around the coffin, which was in a crypt before the chapel of Our Lady Undercroft.

WATSON NAMED BY ADVENTISTS

... Man Elected at Bay City Gathering

... Declines Nomination on Ill-Health Plea

... Breakdown Denied by Speaker

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (Exclusive)—The Seventh Day Adventist world conference here late today elected C. H. Watson of Sydney, Australia, director of activities in Australia, to the presidency. His name was greeted by cheers from the floor after a unanimous selection by the nominating committee. The committee was formed only yesterday and was not expected to report until some time next week.

Watson succeeds Elder W. A. Spicer of Washington, D. C., head of the conference for the last eight years and who attained the office after a sharp clash among delegates for and against the displacement of Elder A. G. Daniells, who had served for twenty years.

Elder S. was reported, refused to accept election. He suffered a breakdown eighteen months ago and does not consider his health equal to the arduous duties of the presidency.

The conference also adopted a change in the constitution which provides for three general vice-presidents. In the order of their rank those elected are Irwin H. Evans of Shanghai, Oliver Montgomery, Washington, and W. H. Branson, Capetown, Africa.

J. L. McElhany was re-elected president of the North American conference and a vice-president of the general conference, and J. L. Shaw was chosen treasurer for the third time.

Breakdown of the American home was described in a parents' meeting by O. Montgomery as one of the most serious problems in modern life.

The reform calendar was assailed in the department of religious liberty meeting by C. S. Longacre on the contention it will create confusion as to religious holidays and Sabbath observance.

An increase of 19.35 per cent in membership during the last four years was reported by H. E. Rogers, statistician. The organization now has 299,555 members, an increase of 14,262 during the last year.

DAUGHTER'S SERENADER DUCKS PAPA'S BULLETS

CHICAGO, May 30. (Exclusive)—If the strains of martial music can awaken the spirit of patriotism on Memorial Day, surely the melody of a love song can awaken love in the heart of a maid. So reasoned Harry Marona, 18 years of age, as he tuned up his banjo early this morning and stationed himself beneath the window of Miss Jennie Marello. A serenade was wafted into the Marello home. Whatever effect the music had on Jennie is not known, but the effect on her father, Joseph Marello, was instantaneous and militant.

He grabbed his revolver and quickly decided to put an end to the serenading. Out the front door he darted at Marona. Harry dropped his banjo and fled, pursued by Marello, firing as he ran. Marona darted into a police station. The police started a search for Marello and Harry hunted about the neighborhood for his lost banjo.

TIA JUANA, May 30. (Exclusive) After a month's investigation of asserted narcotic activities at Tia Juana, police today arrested Louis Machon, Chinese, and seized nineteen bottles of cocaine and seven revolvers, accordin to Chief of Police Pioto. Police believe an extensive narcotic ring is operating in this city and further arrests are expected. Machin was lodged in the City Jail.

PRESBYTERIANS' VOTE SOLID DRY

Cincinnati Assembly Hears Fiery Prohibition Plea

Seattle Speaker Warns of "Invisible Empire"

Des Moines Session Backs Hoover and Mitchell

CINCINNATI, May 30. (AP) — A fiery address on behalf of prohibition enforcement by Dr. Mark Matthews of Seattle brought the one hundred and forty-second general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America to a rising vote today for support of the Eighteenth Amendment and for solid opposition to any attempt to modify it.

The situation faced by President Wilson during the World War when he declared that an "invisible government" was working against him, is shared by President Hoover because an "invisible government" is working for the downfall of the prohibition law, Dr. Matthews declared.

INVISIBLE EMPIRE

Dr. Matthews voiced his appeal for law enforcement in an address commending the report of the nation loyalty commission of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, which he helped to compile.

The last general assembly sent a message to President Hoover encouraging him in "carrying out the policies he has so courageously announced in behalf of the observance and enforcement of the law." The report of the denomination's loyalty commission, which was unanimously approved today, concluded with the statement that "the traffic in intoxicating liquor is a constitutional outlaw and must never be legalized again."

The invisible empire working against the Eighteenth Amendment, Dr. Matthews declared, is represented chiefly by national and international liquor interests.

SOUTHERNER NAMED

James D. Hoskins, Knoxville, dean of the University of Tennessee, today was appointed vice-moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America by Rev. Hugh T. Kerr, Pittsburgh, newly elected moderator.

Mr. Hoskins, a ruling elder of the Second Presbyterian Church of Knoxville, is new to work of the general assembly, Dr. Kerr said, but was selected for the post because of his success in other fields.

Appointment of Hoskins served to tie the northern and southern Presbyterian branches into a little closer unity, as he has been active in the Presbyterian church in the South, for many years. He is a voting commissioner of the northern branch.

BAPTISTS URGE DRY EDUCATION CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, May 30. (AP)—A report declaring a necessity for "a nation-wide campaign of education in the matter of strong drink and obedience to all law" was submitted by the committee on prohibition and law enforcement of the Northern Baptist convention here today.

The report makes no recommendation as to when or under whose direction the campaign is to be held, but calls on the Baptists and other religious groups to "stand unwaveringly in defense of temperance and law enforcement."

Motion pictures are partly to blame for the present difficulties confronting law enforcement, the report says.

A resolution with respect to action on the report is expected to come before the Baptists tomorrow.

The name of Dr. Albert W. Beaven of Rochester, N. Y., president of the Colgate Rochester Divinity School, is the only one submitted thus far for the presidency.

Other nominations are Mattison B. Jones, Glendale (Cal.) attorney, for first vice-president and J. L. Kraft, Chicago, for second vice-president. The following were nominated for re-election: Dr. Maurice A. Levy, Pittsfield, Mass., corresponding secretary; Dr. Clarence G. Gallup, Providence, R. I., recording secretary; Rev. Charles A. Walker, Dover, Del., statistical secretary, and Orrin R. Judd, New York, treasurer.

SUPPORT PLEDGED HOOVER AND MITCHELL

DES MOINES, May 30. (AP)—The assembly of the United Presbyterian Church today passed a resolution pledging support to the prohibition law and sent telegrams to President Hoover and Atty.-Gen. Mitchell expressing its appreciation of their aggressive program for prohibition enforcement.

CANADA TO BE BRITISH AUTO GOAL

Motor Manufacturers Plan Aggressive Invasion of Markets in Dominion

LONDON, May 29. (AP)—British motor manufacturers are understood to be preparing to invade the Canadian market. They propose the establishment in Canada of assembling and manufacturing plants backed by aggressive salesmanship. This was brought out in private discussion between the British and Canadian delegates attending the congress of the Empire Chambers of Commerce today when what was described as United States dominance of the Canadian motor markets was among the subjects explored.

Canadian delegates submitted three principal points:

That Britain should imitate the example of the United States by providing as far as possible for manufacturing plants in Canada and that the most effective way of meeting foreign competition in Canada is for British manufacturers to take their courage in their hands and put up manufacturing plants in Canada.

The necessity of having in Canada centers for assembling where organizations could be developed for the provisions of spare parts.

The necessity of more aggressive salesmanship.

Fourth of Drain Victims Located

BALTIMORE, May 30. (AP)—The disappearance of four boys, the oldest 15 years of age, swept to their deaths by sudden storm waters in a large emergency drain in which they were playing Saturday, was cleared today with the finding of the fourth body at the sewer outlet near the harbor. The bodies of three were recovered yesterday.

LAST OF "VACATION" PRISONERS RETURNS

NACOGDOCHES (Tex.) May 30. (AP)—Six prisoners who escaped from the Nacogdoches County Jail here a month ago, leaving word they would return as soon as they had taken care of necessary business are behind the bars today.

The first of the sextet returned within twenty-four hours after the escape. Two others returned within two days and the others have struggled in at longer intervals.

No effort was made to force the men to return.

BYRD SHIPS ARRIVE AT BALBOA TONIGHT

PANAMA CITY, May 30. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd said today that the steamship Eleanor Bolling will arrive at Balboa about 6 p.m. Saturday with the bark City of New York in tow. The bark has been stranded several hundred miles from the Panama shore awaiting a tow into port.

Capt. Milton H. Ralley and Charles J. V. Murphy of the Byrd party here are sailing for New York Tuesday aboard the Panama-Pacific liner Virginia.

ARMY WORM HORDE MOVES OVER COUNTY

GRASS VALLEY, May 30. (AP)—A devastating horde of army worms, larvae of a nocturnal moth, are moving across Nevada county from east to west. The column first appeared near Bear River and now has traveled more than eight miles. Crude oil, water, fire and poison are being used with success to protect gardens and small fields, but have no effect in checking the march of the main column.

McKinney Asserts He Just Heard of Indictment

He Will Return at Once if Given Early Trial

SEATTLE, May 30. (AP)—Setting at rest reports that he had fled the country, Clifford Taylor McKinney, one of those indicted by the Federal grand jury which investigated charges of corruption in enforcement methods of the Pacific Northwest prohibition unit, telephoned United States Marshal Benn today from an undisclosed point to arrange for his surrender. McKinney was formerly an assistant United States District Attorney and one of the government prosecutors in the Olmsted liquor-conspiracy cases.

While Marshal Benn would not disclose the city from which McKinney had telephoned, he said it was outside the State of Washington and that McKinney said he had not heard of his indictment previously because he had been on a fishing trip.

McKinney, Benn said, told him he wanted to return at once if he could have his trial immediately, but that if the trial were to be delayed several months he wanted to arrange bond where he was.

Horror Scenes Attend Fishing Launch Capsizing with Three Dead and Others Missing

DISASTER LAID TO SUDDEN GALE

Huge Swell Catches Craft Without Warning

North La Jolla avenue said in describing the accident. "Mrs. Jost was thrown free of the gunwales and I heard her calling. Luckily I pulled toward her and we managed together to struggle to the overturned hull. There we clung for awhile until the wind and water forced loose our cramped hands and we again slid into the water. I held Mrs. Jost up until—it seemed ages later—the Freedom hove to and took us aboard."

CAPTAIN'S VERSION

Capt. Lightfoot attributed the loss of his boat and passengers to the unusually heavy seas that hit the craft and the running of the passengers to the port side to escape the howling winds.

"We were under power, returning to the docks," he said, "when some very big swells were blown up by a strong wind and broke over our bows. Everyone ran to the port side. The effect of the waves and the shift in passengers caused the boat to keel over almost immediately."

The Ameco was owned by Mrs. Clifford Morris, who also operated another fishing boat, the Palisades, which aided in rescue work last night. Mrs. Morris's husband was drowned near the scene of yesterday's accident several years ago, since when she has been conducting the fishing excursion business he started.

The boat had been in operation about three years as a pleasure fishing craft, making two trips daily—forenoon and afternoon—to the fishing banks, and was known among fishermen as a "live bait boat," indicating that she supplied live bait from tanks to her patrons.

SCENES OF CONFUSION

Scenes at the Santa Monica dock, where those rescued were brought, were of utmost confusion until late in the night. Mothers and wives were hysterically demanding news of their menfolk who had gone on fishing excursions earlier in the day.

As the limp, bedraggled forms were carried to the docks from rescue craft, a stifling pall of tragedy settled over the place and occasional shrieks of grief were heard.

Happy reunions were almost as frequent, due to the fact that many fishermen had gone on other boats and barges for their day's sport, but for some time were thought by their relatives to have boarded the Ameco.

The strong winds and high-running seas prevented many from coming ashore from the barges until late in the evening—and when they appeared well and unharmed, their anxiously watching and tearful relatives expressed unbounded happiness.

Throughout last night deputies from the Sheriff's office, beach police departments and highway patrolmen joined the coast patrol from Point Dume southward, alert for any bodies that may be washed ashore.

W. A. MacDonald, chief deputy coroner, arrived at the beach community shortly before midnight to take charge of any recovered bodies, and prepare for an inquest.

MASTER'S STORY

At midnight the authorities completed the first step in their preliminary investigation with the obtaining of a sworn statement from the Ameco's master, William Lightfoot, who gave his age as 25 years and his address as 1831 Butler street, West Los Angeles. Before Coroner Vance, Deputy Coroner McDonald, Capt. William Bright, head of the sheriff's office homicide detail, Deputy Sheriff Gompert and Chief of Police Webb of Santa Monica, constituting a provisional board of inquiry at the Santa Monica Police Station, Lightfoot testified under oath that:

He took the Ameco out on her first trip yesterday morning at 7:25 o'clock, returning to the Santa Monica pier at noon and going out again about 12:30 p.m. On the second trip he had fifty-three passengers. He followed his regular course to the kelp beds two miles off Topanga canyon and dropped his anchors for the afternoon's fishing.

The return trip was started about 5 p.m. Shortly after getting under way, the craft "hit a cross swell with her starboard quarter, and a moment later another cross-swell pounded her starboard quarter." The boat then capsized.

Prior to the fatal list he had noticed that the Ameco's bow was heavy," and he asked some of the passengers to move aft. They were obeying his request when the boat turned over. She sank in thirty seconds.

As the boat started to founder he reached for the life preserver just aft of the pilot house, tore off the slats and began to hand out life preservers to his passengers. He attributed about forty life preservers, during which operation he abandoned further attempts to get his craft, considering it hopeless. There were not over five women in the boat and to them he gave the life preservers first. Suddenly he found himself in the water, and he was still giving out life preservers.

He believes the capsizing was due to the combined forces of some heavy anchors in the bow and the rough seas.

Lightfoot himself was rescued by the Freedom, which was running three minutes in the wake of the Ameco.

Ameco's Load and Handling to be Investigated

Proof of Neglect Can Cause Operator's Disciplining

A sweeping investigation of the Ameco's capsizing will be launched immediately, it was announced at the harbor last night by Capt. S. A. Kennedy of the local board of inspectors of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service. Capt. Kennedy is inspector of hulls.

The inquiry is to be aimed principally at determining whether the Ameco was overloaded and whether neglect was a contributing factor in the accident, Capt. Kennedy said.

NO JURISDICTION

The United States Steamboat Inspection Service has no jurisdiction over the boat, it being under 15.1 gross tons, Capt. Kennedy admitted, but it has jurisdiction over the operator who, like all other operators, must be licensed by the board. Despite this lack of official jurisdiction, however, it is possible for the board to condemn the Ameco, should it be found unseaworthy.

"If negligence is proven in a marine accident we can penalize the operator by revoking his license," Capt. Kennedy explained. "I don't refer specifically to the Ameco case, because we know nothing of it as yet. I am speaking of our province as a whole.

LIMIT NOT FIXED

"As to the number of passengers in a boat there is no law effecting unlicensed vessels, and those of less than 15.1 gross tons do not have to be licensed by us. We make it a practice, however, to tell the operator how many passengers he can carry with safety, and if we catch him exceeding this limit we usually make it hard for him.

"Our practice in regard to seating is to limit the number of passengers to a seating capacity allowing one passenger for every eighteen lineal inches or three and one-half square feet of space. However, even this is not a law in the strictest sense of the word, nor do I know of any law in contemplation aimed at fixing the seating capacity of unlicensed craft."

RECENTLY INSPECTED

Customs records at the harbor show that the Ameco is a wooden-hull motorboat of fourteen gross tons, registered to the Morris Pleasure Fishing Company of Santa Monica, with William Lightfoot listed as master. She was built at San Pedro in 1917 and operated originally as the Toronto, a fishing boat.

It also was learned that the Ameco was examined by insurance company inspectors recently and declared by them to be strongly built, seaworthy and operated by able persons.

LONDON TO GET SKYSCRAPER

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.]

LONDON, May 30. (Exclusive)—Edward W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is seeking a site in London's West End, whereon the Canadian Pacific intends to build an ultramodern skyscraper hotel of at least 1000 rooms at a cost of $15,000,000.

SURVIVORS RELATE HORROR

Rescued Men Tell How Huge Waves Flipped Boat Over, Hurling Passengers Into Sea

From lips that but a brief spell before had been purple with cold and fright came the stories of the fortunate survivors of the Ameco's overturning, giving in harrowing detail the events preceding and following the fatal plunge. Literally dragged from watery graves, these thankful vacationers gasped out the tale of the disaster and recited their narrow brush with death off Santa Monica.

The prevailing opinion among all was that the launch was filled beyond her capacity with her human cargo, and that this is what caused her so unexpectedly to turn over in the sea. All agreed that there were enough life preservers aboard to care for all hands making the trip, but that the suddenness of the disaster precluded all possibility of obtaining them before the capsizing.

DESCRIPTION GIVEN

R. L. Brown, 24 years of age, of 1982 West Grand avenue, Alhambra, gave a graphic description of the accident.

"The thing happened so quickly," he said from a cot in the Santa Monica Health Center, "that none of us had a chance to grab a life preserver from under the seats. We were running along in the trough of the sea when a little wave slapped us broadsides and spilled some water into the boat. Almost instantly another and larger comber struck before the craft could recover from the first blow.

"In a split-second, it seemed, we were all catapulted into the sea. Some were caught under the boat. They drowned, I guess. Most of us, however, were thrown clear. And the fact that many life preservers were thrown clear, too, saved our lives. What a break that they weren't tied fast! We grabbed for them and kept ourselves afloat until rescued.

HARROWING EVENT

Henry Suter, 28, of 638 West Forty-first street, practically repeated Brown's story. Suter, too, is recovering at Santa Monica Health Center.

"All the way out," said Suter, "the passage was rough—too rough to be comfortable, considering the number of persons in the boat. In spite of her heavy load, though, the boat was getting us there in pretty good shape, when that first broadside hit us and knocked us off our balance. Then came the big wave. It hit us like a ton of brick and over we went.

"It was terrorizing, I'll tell you. There were nearly sixty of us, all mixed up together, splashing about, gasping for breath and scrambling for the life preservers, as we were tossed about hither and yon by the swell of the seas and the currents. I'm glad to say, though, that the panic soon subsided and in a few minutes all of us had obtained a belt—that is, all except those poor chaps who had been caught under the upturned launch."

Sea Casts Up Name Plate of Ill-fated Ameco

Although the Ameco went down in sixty feet of water, her little name plate refused to accept the same watery fate.

Shortly before midnight, a Santa Monica policeman patrolling the sands made out an unfamiliar object at the water line, buffeted about as the tide ebbed and flowed. He went over to investigate and found the object was the Ameco's name plate—the flat, wooden mark of identification that had clung to the stern of the craft since she was built in 1917, and which had enabled many a fisherman to single her out as she lay at her berth. The heavy seas had battered the sign free of the stern—and it had drifted ashore only a few hours after the last of the rescued had been taken to the hospital.

CHANGE ANNOUNCED FOR BALLOON RACES

HOUSTON (Tex.) May 30. (AP)—The national elimination balloon races will be held here July 4, next, according to a message received today by Theodor Ahlborn, director, from the National Aeronautic Association. The races originally were scheduled for June 10, but this date was found impracticable, Ahlborn explained, when additional entries were received.

KIN ENDURE FIVE HOURS OF TERROR

Uncertainty as to Which Boat Fishermen Were on Filled Hearts With Dread

High-running seas whipped into a formidable menace by spanking winds conspired, it seems, to drive terror to the hearts of relatives and friends of the thousands who spent the holiday fishing on the barges off the beaches yesterday.

When news of the Ameco tragedy spread throughout the city wives, daughters and sweethearts of the holiday fishermen rushed to the Santa Monica pier and there frantically begged for information, each believing her loved one had been among those on the ill-fated launch. Most of the loved ones, of course, were safe aboard the many sturdy barges riding at anchor; but five hours elapsed before it was possible to bring any of these to shore.

All available water taxis and launches were enlisted in a search of the accident area for possible victims; and those that were not called into service were prohibited from running to shore because of the heavy seas.

Until 9 p.m. the frantic relatives paced the pier. Then the launch Freedom, braving the swells, made fast with the first load of fishermen from the barges and returned for more. And as each launch-load of men was landed the anxious women surged forward, brushing aside the ropes in the rush to greet them and single out their own.

Motor Police Keep All-night Vigil on Shore

From the Santa Monica Municipal Pier north to the Malibu the purr of motorcycles resounded monotonously throughout last night as a large detail of county motorcycle officers patrolled the beach highway for some possible sign of distress from some unaccounted-for survivor of the Ameco capsizing.

Not content with statements made during the confusion that all known to have been aboard the launch were accounted for, the motor cops moved along the seashore in a long-drawn-out procession, idling their engines that they might with safety shoot glances seaward at frequent intervals.

Now and then an officer's searching eye picked out a fishing pole being battered about in the surf. But that was all—and at daybreak the detail abandoned the search.

Dry Agents Raid Liquor Supplies Stores in Reno

RENO, May 30. (AP)—With the recent United States Supreme Court ruling permitting the seizure of paraphernalia used in the manufacturing of intoxicating liquors as a basis for their action, Federal prohibition officers visited this city yesterday and completed the largest drive ever conducted against barrels, bottles, corks, malts, flavorings and extracts west of Chicago.

Three men, charged with conspiracy to violate the National Prohibition Act, are released on bond of $5000 each, while a fourth is in the City Jail after having fallen into the dry law net without any immediate connection with the raid. He is charged with the possession and transportation of intoxicants.

The men under arrest are Frank Zunino, and Joe Larraide, coproprietors of the Peavine Transfer and Warehouse Company, and Frank Specht. R. M. Haaga is the man in jail.

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA DISSOLVED

Liberal and Opposition Parties Prepare for Two Months' Election Contest

OTTAWA (Ont.) May 30. (Exclusive)—The sixteenth Canadian Parliament was formally dissolved by Gov.-Gen. Lord Willingdon tonight and government and opposition parties prepared for a two months' election contest, ending with polling day July 28.

The Commons wound up its sessional affairs at 9:30 p.m. and immediately thereafter, as the last business act of the session, the Senate concurred in the supply bill. With tears in his eyes, Speaker Rodolphe Lemieux, who for thirty-four years has been a Commons member, acknowledged verbal tributes from Prime Minister and opposition leaders.

Probably the outstanding accomplishment of Canadian Parliament this season is the passage of the liquor export amendment which bars liquor exports from wet Canada to the dry United States. Through amendments to existing legislation Parliament this year accorded more general pension and land settlement treatment on Canadian war veterans. The tariff revision lately approved greatly increased Canadian tariffs against the United States and lowered imposts on British goods.

SUPPORTERS OF NONSTOP FLIGHT QUIT

Interest in Connecticut to Buenos Aires Hop Ends With Postponements

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) May 30. (AP)—R. Stuart Murray, representing the backers of the Connecticut-Buenos Aires nonstop flight of the aeroplane "K of New Haven," announced tonight they had withdrawn their support from the project. Murray said the proposed flight had been postponed several times and the backers decided finally to withdraw their support. He said all refueling points along the proposed route have been notified that plans have been abandoned.

The "K of New Haven" landed here today four hours after it had taken off from Hartford on its proposed South American flight when members of the crew said the plane had developed an air leak in the oil line.

Two of the crew, Capt. Herbert G. Partridge and Lieutenant Commander G. R. Pond, said they will see D. C. Townley, chief of their sponsors tomorrow, in an attempt to reorganize plans for the flight.

The other flyer, Lieut. Garland Peed, Jr., said he had no further interest in the project and removed his belongings from the ship.

EUROPE FACES WORK PROBLEM

United States Not Only One With Unemployment

Situations in England and Germany Worse

New Census to Give Exact Figures on Jobs

WASHINGTON, May 30. (Exclusive)—The United States isn't the only country faced with an unemployment problem. Comparative data for the first one-third of 1930, gathered by Departments of Labor and Commerce show that unemployment is more acute in either Great Britain or Germany than in this country.

Figures covering unemployment in the three countries for the first four months of each of the last two years demonstrate not only that all have been hit by the present industrial depression, but that the European countries, especially Great Britain, have suffered the most.

MUCH GUESSING DONE

While employment in the United States is shown to have decreased about 11.36 per cent since 1926, unemployment has increased 12.56 per cent in Germany and 30.89 per cent in Great Britain.

On May 1, 1930, there were 2,081,-000 persons in Germany and 1,712,-000 in Great Britain, exclusive of those in Ireland, receiving doles or compensation under the government unemployment systems of the countries. These figures are deemed to be indicative of unemployment situations.

Although much guessing has been done in the United States as to the number of unemployed in this country, no official figures or estimates will exist until the 1930 census is completed.

GERMANY IMPROVES

Reference to the British and German insurance figures show a corresponding increase in unemployment during the first four months of 1930, although the German situation improved slightly in April, while it failed to improve in Great Britain and the United States.

I. M. Stevenson of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, who compiled the British and German statistics, explained that the improvement in Germany in May probably was due to the opening up of outside construction and other work.

LUMBER FIRE AT BAY CITY INJURES TRIO

Clerk Caught in Yard Arrested for Inquiry; Damage Set at $50,000

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (Exclusive)—Three men were injured, one was arrested for investigation, and damage of approximately $50,000 was caused by a fire, believed of incendiary origin, which swept the block-long plant of the Pope and Talbot Lumber Company today.

Several ships moored at piers were moved out into the bay for safety when flames, shooting from thousands of board feet of dry lumber, endangered a dozen or more structures in the vicinity. A special protective squad was thrown around the oil storage plant of W. R. Grace & Co.

Fire Chief Brennan said one blaze was discovered and quenched by the sprinkler at the south end of the yard at the same time a second blaze was discovered at the north end. Consequently when James McGrath, who described himself as a clerk for the lumber company, was found in the center of the yard, he was arrested.

Battalion Fire Chief O'Neill, Hoseman Burley and Truckman Burns were overcome by smoke and Burns, caught between two walls, suffered a fractured leg.

Firemen Injured in Oregon Blaze

PORTLAND (Or.) May 30. (AP)—Six firemen were injured, four of them were carried unconscious to safety, and 150 other tenants were forced to flee for their lives early today when fire broke out in a five-story apartment building.

Capt. Guy Stadler was the most seriously injured. He received hip and head injuries when he fell down a ladder on the third-floor landing. His condition is not serious.

PERSIA AND TURKEY TO DISCUSS ACCORD

LONDON, May 30. (Exclusive)—The news reaches here that the Shah Pahlevi, Shah of Persia, and Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Turkish dictator, have arranged to meet early in July on the Turko-Persia border to discuss a closer political understanding and development of trade relations. It is expected that Amanullah Khan, former King of Afghanistan, will also be present. It is also reported that a representative of the Morgan group is leaving for Afghanistan in June to negotiate with the Afghan government for the development of the natural resources of the country.

NEW TREATY ATTACK MADE BY JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, one of the foremost opponents of the London naval treaty, issued a statement tonight attacking it on the double ground that it will not provide relief from taxation and that the "escalator" clause in effect will nullify it.

CARAWAY FLAYS LOBBYING GRAFT

Calls Most Professionals Simple Parasites

Declares They Prey Upon People's Cupidity

Chairman Reviews Work of Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—An assertion that most Washington lobbyists are "simple parasites preying upon the public" was made today by Chairman Caraway of the Senate lobby committee in a review of the accomplishments of the committee's seven months' investigation.

As the life of the committee neared an end, Caraway told newspaper men that the vast majority of the lobbyists are simply taking advantage of the "cupidity or desires of individuals and groups away from Washington.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

"They serve no useful purpose," he asserted, adding that if the public has followed the investigation it will refrain from supporting "these utterly disreputable and selfish interests." Caraway explained, however, that there are groups which are "honestly seeking to bring about helpful legislation or executive action," and he did not intend to reflect upon them.

"All agree," he said, "that every citizen has the right to present his views on any public matter to any branch of the government. To do so is not only a constitutional right, but is a right that should be exercised.

"The investigation has given a fairly accurate picture of the leading groups who have infested Washington and sought to influence legislation and executive action for a number of years.

SIMPLE PARASITES

"In most cases it pretty clearly appeared that the chief concern of the lobbyists was to find credulous people and induce them to contribute the funds which were asserted to be accumulated for the purpose of accomplishing ends they professed to seek.

"But in very many instances the contributions found their way into the pockets of the professional lobbyists.

"Of the hundreds of associations and individuals who are domiciled in Washington and who may properly be described as lobbyists the vast majority are simply preying upon the cupidity or desires of individuals and groups away from Washington and whatever money is contributed is pocketed.

"They make no effort to influence legislation or executive action and have no influence to accomplish either. They are simply parasites preying upon the public. They serve no useful purpose.

"However much they may profess, the fact is that most of them have no speaking acquaintance with anyone in the legislative or administrative branches of the government."

DEATH TRAP OF NIAGARA CONQUERED

Daring River Man Shoots Whirlpool Rapids Below Falls in Barrel

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) May 30. (AP)—William (Ned) Hill, daring river man, won for himself a new place today among the heroes of the Niagara by riding through the whirlpool and lower rapids in a specially constructed steel barrel. Three times the barrel was caught in the treacherous eddies, but relatives in a rowboat freed it.

Hill entered the stream from the American landing of the Maid of the Mist at 1:15 o'clock and emerged at Queenston docks at 6:05 o'clock, his face bloody and his shoulders and arms battered from the pounding he received as the barrel was shot through the lower rapids. His wife and 16-day-old baby with other members of his family were on hand to greet him.

Mussolini Will Protest Insult

SYDNEY (New South Wales) May 30. (Exclusive)—It is expected that Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy will send Prime Minister James H. Scullin a warm protest following the removal of the Italian coat of arms from outside the Italian vice-consulate at Inniafail, Queensland, for the second time.

A similar incident months ago was attributed to a practical joke. He became scared by the trouble and replaced the emblem in dead of night. The Italians were angered, but when the Federal and state governments apologized, the incident was allowed to drop.

Angeleno Under Knife in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (AP)—On a business visit to San Francisco, Jack W. Trefry, freight traffic manager for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, was stricken with acute appendicitis at the Palace Hotel today and taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

There he was operated upon by Dr. Alanson Weeks. His condition is satisfactory, Dr. Weeks said tonight.

CHURCH OF SCIENCE IN NEW ROBES

Parent Branch Changes Name to Universal Design; Also Moves Headquarters

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—After June 1 the Christian Science Parent Church will be known as the Church of the Universal Design, and its official organ, now published as the Christian Science Watchman, will be called "The Universal Design, a Journal of Applied Metaphysics."

The American headquarters of the movement, which have been in Washington, will be moved to New York.

The new name has been adopted as "more accurately defining the purpose of the organization to improve the present conditions of human life by scientific means, utilizing not only the spiritual forces of individual and collective prayers but the discoveries of physical science, including medical co-operation, on a basis broad enough to satisfy the progressive intelligence of today."

'DEFACER' MERELY TRYING TO CORRECT POE'S 'RAVEN'

BALTIMORE, May 30. (AP)—Unable to tolerate a misquotation from "The Raven" on the Poe memorial here, Edmond Fontaine last night carried out his published intention to chip off what he called a "superfluous letter." He was arrested at his work, charged with defacing the monument, and held in a police station during the night in default of bail.

The accepted editions of Poe's works have the word "mortal" instead of the plural form.

Fontaine, who calls himself a tree surgeon and plant pathologist, also attempted to remove a daub of black paint which had been placed on the monument.

At the police station Fontaine declared there could be no real charge against him because he "did nothing but good."

TERRIFIC DUST STORM HITS SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA (Sask.) May 30. (Exclusive)—Terrific dust storms today lashed Saskatchewan prairies and drifted roads hindered motor travel. Cars were reported stuck in dust drifts while a number of accidents were attributed to the blinding dust. The storms are the worst in many years and newly seeded grain has been hard hit.

Pasadena Pilot and Student Die in Arizona Fall

CHANDLER (Ariz.) May 30. (AP) James C. Robson, Pasadena (Cal.) pilot, and Clayton Morgareidge of Chandler, 21-year-old student flyer, were killed today when their dual-control plane fell on the Chandler Airport.

Robson carried a badge of the California air police. He had been on a barnstorming tour of Arizona for several weeks, and was engaged in giving young Morgareidge his second lesson in flying. It is not known which of the men had the controls at the time of the crash.

Robson's wife, a parachute jumper known as "Billy" Brown, was waiting on the airfield for the return of her husband, to give a parachute exhibition.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

SOUTHLAND IN TRIBUTE TO ITS HEROIC DEAD

Dwindling Ranks of G.A.R. and School Children Contrast as Veterans March in Parade

COMPTON, May 30.—Founded in the trying days just after the Civil War this city today for the first time had its American Legion and Spanish War veterans take over the ritualistic duties of Memorial Day from Shiloh Post of the G.A.R. Out at Woodlawn Cemetery, where in times past comrades of the men who fought in the '60's performed the service over the local G.A.R. plot, Commanders Harry Griffin and Edward Lewis of the local Spanish War and American Legion posts acted, respectively, as Commander and Chaplain in reading the Grand Army's grave service. Only five Civil War veterans, seated in autos, remained to watch from what was once a large camp.

The cemetery service, just beneath the towering oil wells of Domingues Hill, also had another special significance this year. Arrangements have been made for the county to take over maintenance of the G.A.R. plot at Woodlawn. As a Civil War nurse was buried in the plot a special opinion had to be sought from the county counsel to approve the legality of the expenditure.

Mayor Clarence Dickinson presided at the cemetery service and was assisted by pastors of local churches. Music was offered by the Compton Municipal Band.

Preceding the service, Compton had its Memorial Day parade down Main street. Veterans, police and firemen, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls were in line, marching to music of the Municipal and Compton Union High School bands.

VENTURA COUNTY DECKS GRAVES OF WARRIOR DEAD

VENTURA, May 30.—Graves of departed war veterans in cemeteries all over Ventura county today were decorated with wreaths and other floral tributes laid there by the hands of surviving comrades and city and county officialdom.

Parades in most of the larger cities of the county were held during the morning, starting in downtown sections and winding their ways to cemeteries at city limits, where firing squads barked their tributes.

In Ventura Memorial Day officially got under way at 10 a.m., with a parade composed mostly of veterans' organizations starting at the City Hall and heading toward the cemetery at East Main and Grimes streets.

Arriving at the East Main-street cemetery, the first section, up to the G.A.R. veterans disbanded to do homage to their comrades resting in eternal peace, while the rest of the parade scattered in groups toward other near-by cemeteries to do the same there.

A firing squad from the City American Legion Post marched into the City Cemetery, lined up with military precision and fired a salute to the departed heroes, and the post bugler sounded taps.

Graves of victims of the fatal St. Francis Dam break of March 13, 1928, were officially visited and decorated with flowers this morning by representatives of the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau.

The Los Angeles representatives, who have decorated the graves of these who lost their lives in the disastrous flood following the break every year since the tragic occurrence, visited Ivy Lawn Cemetery here, Santa Paula and Bardsdale and Piru cemeteries.

SOUTH GATE, INGLEWOOD JOIN IN MEMORIAL DAY

SOUTH GATE, May 30.—Members of the American Legion Post of this city motored to Inglewood this morning where they joined the members of that post in observance of Memorial Day. The local Legionnaires held their regular memorial services Sunday evening in the Community Presbyterian Church here in conjunction with other local patriotic orders.

SCHOOL CHILDREN MARCH WITH POMONA VETERANS

POMONA, May 30.—Pomona paid fitting tribute today to unforgotten dead, appropriate Memorial Day exercises including a colorful procession of school children, war veterans and other patriotic organizations, which marched through the business section at 9 o'clock this morning to the strains of solemn martial music.

Led by Superintendent of Schools Emmett Clark, 800 elementary school children, marching four abreast, lent a touching contrast to a handful of Civil War veterans, fast thinning survivors of a just war, who followed them with the colors and banner of the local G.A.R. Post. Civic officials, representative citizens, the American Legion, Spanish War Veterans and the various other auxiliary organizations, augmented by the recently formed National Guard infantry company, made up the balance of the parade.

Following the parade, hundreds of local residents proceeded to Pomona Cemetery, where a comprehensive patriotic program had been arranged. Following this, graves were bedecked with flowers, all graves of war heroes were given the added distinction of American flags, and the entire cemetery presented a veritable bower of flowers of mixed hues very pleasing to the eye.

In the afternoon a matinee program of horse races was enjoyed by several thousand Southern Californians at the Los Angeles County Fair Grounds race track, the event having been sponsored by the Los Angeles County Matinee Club, a group of horsemen from the Southland who have grouped together for the mutual advancement of fine horse flesh in this section.

All business houses remained closed throughout the day, while the streets were appropriately lined with flags.

PLANES DROP FLOWERS ON GRAVES OF VETERANS

ALHAMBRA, May 30.—Tramping feet today marked time down the lanes of the San Gabriel Cemetery in tribute to the dead who died in their country's service, as Memorial Day exercises were held under the auspices of John Howard Strain Post of the American Legion.

The observance was opened with a parade, led by the Legion post drum-and-bugle corps. From the cemetery entrance to the speakers' stand, Boy Scouts and members of the Legion auxiliary marched behind the drum corps. More than 500 gathered for the ceremonies, which were presided over by R. D. Wickham.

The principal address was delivered by William H. Kellar, who eulogized especially the heroes of the Civil War. Many G.A.R. veterans and widows attended.

Following the exercises twelve members of the John Howard Strain Post, in a chartered plane of the Western Air Express, flew over cemeteries in the district and scattered flowers over the graves of veterans. The impressive ceremony was an innovation in local observance of Memorial Day.

TEMPLE CITY UNVEILS MEMORIAL MONUMENT

TEMPLE CITY, May 30.—Joseph Ford, Los Angeles attorney, was the Memorial Day speaker today at exercises in Temple City Park, which included the dedication of the Joseph L. Kauffman Memorial monument. Members of the Kauffman Post of the American Legion arranged the program, which began with a community picnic at noon. A parade and a band concert preceded the exercises at 3 p.m.

DEPARTMENT COMMANDER SPEAKS AT REDLANDS

REDLANDS, May 30.—"Our great task is to bring all veteran organizations into closer union and also to revive the spirit of Memorial Day," A. C. Munson of Los Angeles, department commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, declared in the memorial services at the amphitheater today. "Memorial Day is in the heart," said Munson, "but these services should always be well attended and the least we can do is show our respect in that manner to the hero dead."

The day opened in Redlands with a parade to the park, in which all veteran organizations took part. Then came the services at the amphitheater, with A. E. Isham in charge.

Munson spoke and then Billy Van Leuven gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address, while Beaumont Smith of the University of Redlands sang.

Following this service the veteran organizations went to Hillside Cemetery, where further services were held.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL PARK SCENE OF CEREMONIES

GARDENA, May 30.—Memorial Day exercises in which veterans' organizations of the Gardena Valley and neighboring municipalities took part, were held in Roosevelt Memorial Park here this afternoon.

Ceremonies at the grave were preceded by a parade which formed on Normandie avenue at 1:30 p.m. An organ recital of patriotic music and addresses by the heads of patriotic societies represented in the services, formed the afternoon program.

HUNTINGTON PARK IN TRIBUTE TO VETERANS

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 30. The annual Memorial Day services were held at Municipal Park in front of Patriotic Hall this morning, which were well attended by the few of the veterans of the Civil War, and a large number of Spanish War and World War veterans and members of the two auxiliaries of these organizations.

The principal address was delivered by George W. Cartwright, Los Angeles attorney and ex-State Senator.

MEI LAN-FANG ADDRESS LAUDED

Great Chinese Actor Accepts Degree

China's Foremost Thespian With Pomona College Head

Pomona College executives, many of which are familiar with the Mandarin, the most aristocratic language of China, having lived there many years, declare the speech of acceptance made by Mei Lan-fang, eminent Chinese actor, the finest composition of the kind it was ever their privilege to hear. Dr. Mei Lan-fang, on Wednesday was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters at Pomona College, Claremont, at the hands of Dr. Charles K. Edmunds, president of the college, with whom he is seen in the above picture.

CLAREMONT, May 30.—The speech of acceptance of an honorary Doctor of Letters degree from Pomona College, delivered Wednesday by Mei Lan-fang, foremost Chinese actor, was held up here today by college executives as the finest composition of its kind ever delivered in their presence. It was delivered in the Mandarin tongue and translated by E. K. Moy of New York.

The noted actor was presented by Dr. Kenneth Duncan, professor of economics, formerly dean of Lingnan University, Canton, China. The degree was conferred by President Charles K. Edmunds of Pomona College, who spent twenty years in China, and the special address of the program was given by Rev. Luther Freeman, D.D., of Pomona, former pastor of the American Church in Shanghai.

Mr. Mei's speech of acceptance follows:

Mr. President, Trustees of the College, Members of the Faculty, Ladies and Gentlemen: In accepting this high honor you have so graciously conferred upon me I recognize the impersonal character of a most friendly gesture you intend thereby to show to the people of whom I am but a humble representative. My associates and I came to your great country to learn and not to teach. If, in connection with our present visit, which is about to end, we have succeeded in increasing your understanding of and deepening your sympathy with the very human qualities of our people, the glory is not in the competence of our art, but in the magnitude of your grace perceiving that purpose of our presence in your country.

In a higher sense, we came to contribute what little we could to the promotion of that which is close to your hearts and to the hearts of all enlightened people. The burning desire of all civilized nations is for peace. Past experience has taught the lesson that peace cannot be secured through armaments and the preparation for war. The peace that humanity craves is not the tranquility that follows annihilation; the goal for which the human family is striving is the peace that will bring with it human progress, human growth, morally, intellectually as well as physically.

There is only one way I know of by which this era of peace may be inaugurated and sustained. It can be realized only through understanding, through tolerance and sympathy, through mutual helpfulness and not through mutual destruction.

The people of my country, in common with that of yours, desire the peace among nations which is based on mutual faith and good will. This may be partly accomplished through positive efforts designed to facilitate the study of the manners and sciences, the customs and traditions, the problems and difficulties of all nations. We came to study the dramatic branch of your arts. We have been rewarded by the generosity and the courtesy your people have shown us. You confer upon us a view of imperfect portrayals of China's ancient drama. And in recognition of the gesture implied, rather than the art exhibited, you have chosen me for this distinction which is intended as an expression of your friendship for my people.

On that basis I gratefully accept with the assurance of you that I shall make it a study to be worthy of the honor you confer in admitting me to such an exalted position in the family of Pomona College.

rendered a solo, "Sweet Mysteries of Life;" Thomas Anaya, a local attorney, recited the "Unknown Soldier," and S. N. Enyeart, well-known veteran of the Civil War, read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The audience sang "America," with the Legion Post orchestra as the accompaniment. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. S. S. Sampson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and the benediction by S. N. Enyeart, a retired Methodist minister. The local Odd Fellows Lodge No. 443 will observe Memorial Day at their hall on South Pacific Boulevard Sunday morning, when Rev. Duncan, retired minister, will deliver the annual address. The graves of the deceased members will be decorated by a committee before the services begin.

SOUTH BAY DISTRICT JOINS IN MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE

HERMOSA BEACH, May 30.—An estimated throng of 10,000 persons took part in Memorial Day services here in charge of the Redondo Post, American Legion. The ceremonies, which alternate between the South Bay district cities from which the Redondo Legion Post draws its membership, were the most elaborate ever held here.

The parade formed at 10 a.m. at Second and Camino and was followed by the Woman's Relief Corps flower ceremony on the Municipal Pier, in which children of the schools of the district participated.

Judge Raymond I. Turney of Los Angeles delivered the Memorial Day address and the Redondo Union High School instrumental quartet, composed of Martha Constad, Doris Lowe, Patricia Coates and Ilah Whitley led the musical program.

MAN TRIMS HEDGE OF WOMAN TOO CLOSELY

SOUTH GATE, May 30. — Found guilty of damaging a hedge fence between his property and that of Mrs. Evelyn Smith, Dominick Catche City Jail.

Mrs. Smith testified she usually trimmed the hedge as far as she could on her side of the lot and on Carazza's side and that he usually did the remainder. On the 3rd inst. she trimmed the hedge, she averred, and on the following day Carazza trimmed it, and that he did the job very poorly and also damaged the fence. This complaint caused his arrest.

Evidence was introduced by a nurseryman secured by Carazza's attorney that the hedge was not permanently damaged and that it would regain its former appearance within six months.

Women's Glee Club in Final Concert Sunday

REDLANDS, May 30.—Final concert of the women's glee club of the University of Redlands will be held Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church of Elsinore. A full evening program will be presented on last Sunday evening of the school year, ensemble numbers and solo performances making a well-balanced program.

DOROTHY MITCHELL

Violin numbers by Miss Dorothy Mitchell will be a special feature. Miss Mitchell, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Mitchell of Niland, has served this year as manager of the club, supervising the annual spring tour which took the club through the Imperial Valley to San Diego and home via the Coast route.

In addition, she is a member of the double trio of the club, which has entertained over the radio and appeared in solo engagements as well as assisting on the club programs.

Under the directio nof Prof. Barton Bachman of the music faculty, an accomplished pianist and composer, the club is finishing its thirteenth annual concert season.

CITY OFFICIAL HELD BLAMELESS

R. B. Hedrick Exonerated by Deputy District Attorney

Compton Treasurer Cleared of Shortage Charges

Audit Difficulty Explained Book-keeping Tangle

COMPTON, May 30.—City Treasurer R. B. Hedrick was believed today to be clear of charges of being short $1086.68, following an investigation ordered by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Daniel Beecher. Hedrick had been accused nearly three months ago of having an "unaccounted liability" of this amount as a result of an audit by C. J. Rambo of Los Angeles.

"We find no evidence of any shortage, rather to the contrary," Beecher declared.

The affair has been in the hands of the District Attorney for several weeks and no action was taken following interviews with both Hedrick and Rambo. But a local citizens' committee called on Beecher a few days ago requesting that the affair be cleared up. Beecher sent out an auditor who reviewed Rambo's figures, compared them with Hedrick's books, and filed a report upon which the statement was issued.

Meanwhile the City Council, basing its action on Rambo's report, had demanded that Hedrick "pay up." When he refused, the demand was repeated to the National Surety Company, which holds his $25,000 bond. Just as the District Attorney's decision came, the surety company had obtained a copy of the audit for review.

The audit covered Treasurer Hedrick's transactions with 1911 Act Improvement bonds. Hedrick's supporters expressed the belief that the apparent shortage was in reality due only to incomplete segregations of funds paid out under the bookkeeping system in vogue up to two years ago. The audit covered a nine-year period. Hedrick's view was practically supported by Beecher, who said that while the distribution of funds in bookkeeping was perhaps not quite clear, the treasurer accounted for all moneys he had collected in street bond installments.

SAN DIEGO'S AIR MAIL TO GO DIRECT

Impressive Ceremonies to Mark Opening of Service on Sunday Afternoon

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—Under the direction of Postmaster Ernest Dort, assisted by the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, impressive ceremonies at Lindbergh Field will mark the opening of San Diego's first direct air-mail connection on Sunday afternoon. Selections by the Marine Corps Band will open the program at 4 p.m., to be followed by an aerial review of Federal planes provided through the courtesy of Capt. Frank McCrary, commanding the Naval Air Station, and Maj. Carl Spaatz of the Rockwell Field forces.

Brief addresses by the Mayor, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, the postmaster and a representative of Western Air Express will explain and commemorate the occasion.

More than 15,000 souvenir letters are already being held at the postoffice for transmission via the first outbound plane, and many more are expected to come in today and tomorrow.

Seiner Fleet May Get Base at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—Possible local basing of a fleet of fifty purse-seine fishing boats during the blue-fin tuna season was indicated today, following a conference by cannery officials and fishing interests.

The major portion of the season's catch will be brought here for discharge during the summer, it was predicted. San Diego fish packers are placing their plants in emergency condition, the blue-fin run being short but heavy while it lasts.

The primary aim of each packer is to establish his forces upon a flexible basis, enabling fluctuation of operation without major changes of operation schemes.

Blue-fin are reported in scattered numbers from the great tuna bank southwest of Point Loma, but to date no catches of any importance have been delivered locally.

KENNEL CLUB SHOW PLANNED

Pasadena Event Opens Early in June

Cito Lutzelberg, Grand German Champion

PASADENA, May 30.—The exhibition of German police dogs at the Pasadena dog show to be held in a big tent at the corner of Colorado and Hudson streets for two days, starting Friday, June 6, is expected to be the largest of any of the canine exhibitions ever held in Southern California, according to Frank Foster Davis of Altadenit, secretary of the Pasadena Kennel Club, under which auspices the event is being held.

There have been more than forty prize winners of the police dog breed entered, and it is expected that this division will represent the highest type of this species of canine ever placed on exhibition.

One of the finest specimens of this breed is Cito Lutzelberg, grand champion of Germany, a shepherd owned and entered by Miss Gladys Vilasck. This animal is said to be one of the finest trained dogs in Southern California.

PEACOCK IN COURT CASE NO NUISANCE

Jury Finds "Mike" Not so Bothersome as Complaints Had Set Forth

REDLANDS, May 30.—A jury in Judge C. G. Potter's court tonight found that a peacock is no nuisance, when it brought in a verdict of not guilty on such a charge placed against William C. Daustin, of the fashionable Terracina residence section of the city.

It was a victory for Daustin, who had been charged by Chief of Police Walter Thomas with maintaining a nuisance after a number of complaints had been made to the department, especially by patients in the Community Hospital near the Daustin home. Daustin refused to chop off the head of Mike, his beloved peacock, which was charged with uttering loud cries during the day and night.

Mike, the peacock, was not present. The case was prosecuted by Walter Hartzell, City Attorney, and Daustin conducted his own defense. He pleaded guilty innumerable times to lack of knowledge of proper procedure in court but evidently impressed the jury with his plea for his pet, even though it was not, according to Hoyle, as court procedure goes.

Mike will continue to roam the Daustin place and call when he pleases. Daustin stated, however, that his call would not be heard often again for several months as he says the peacock very seldom calls except during the mating season and that is about over.

Appraisals of Proposed State Park Planned

SANTA ANA, May 30.—Appraisals of the seashore tract near Huntington Beach proposed as a State park will be made soon at a joint meeting of the appraisers named by the County Supervisors and the State Park Board, it was announced today by T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach, principal backer of the project.

The recommendation of the two groups will be made to the County Supervisors, Talbert added.

The park would cost approximately $1,400,000, of which sum the county would pay one-half and the State the remainder. It is also pointed out that the State would provide to the upkeep of the park. There are about 345 acres in the tract proposed to be turned into a State playground.

The tract is advantageously located close to the metropolitan areas of Long Beach and Los Angeles and is accessible by automobile, Pacific Electric trains and motor stages, it is pointed out. The Orange County Coast Association, the Associated Chambers of Commerce and other groups have gone on record as favoring the proposition and Supervisors recently ordered the appraisal made of the property before deciding whether or not to call a bond election for the purchase of the land.

Redondo Girl Wins National Design Contest

REDONDO BEACH, May 30.—Naomi Cakebread, local high-school senior, has been awarded the winning prize in the national cover-design contest sponsored by the American Educational Press Association, it became known yesterday.

Miss Cakebread's design, especially complimented for originality and simplicity, depicts an airplane and student motif as her conception of present-day education.

MINISTERS IN DENIAL

MAYWOOD, May 30.—For several days numerous canvassers have been making a house-to-house canvass in this city and Bell, offering various articles for sale with the statement that they have been recommended by the members of the Ministers' Alliance of the two cities. The organization warns residents that they have made no recommendations whatever of articles offered by these visiting salesmen. Most of the number are book agents.

"LET 'ER BUCK" RODEO ON

Ten-Gallon Hats and High-heeled Boots in Vogue as Ventura Opens First Annual Event There

VENTURA, May 30.—Ten-gallon hats and high-heeled boots were in vogue here today as the first annual rodeo and frontier celebration got under way at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Seaside Park. Throngs of visitors from all over the county, from as far north as Kettleman Hills and as far south as Los Angeles, went to the fair grounds to witness the first day's session of the three-day affair.

More than 150 of the world's most famous cowboys and cowgirls have entered as contestants for $2500 in cash prizes.

The prizes are to be awarded for steer and bucking horse riding, bulldogging, trick roping and other events on Sunday, the final day of the rodeo. All events are to be run off in elimination style, with the finals staged on Sunday.

The rodeo is sponsored by the Community Chest.

Fugitive Seeks Concealment in Garden of Detective Captain at Santa Monica When He Is Hunted For Asserted Punching of Policeman

SANTA MONICA, May 30.—A celebration said to have started last night with intoxicants, according to a police report, wound up with the arrest of James A. Dale and Lewis Allen, local young men, after an asserted fight at Kinney street and Trolleyway, Ocean Park.

When Officer Riggle attempted to separate the combatants, he reported, Dale switched opponents and struck the officer. He is then reported to have fled, after his first opponent, Allen, had been completely knocked out by a blow in the stomach from the policeman's fist.

Dale was picked up some time later and by pure coincidence he had chosen for a hiding place a flower bed in the yard of Capt. Watson, head of the local detective bureau, who was heading a squad on the hunt for the fugitive. Charges are to be filed against the men.

ANGELS SPLIT HOLIDAY BILL

Baecht Outhurls Lieber to Win First Game, 2-1

Seraphs Pass Oaks and Cop Second in Standings

BY BOB RAY

After putting on an eighth-inning rally to capture the opener by a 2-to-1 score, Jack Lelivelt's Angels, playing as though they were firm believers in the old adage that it is better to give than receive, handed the Missions the nightcap, 10 to 7, so yesterday's Wrigley Field Memorial Day program resulted in an even split. The Seraphs, however, climbed up into second place because the Oaks were dropping a pair at Portland, but they lost a full game on the league-leading Senators, who drubbed Seattle twice.

Some 10,000 fans gathered for the holiday bill and had to get most of their enjoyment out of the opener, in which Ed Baecht outpitched young "Dutch" Lieber, Mission right-hander, and won when his mates put across two runs after two were out in the eighth inning. Both hurlers yielded six hits.

While the first game was featured by brilliant mound work, the finale was spotted by some terrible twirling on the part of Carl Holling and Augie Walsh, who succeeded in giving the Missions runs faster than the Angels could make them. A home run inside the park by Fred Haney was one of the highlights of the free-hitting second affair. Fussy Hufft and Dally Warren also connected for circuit clouts in the nightcap.

USE THREE HURLERS

Both sides used three hurlers, Mert Nelson stopping the Angels after Herb McQuaid and George Caster had been batted off the mound. After Holling and Walsh had lost the contest beyond recall, Lelivelt for some unknown reason sent in Bill Peters, who pitched and won Tuesday's game, to hurl the last inning. It looked like bad judgment sending in Peters when he figured to start against the Missions either today or tomorrow.

The Missions scored first off Baecht in the sixth inning of the opener when Mulligan beat out a bunt, was sacrificed to second by Kelly and was driven home by Monroe's single to center. Dittmar then bobbled Hufft's roller and Jacobs followed by gumming up a double-play on Boone's roller, only one man being retired. Jacobs's "skull" didn't result disastrously, however, Haney tossing out Burns to leave runners stranded on second and third.

That run off Baecht, by the way, was the first scored off the Angel hurler in eighteen innings. He had thirteen consecutive scoreless innings to his credit against Sacramento last week and then five more yesterday.

The Angels, who hadn't scored in twenty-three innings, finally found the plate in the eighth, pushing across two runs to win the contest. Hannah singled off Mulligan's glove for a starter and Horne ran for him. Baecht sacrificed and Sigafoos was an infield out. Moore doubled to right to score Horne and Dittmar brought Johnny home a second later with a single to center.

Baecht fanned Hufft, Burns and Rosenberg to retire the Missions in the ninth.

SEALS AND HOLLYWOOD SPLIT BILL

Stars Take First Game; Lose Second When Caveney Steals Home in Tenth

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (Exclusive)—The Seals looked like the Seals of championship days in the ninth and tenth innings of the second game today when they rallied with five runs to knot the count in the ninth and Jimmy Caveney stole home to win the game in the tenth. The Seals won, 10 to 9. Hollywood won the morning game, 3 to 2, so the teams broke even on the day's play and also are even on the series to date.

Jimmy Zinn was selected to pitch the second game but was called home by the illness of his son.

Art McDougal, young southpaw, hurled nine innings. Three of the nine runs scored off him were due to Donovan's errors. Jerry snuffed three fly balls and made a wild throw which must be some kind of a record for an outfielder.

Green hit a home run with two on in the first inning to give Hollywood a start. The Seals came back with two, batted in by Sheely. Two runs scored in the second after Donovan dropped a fly ball that would have made the third out. Two more scored in the third when Carlyle got a timely hit.

Wingo got one of the runs back with a homer in the last of the third. Crosetti doubled to score Caveney in the fourth.

ous north turn of the two and a half-mile brick oval, causing injury to two other entrants and eliminating seventeen other cars from the race.

Marshall met his death when their car, speeding at the rate of 100 miles an hour, crashed into a retaining wall at the banked curve of the track. Instead of coming out of the skid, the car plunged up the track and bounded over, upside down, falling twenty-five feet to the ground below. The mechanic was pinned beneath the racer, but his brother was catapulted free of the wreckage. Paul suffered a fractured skull and other injuries from which he died a short time after reaching the hospital. Cy suffered a broken jaw and other injuries but his condition tonight was said to be improving.

The two other persons injured were in a nerve-tingling smash-up that wrecked six cars on the same north turn.

They were Deacon Litz, a driver of Dubois, Pa., and Aaron T. Vance of Indianapolis, riding as a mechanic for Chester T. Gardner of Pittsburgh. Fred Roberts of Danville, Ill., driving relief for Peter De Paolo, one of the favorites in the race, lost control of his car in attempting to bring it out of a skid and collided with the speeding machine piloted by Marion Trexler of Indianapolis. Four other machines coming behind them piled up one after another. These cars were being driven by Litz, Johnny Seymour, Escanaba, Mich.; Babe Stapp, Los Angeles, and Lou Moore, Los Angeles

Miraculously, all six drivers and their mechanics escaped death, but Litz sustained a broken right wrist and the mechanic, Vance, was lacerated about the head

The race was just a parade for the youthful Arnold after he once got his eight-cylinder front-drive car humming along at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour. He jumped into the lead at the start of the third lap and retained it to the finish, with Spider Matlock of Los Angeles huddled beside him as his mechanic.

Arnold made only one stop during the perilous 500 miles. He pulled into the pits after speeding 278 miles and spent three minutes taking on fuel and changing his rear tires.

Arnold won $20,000 as first prize and approximately $17,000 in lap prizes, receiving $100 for each lap in which he led the race, in addition, he won other prizes offered by accessory manufacturers to make his total winnings $52,150.

The race proved disastrous to the two foreign entries and also to De Paolo, one of the American favorites. The foreign entries were Italian-made cars. The first of the Italian entries, a sixteen-cylinder creation, surrendered before twenty-five miles had been reeled off, due to ignition. The other Italian entry, an eight-cylinder car, was waved off the course after the first ten drivers had finished. It was plodding along with forty miles still to go when officials flagged it.

De Paolo, winner of the race in 1925, was forced out due to the collision in which five other cars were wrecked. Roberts, the relief

STANFORD TEAM TO BEAT IN COLLEGIATE CLASSIC

Coast Athletes Smash Two Records and Tie Third; Harvard Leads Eastern Title Contenders

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

HARVARD STADIUM, CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 30. (AP)—To the tingling tune of record-shattering performances, Stanford's brawn and Southern California's speed were pitted against each other today in a stirring prelude to the battle tomorrow between these two Pacific Coast universities for the East's blue-ribbon track-and-field title—the intercollegiate A.A.A.A. championship.

Two meet records were broken, one of them involving a new American mark, and a third was equaled, all by California talent, as Stanford and University of Southern California finished neck and neck in the struggle for qualifying places in eleven of the fifteen championship events.

After the smoke of battle had cleared Stanford held a scant lead with thirteen qualifying places and the possibility of gaining one more if a dispute is settled overnight in the Cardinals' favor. Southern California placed twelve men, exhibiting all-around strength that may prove the downfall of Stanford tomorrow when the points begin to count.

Harvard led the eastern contingent with seven qualifiers, thereby strengthening Crimson hopes in the "second" division fight for third place. Otherwise the field was strung out, with Michigan tied at four places each with Cornell, Pennsylvania, New York University, Colgate, Yale, Dartmouth and Syracuse. California qualified three.

How Leading Squads Fared

Southern California has eighteen men in today's finals of the IC4-A meet at Boston. Stanford will be represented by twelve.

Those who qualified for the Trojans are:

Jeddy Welsh in the high hurdles.

Vic Williams in the 440.

Bill McGeagh in the 880.

Howard Paul in the broad jump.

Bob Hall in the shot and discus.

In addition to these athletes seven others will go into action today. They are Bill Hubbard, Bill Livingston and Pete Chientsos in the pole vault, Jim Stewart and Bob Van Osdel in the high jump, and Cliff Halstead and Lee Hansen in the mile.

Stanford qualified the following men yesterday:

CHICAGO CUBS' PENNANT HOPES DIMMED, HORNSBY FRACTURES LEFT ANKLE

BY PAUL MICKERSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 30. (AP)—Pennant aspirations of the championship Chicago Cubs, already lowered by the sudden death of Pitcher Hal Carlson and a large-sized casualty list, were given another staggering blow today when Rogers Hornsby, one of the greatest natural hitters in the game, fractured his left ankle.

The injury, which occurred as the famous "Rajah" tried to slide into third base during the morning game of the St. Louis Cardinal-Cub Memorial Day double-header, will force Hornsby out of the game at least six weeks. The break may cost the Cubs their second successive championship in the National League, hopes for which have rested largely on Hornsby and his big bat and smart field generalship.

ROGERS HORNSBY

Carrying on despite his painful right heel, which had bothered him all spring, Hornsby looked more like his old self today than at any time this season. He covered his position at second base remarkably well and rapped out a single and double that were the big blows in the Cubs' 3-to-0 victory subsequently. It was after his double in the third inning that the injury jinx overtook the "Rajah."

Noticing that Orsatti, Card right fielder, had made a wild throw after catching Kiki Cuyler's fly, Horns-

Compton City Council Stirs Belated Controversy

Wants Percentage Due Over Twenty-two-Year Period

Demand Made on Company as It is Absorbed

COMPTON, May 30.—Just as the transfer of the Consolidated Utilities Company was to be made to the Southern California Telephone Company's system here, the local City Council began a controversy with the former company over the franchise.

Demand that the franchise provision for payment of 2 per cent of the gross revenue into the city Treasury be complied with, was forwarded to telephone company attorneys. It is understood this payment has never been made in the twenty-two years the franchise has been used and yet terms of the franchise make it void unless all provisions are followed.

The Southern California Gas Company and the Southern California Gas Company have been complying with similar franchises.

OFFICIALS REFUSE COMMENT

While local telephone officials refused to comment on the controversy, it was learned that the franchise also has a provision for twenty-five free telephones be furnished for city offices. But it is understood the city has been obtaining a great deal of additional free service.

The Consolidated Utilities Company, which has provided this service to Compton, Gardena, Inglewood and Hynes since 1907, is just a name today as its properties were made part of the Southern California Telephone Company system. Sale of stock of the former concern by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company was recently approved by the State Railroad Commission. J. M. Cowan, general manager of the local concern, becomes district manager of the Southern California Company under the change made effective today. F. N. Rush, president of the retiring local concern, is also vice-president and general manager of the Southern California company.

OLD COMPANY DISAPPEARS

When President Len Dunn set out the old independent company of the Bell system in January, 1...a series of changes was begun which results today in complete disappearance of the concern so familiar to this community for many years. Approximately 6000 telephones are included in the system now supervised by the larger company.

The transfer is part of a general shift which places all former properties of the Pacific company in the Southern California Telephone Company, including the Pacific Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, the United States Long Distance Company, the Corona Telephone and Telegraph Company and other Southern California Telephone properties. Conner of Compton, who was also general manager for the Corona company, keeps his dual position and the Corona change is now being supervised from the Riverside office.

Los Angeles County Finals of Junior Olympic Games Scheduled for This Afternoon

YOUNGSTERS TO VIE FOR TITLES

Total of 138 Boys Slated to Take Part

Shoults and Okura Turn in Leading Scores

D. W. Lott Arranges Plans for Big Meet

BY BRAVEN DYER

Spurred on by the alluring prospect of a free trip to Latin America, 138 energetic young athletes compete today in the Los Angeles county finals of the Junior Olympic Games. The meet will be held at Moore Field starting promptly at 1:30 p.m.

SAM WAXMAN

Ten boys from today's competition will qualify for the Southern California finals to be staged next Saturday. From this final meet, four winners will emerge, this quartet to be sent to Atlantic City for the nationals and thence via the Panama Mail Steamship Line to Latin America. All expenses of this extensive journey will be borne by The Times which is sponsoring the Junior Olympic Games in Southern California for the third consecutive year.

HOT COMPETITION

Due to the fact that young athletes, under the stress of competition, have a habit of outdoing themselves, it is impossible to pick today's winners. For instance, last year Fernando Ramos won the senior title in the Los Angeles county meet, but the following week Bob San Jose, who had placed second to Ramos in the county affair, captured the Southern California championship and then went on to win the national title.

Competition, based on the barometer of scores turned in to date, ought to be exceedingly keen in both the junior and senior divisions today. In each class there are approximately five boys who have made outstanding scores and must therefore be accorded a fine chance of winning. Others, with smaller totals, may surprise.

Ord Shoults of Anderson Memorial Playground in San Pedro, is expected to battle it out with Clark Crane of Huntington Park and Sam Waxman of Echo playground for honors in the senior division. Shoults scored 654 points in his district finals; Crane did 619 and Waxman, 628. The latter, however, has a mark of 645 from earlier in the year, as has Frank Takeuchi, a team-mate of Shoults.

Paul Lee of Arroyo Seco, 393; John Wallis of South Pasadena, 384, and Theodore Troy of Compton playground, 384, must be considered in this division, also.

LITTLE TO CHOOSE

The fight in the junior division seems to lie rather definitely between T. Okura of Banning playground in San Pedro and Jimmy Montgomery of El Monte. There is little to choose between these two, except that Montgomery, if hot, is probably the better all-around performer of the pair.

Howard Gravitt of Compton, although he scored but 547 points in his district final, has bettered 600 and may prove to be a surprise this afternoon.

Shoults, Waxman and Crane figure to hold their own with any of the leading scorers in outside counties, Louis Haley of San Bernardino and Albert Thompson of Riverside, seemingly, being the only ones on a par with them.

But the juniors will be hard pressed next week to keep pace with little Joe Andrade of Calexico, who scored 640 points some time ago to win his county finals.

Under the efficient supervision of D. W. Lott of the Department of Playground and Recreation, all plans have been completed for today's meet, which ought to be run off in snappy fashion. Mr. Lott, referee of the event, will be assisted by a staff of well-known local officials. Sparkletts is furnishing water for the athletes.

The personnel of those in charge is as follows:

STELLA WALSH SETS NEW SPRINT RECORD

PHILADELPHIA, May 30. (AP)—Stella Walsh, speedy girl runner from Cleveland, O., was announced as having broken the women's world record for the 100-yard dash today when she stepped off the century in 10 4-5s. at the annual games of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

DAVIS NET HONORS DIVIDED

SCHEVININGEN (Holland) May 30. (AP)—Czecho-Slovakia and Holland divided the first two matches of their third round Davis Cup tennis tie today. Hans Timmer of Holland defeated Karl Kozeluh, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1, but R. Menzel evened the score for Czecho-Slovakia by defeating A. Diemer Kool, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

GREATLY EXAGGERATED! SAYS 'ONE-ROUND' HOGAN AS DEATH IS REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (AP)—The question of "Who's Hogan?" perplexed sports fans and others today while relatives of a man who died yesterday in Los Angeles claimed the deceased was "One-Round" Hogan of Coast ring fame twenty years ago and George F. Hogan, of San Francisco, insisted he is the fighter entitled to the sobriquet. The man who died in Los Angeles was Daniel Bartiloni Hogan, well-known in the motion-picture colony as a "prop" man. He had been known among motion-picture folk as "One-Round" Hogan who fought such celebrities as Jimmy Britt, Joe Gans, Joe Rivers and Leach Cross. He was born in San Francisco fifty-one years ago as David Bartiloni, later adding the Hogan. Meanwhile, George F. Hogan, chauffeur for the Board of Public Works in San Francisco and known to sports editors and fans here as the one and only "One-Round" Hogan, telephoned the Associated Press and said: "Hey, what's the idea? I'm not dead and all my friends are sending me flowers." He said his embarrassment was offset by his being alive and "No hard feelings." The San Francisco Hogan is 42.

TROJANS LEAD ELIGIBLES

Coast Athletes Smash Two Records, Tie Another as I.C.A.A.A.A. Meet Gets Under Way

1-4in. in the shot put, shattering his own meet record of 50ft. 3in. by nearly two feet and at the same time setting a new American mark. His heave surpassed the former national standard of 51ft. 11 5-8in. registered by Herman Brix at Fresno, Cal., in April, 1929. It was exactly seven inches short of the new world's record credited to the German, Emil Hirshfeld.

Curly-haired Eric W. Krenz, captain of the three-time championship Stanford team, also surpassed Rothert's former meet record in the shot put with a toss of 50ft. 6 1-4in. to make it certain that the Cardinals would finish one-two in this event.

The wind, however, robbed Krenz of the honor of sharing further the record-busting laurels of the day with his team-mate, for in his favorite event, the discus, Eric's astonishing heave of 163ft. 3in. was disallowed because of a favoring wind. This was plenty good enough to install Krenz in first place, bettering his own meet mark of 154ft. 11in. and being within three-quarters of an inch of the new world's record of 163ft. 8 3-4in. recently posted to the Stanford star's credit.

The second meet record to tumble was in the javelin throw, where blond, lanky Kenneth Churchill of the University of California tossed the spear 207ft. 8 1-2in. This displaced the old championship standing of 205ft. 7 5-8in., made by Creth Hines of Georgetown in 1927.

The sprint fireworks of the day were furnished by Flying Frank Wykoff, ace of the Southern California speed boys, who returned to the scene of his Olympic tryout triumphs of 1928 to outrace his Stanford rival, Hector Dyer, in the 100-yard dash semifinals and equal the meet record of 9 7-10s. Dyer was penalized a yard for false starting, but he trailed Wykoff by fully three yards at the finish as the Southern Californian justified his installation as favorite.

The holder of the world's record of 9.5s., Dusky Eddie Tolan of Michigan, made his debut in the eastern classic by capturing the other 100-yard semifinal in 9.8s. Tolan also qualified easily in the 220-yard dash, in which the chief rival tomorrow will be Hec Dyer. The blond Stanford sprinter reeled off the fastest furlong of the day in 21 7-10s. under wraps and is picked to win.

FEW UPSETS

In a day marked by amazingly fine performances right down the line, there were comparatively few upsets, although accidents in the 120-yard high hurdles helped eliminate two of the favorites. Arthur Devoe of Yale and Al Pogolotti, captain of the California team both tripped over hurdles. Pogolotti had a second chance to qualify for the finals, as he ran in an extra heat, but he was beaten and eliminated in this by "Podge" Smith of Stanford, who also was forced into the extra heat by a prior mishap. Jeddy Welsh of Southern California led the high-timber qualifiers by running his semifinals in 14 9-10s.

Stanford suffered a set-back when all three of its quarter-milers were shut out, Johnny Morrison fading in the stretch and losing a place in the finals by a fraction of a second's time as he finished third to Bernie McCafferty of Holy Cross. On the other hand, Southern California's star 440-man, Vic Williams, won his heat handily and shared with Charley Engle of Yale the best time of the trials, 48 9-10s.

In the 220-yard low hurdles, Yale's captain, Syd Kieselhorst, failed in a gallant attempt to defend the title he has won twice before. Not recovered from an operation for appendicitis, Kieselhorst finished fourth and was eliminated in the first heat, won by Stollwerck of Colgate in the fastest time of the day, 24 3-10s.

Southern California's team, although trailing Stanford in the qualifying list, nevertheless was better balanced and apparently better equipped to win the final battle tomorrow. The Trojans placed entries in nine of the eleven preliminary events, with the prospect that all of these athletes will score points. Moreover, Dean Cromwell's U.S.C. forces possessed exceptional strength in the pole vault, high jump and distance runs, in which no preliminaries were held.

Stanford's power was concentrated in the shotput, discus, broad jump and sprints. Five of the Cardinal qualifiers and possibly a sixth were in the two dashes, but Hec Dyer appeared the only sure point winner. In the 100-yard dash semifinals, there was a dispute over third place, Stanford men claiming Howell was entitled to the position awarded at the finish to Kastler of Pennsylvania. Motion pictures were to be run to decide this.

CONNER SHINES

The East, although out of the main fight for team honors, nevertheless contributed some sparkling individual performances. Frank Conner of Yale, with a toss of 176ft. 5in., registered the best hammer-throwing performance since Freddy Tottell of Bowdoin set the record at 181ft. 6½in. in 1923. George Bullwinkle, star middle-distance runner of the College of the City of New York, reeled off his half-mile trial in the sparkling time of 1m. 54.7s., more than two seconds faster than the performance of the favorite, Russell Chapman of Bates. Bullwinkle will attempt a "double" by also running the mile tomorrow.

The Coast contingent in the broad jump was unexpectedly topped in the trials by Sol Furth of New York University, who leaped 24ft. 7in. in the discus, another surprise was furnished by Earl Gowell of Maine, who turned in the greatest performance of his career, 159ft. 11½in. to place second to Krenz. This, as well as the third best performance, 156ft. 3 1-4in., by Robert Hall of U.S.C., also surpassed the I.C.A.A.A. record, due to the wind's assistance.

The complete list of qualifiers:

Stanford, 13; Southern California, 12; Harvard, 7; Pennsylvania, Cornell, Michigan, New York University, Colgate, Yale, Dartmouth and Syracuse, 4 each; California and Holy Cross, 3 each; Michigan State, Princeton and Union, 2 each; Brown, Maine C.C., New York, Columbia and Bates, 1 each.

HOW LEADING TEAMS FARED

Johnny Morrison and Giberson in the sprints.

Podge Smith in the high hurdles.

Virgil Dowell and Arnold West in the broad jump.

In addition Dink Templeton will have the services of Madison in the high jump and Berry in the pole vault.

Art Woessner, 440, and Dick Barber, broad jump, were the Trojans who failed to qualify.

Hables and Shove, 440; Jones and Tandy, discus; Nesbit, low hurdles, and Butler, broad jump, were the Cardinals who went East and failed to make the grade for the finals.

GENE HAUSTEIN WINS

BRIDGEVILLE (Pa.) May 30. (AP) Gene Haustein, Detroit, won the 100-mile A.A.A. race here today. P. Bianchi, Pittsburgh, was a close second with the rest of the field far in the rear. Haustein's time was 1h. 29m. 40s. Bianchi was thirty-two seconds behind.

Boise Defeats Uplifter Four

BOISE (Idaho) May 30. (AP)—The Boise polo team defeated the Pacific Coast Uplifters, composed principally of Los Angeles players, 16 to 6, in the opening game of a ten-day polo tournament here.

Teams from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., Portland, Gooding and Boise are entered in the tournament, as well as the composite team which played today.

The Boise team started against a handicap of three goals credited to the Uplifters, but quickly swept over this. For Boise Frank Fletcher scored 4, Dave Whyte 5, Steen Fletcher 3 and Joe Rogers 3.

Even a pony scored a goal. For the Uplifters Arthur Fletcher of Boise, Dr. Harry Wilson and C. Bronson of Los Angeles each scored one and they were given three by handicap. Dick Kamm of Portland, the fourth member, failed to score.

TROJANS HOLD EDGE

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA enters the finals of the I.C.-4A. championships at Cambridge today with a noticeable edge over Stanford, her strongest rival. The Trojans qualified for twelve places to Stanford's thirteen yesterday, but in the mile, pole vault and high jump there were no qualifying trials.

S.C. has six men in these events to Stanford's two, so the locals take the field today with an eighteen-man team against the twelve-man aggregation of their northern competitors.

The biggest blow to Stanford's hopes was the failure of Morrison to qualify in the quarter mile. Williams of S.C. made the grade, winning his heat in 48 9-10s, while the best Morrison could do was to place third in a heat run in slower time. The sad part of this is that Morrison beat Williams in the dual meet in 48 3-5s., and has been consistent around that figure all year.

Stanford swelled its qualifying total by placing both Gulberson and Howell in the finals of the 100 along with Dyer while the Trojans have both Wykoff and Maurer in the lists. However, neither Gulberson nor Howell is likely to figure unless they surpass previous performances. Morrison atoned somewhat for his 440 setback by qualifying in the 220, but his heat was slow by comparison with the others.

Barber's loss in the broad hurst the Trojans while Dowell and West have second and fourth apparently cinched for Stanford.

TEN-POINT MARGIN

THE Trojans have a potential ten-point margin over Stanford, not an insurmountable obstacle for Stanford but one that requires almost superhuman performances on the part of the Cardinals.

It will take a first and second by Dyer in both sprints, a near first by Smith in the high hurdles, and jumps by Dowell and West to outdistance Sol Furth in the broad to turn the trick.

It's not an impossible assignment, but it's a tough one.

Rothert's new intercollegiate record of 52ft. ½in. in the shot was rather expected, and he and Krenz have nine points in this event cinched as well as 8 in the discus. Rothert might even make it 1 more in the platter if he can nose out Bob Hall of S.C. today.

Smith, Stanford's captain-elect, barely qualified for the finals of the high hurdles by beating out Al Pogolotti, California captain, in an extra heat. His near first, therefore, looks like the most impossible on the list.

With the exception of Barber's fall by the wayside the Trojans did everything that could have been expected of them. They performed according to Hoyle, and should win when the finals are run off today.

ONE MORE HURDLE

AFTER a week of heart-rending competition in which he has been forced to a decision on the home green by American team-mates on two successive days, Bobby Jones stands on the threshhold of a long-coveted achievement—the winning of the British amateur championship.

Between Bobby and his goal is the figure of Roger Wethered, former British champion.

Roger has a sister named Joyce, and if you want to know something about the quality of golf played by the Wethered family, ask American girls who have tried to lift the British women's title when she was in the lists.

But somehow, you can't help but favor the peerless Bobby today. He is past his eighteen-hole hoodoo. Today's match is over the 36-hole route—the first one of the week, and the mental advantage will rest with the American open champion.

In spite of a strenuous week it will not be surprising if he shoots the best golf since the tourney started last Monday.

A FUNNY DECISION

THERE have been other weird decisions passed out in local rings, but nothing that quite compares with the one Billy Burke rendered at Hollywood Thursday night.

Vigo Doman failed to win a single round—he held four even and lost six—but was awarded the verdict over Denny Lenhart for some surprising reason that was not visible to the naked eye.

If Doman was any kind of a heavyweight his nineteen-pound weight advantage would have helped him to win, but he didn't, and Burke completely overlooked the left hooks with which Lenhart piled up points round after round.

The bout was really comical. Doman hit himself harder in the nose with his gloves than he was able to sock Lenhart.

Roy Walnut Race Winner

POMONA, May 30.—Another treat of matinee horse racing was dished up for the edification of horse lovers at the Los Angeles county fair grounds race track this afternoon, when the Los Angeles county matinee club sponsored the second event of the season in the shape of three harness races interspersed with feature exhibitions and novelty events.

The day was ideal for horse racing, and but one mishap marred the day. Queen Elizabeth, owned and driven by Paul Camyre in the second race, the 2:15 mixed trot and pace, suddenly took a notion to high-dive at the half in the second heat. Driver and sulky were precipitated to the ground while the driver of Becky Sharpe leaped from his sulky to escape a possible smash-up, only two horses finishing the heat. Neither horses nor drivers were injured, although the affair was a disappointment all around.

The results:

First race, free for all, pace: Roy Walnut (C. D. Gatch) 1 1
Bowen McKinney (R. A. Anderson) 2 2
Alona (George Clarion) 3 3
Summary: Roy Walnut, first; Alona, second; Borden McKinney, third. Time, 2:11½.

Second race, 2:15, mixed trot and pace: Becky Sharpe (Frank Ford) 1 1
Silk Knight (B. Greenleaf) 2 3
Donald Mc (Bert Audrus) 3 2
Queen Elizabeth (P. Camyre) ..... drawn
Summary: Donald Mc, first; Silk Knight, second. Time, 2:15.

Mabel (Cincofelt (R. Anderson) 1 1
Dr. O'Keefe (C. W. Hodges) 4 2
Tommy C. (Tom Crawford) 3 3
Summary: Mabel Cincofelt, first; Tommy C., second; Greta June, third. Time, 2:20.

GYM CHAMPIONSHIP DUCATS ARE READY

Tickets for the National A.A.U. gymnastic championships, to be held at the Olympic Auditorium next Friday evening, will be placed on sale this morning at the B. H. Dyas Company and the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Both reserved and general admission tickets may be secured at these places. Tickets for school children, who will be admitted for 15 cents, may be secured at schools throughout Southern California.

Eastern gym champions arrived here yesterday and many of them plan a workout today at the L.A.A.C. Those who came are Al Jochim, Frank Haubold, Herman Witzig and Robert Joh, Swiss Turn Verein, Union City, N. J.; Phil Garris, Rutgers University; Billy Herrman, Philadelphia, and F. J. Villera, New Orleans. Three tumblers from Dallas, Tex., arrive next week.

TRICKS PLAYS AGAIN

Frozen Tricks's hard-hitting nine hopes to continue its winning streak in indoor baseball when they meet the strong Poinsettia team, Sunday morning, at Echo Park Playground.

TEAMS IN TIE AT BRENTWOOD

Invitational Golf Event Draws Large Field

Leaders Closely Bunched in First Day's Play

Mixed Foursomes Feature on Tomorrow's Program

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Ed R. Hurst of California and Henry Kirby of Brentwood tied with George Trembley of Lakeside and Dick Young of Brentwood yesterday at the halfway mark of Brentwood's annual two-ball, best-ball invitation tournament. These two teams led a large field by a stroke with a best ball of 64.

The invitation tournament continues today and winds up tomorrow. Mixed foursomes are scheduled tomorrow afternoon.

A close finish is expected, with a number of teams having first rounds in the low 60's. Among the leaders were J. T. Durkee and G. McDonald, Frank Dodge and E. R. Austin and R. W. Wright and J. M. Nichols with 65; C. W. Canfield and F. S. Wheeler, Clarence Rankle and Joe Crider, Clyde Smith and Walter Kaye and Joe Graves and Bert Honey with 66. The 67 bracket included D. W. Hall and Howard Jones, W. Able and Phil Clapp and J. W. Reed and William Moeller. The 68's were G. F. Wright and Jerry Collins, George Fontmore and R. F. Jennings, J. H. Fiske and C. H. Thomas, D. W. Hunt and J. Ford, Paul Lowry and Darsie L. Darsie and R. H. Huff and R. Gibson.

The leaders played brilliantly in the face of a stiff breeze that proved a serious handicap.

A field of more than 300 is expected to play in the three-day event, to establish a new record.

CHARLES SEAVER HOME FOR AMATEUR PLAY

Charles Seaver, sensational young Los Angeles Country Club golfer, has returned home from Hun school and will play in the Southern California amateur championship at the Midwick Country Club next week. Seaver was runner-up to Fay Coleman in the 1928 Southland championship at Lakeside in 1928 and lost in the semifinals last year at Bel-Air.

Seaver was the outstanding amateur in Southern California during the midwinter tournament, making a brilliant showing in the Long Beach open and other tournaments. Seaver has been keeping in practice in the East and is expected to be in top form for the amateur.

LAKESIDE EVENT WON BY WELLINGTON

C. H. Wellington won the flag tournament at the Lakeside Country Club yesterday with an 84. J. Farrell McDonald was second with an 86, and third place went to J. Canterberry, who scored an 88.

TWO TIE IN TOURNEY AT SAN GABRIEL

R. E. Schmertz, 81-5—76, and H. E. Dalzell, 84-8—76, tied for first place in the blind bogey tournament held yesterday at the San Gabriel Country Club. F. A. Speik was second, 86-10—76, and C. H. Peters finished third, 86-7—79.

DUTRA BROTHERS IN EXHIBITION MATCH

Olin Dutra of Brentwood and Mortie Dutra of Virginia will pair against Willie Hunter of Montebello Park and Chet Beer of Bakersfield in an exhibition match over the Stockdale Country Club course of Bakersfield on June 8.

MACKEY DEFEATED IN LOS ANGELES PLAY

Jack Mackey, youthful defending champion, was defeated by E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong, 3 and 2, in the first round of the annual Los Angeles Country Club championship played yesterday afternoon. Second and third-round matches will be played today with the finals over thirty-six holes scheduled tomorrow.

Harry M. Eichelberger, Jr., former Southern California junior champion, won the medal yesterday morning with a 71. Mackey was second with a 73, Frank W. Clark shot a 75, and George M. Lewis a 76.

Results of first-round matches were as follows:

H. M. Eichelberger, Jr. defeated Harlow Hurley, 3 and 2.
Art Shafer defeated W. W. Campbell, 1 up.
J. M. Arnsell defeated E. B. Babcock, 2 and 1.
Frank W. Clark defeated C. R. Smoot, 4 and 3.
C. R. Armstrong defeated Jack Mackey, 3 and 2.
Mal. William Lee Karnes defeated M. L. Houseman, 6 and 4.

ATRES WINS MEDAL PLAY TOURNAMENT

Phil Ayres, University of California at Los Angeles star, won the medal play sweepstakes over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday morning, 74-6—68. Dave Ross Clark II was second, 86-16—70. R. K. Gilbert was the winner over the south course, 77-12—65.

Clark Somers paired with Clark to win the four-ball medal competition in the afternoon, 79-7—72. King Brown and A. B. Jones scored a victory over the south course with 69-7—62.

DEAUVILLE SWIMMERS WIN ANOTHER MEET

Coach Tom Pierce's Deauville swimming squad ended its dual meet season last night with a 31-14 triumph over the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. outfit. The meet was held in the Deauville pool. Tom Medlicott of the winners was the big star of the evening, winning both the fifty-yard free style and the 100-yard free style. It was the Deauville's fourteenth win of the season.

Girl Aquatic Squads Clash in Dual Meet

The first inter-city girls' dual meet of 1930 summer aquatic season in the Southland takes place tomorrow at the Lake Norco Club where the Norco swimmers coached by W. "Doc" Beazley clash with the San Diego Athletic Club team. Among the Norco mermaids who will compete are: Katherine "Babe" Walton, Louise Waugh, Phyllis Bell, and Eunice Berman. San Diego is sending Virginia Isaccson, her sister Margaret, Martha Chasey, Ann Chasey, Babe Drake, Rebecca Fiak and Louise Barry to the lake club for the meet.

JONES REACHES BRITISH FINALS

have watched the Jones campaign this week for the British title were all primed for the all-American clash between Bobby and George in the afternoon, but they hardly expected an epic duel with thrust and parry at every hole, increasing in intensity and suspense to the very last green, where 6000 wildly excited persons saw the finish.

If Jones wins tomorrow he must recall a fifteen-foot putt at the seventeenth, where with a birdie four at this treacherous 467-yard hole he gained a half when Voigt's ball was only inches from the cup.

MISSES BIRDIE

Jones won the match at the eighteenth, where Voigt misjudged the distance and his iron stopped in the "valley of sin," a deep pit in the putting surface with a steep rise to the level of the cup. Jones had made a great iron shot to the green, on the flag all the way, and he just missed a birdie three, to win the hole with a par four to Voigt's five.

Jones and Voigt maneuvered for the advantage on the outward half, but neither could gain it, and they turned level, each in 37.

Then Bobby played the short "Eden" eleventh loosely and Voigt stepped out ahead for the first time in the match. When George added the thirteenth and had a two-point lead, Bobby was playing as Britons never thought he could play. After cutting his drive and making a poor second, he banged his club against the ground in ire, but worse was still to come.

His ball for his third shot rested just before the gaping "Lion's Mouth" bunker, Jones then completely baffled a mashie pitch. He saved himself a six by sending a twelve-foot putt home for a 5 but it did him no good, for Voigt holed out from six feet for a four and was 2 up.

Bobby then began to play the game British fans recognize as "Jones golf." At the 371-yard fourteenth he was home with a sensational brassie and scored an easy birdie four while Voigt, with a ball out of bounds from the tee, never had a chance to keep step with him on the hole.

MATCH SQUARED

The fifteenth was halved in poor fives, each missing putts, and then Jones squared matters at the sixteenth, when he was down in par four while Voigt, who was trapped, had to have five.

The seventeenth was halved in birdie fours as Jones made his great putt when Voigt seemed certain to win the hole and became dormie.

Jones's final par of the day was good enough to take the home hole and the match, when Voigt could not get his four-foot putt down.

George swung his aluminum putter to perfection until he failed to hole his final putt to keep the match alive.

"You putted marvelously," an admirer exclaimed, as Voigt, left the green.

"I only wanted that last one to drop," was the reply.

Tomorrow's thirty-six hole battle not only will array the men who captained the 1930 Walker Cup teams, but they are both former amateur champions of their countries, Wethered winning the British title in 1922. Wethered never has won the British open, but he tied for the title with Jock Hutchison in 1921, losing on a play-off. He would have won without the replay had he not stopped on his ball.

Quarter-final round:
George Voigt, New York, defeated William Hutton, West Cheshire, 2 and 4.
Robert T. Jones, Jr., Atlanta, defeated Eric W. Fiddian, Hourprideaux, 4 and 3.
Roger Wethered, London, defeated Henry Howell, Wales, 4 and 3.
Dieter Hartley, Chislehurst, defeated Douglas Grant, London and New York, 1 up, nineteen holes.
Semifinal round:
Jones defeated Voigt, 1 up.
Wethered defeated Hartley, 2 and 1.

Santa Monica Holds Yacht Races Today

SANTA MONICA, May 30. (Exclusive)—Fleets of white-sailed yachts from San Pedro and other harbors along the Coast, will dot the waters of Santa Monica Bay tomorrow, when some of Southern California's prominent yachtsmen enter their crack boats for a race from Keeler's shelter, fifteen miles north of this city, on the Malibu coast, to a point off Crystal Pier, Ocean Park. The race is to start at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and the yachts will sail to Ocean Park and return to the starting point. The Santa Monica Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the event, and four prizes are at stake. They are the Santa Monica perpetual trophy for boats of the forty-five-foot class, a perpetual trophy for large cruisers, one for small racing yachts and one for large racing yachts. The trophies are g

Ehmke to be Dropped So

PHILADELPHIA, May 30. Howard Ehmke, veteran hander of the Athletics and hero of the first world series between the Athletics and the Cubs last fall, apparently is on the way out of the majors.

Manager Connie Mack announced tonight that the big pitcher would be given his unconditional release as soon as the necessary waivers are received from the other American League clubs.

"I think his arm is gone," Mack said. "Under the rules, if any club should claim him, I would have to notify them of this fact. I would not have to let Ehmke go, but I believe in a fine character, but I must make room for an extra man who will be of more use to us."

Should Ehmke be voted out of the majors it will mark the end of a pitching career which began in Los Angeles in 1914 and which included fourteen years in the major leagues.

BRAVES COLLECT

BOSTON, May 30. (AP)—The power to come from behind in the ninth inning gave the Boston Braves a double victory over the New York Giants today. The score of each game was 6 to 5.

George Sisler's single in the last inning of the opener drove two runs across the plate and gave the Braves their first triumph of the day. After Wally Berger's twelfth homer had tied the score with three runs in the eighth, doubles by Spohrer and McGuire in the ninth gave the tribe a second victory.

Zachary, former Yankee pitcher, started the first game for the Braves and made a home run off Pruett on the first ball pitched.

Portland Wins Two from Oaks

PORTLAND, May 30. (Exclusive) Giving the home fans something to cheer about, the Portland Ducks won both games of a double-header from the Oakland Oaks here today. The score of the first encounter was 3-1, while the Ducks' edge in the second game was more impressive, the score being 6-2.

The two victories brought Portland's winning streak up to four and also brought them up to within a game and one-half of the Seattle Indians, who are in seventh place.

Sacramento is Double Winner

SEATTLE, May 30. (AP)—Sacramento won two hard-earned victories over the stubborn fighting Indians here today, halting two Seattle rallies in the nick of time to win the opening game after twelve innings, 6 to 5, and capturing the second, 3 to 0.

Camilli's homer in the third accounted for all the runs in the second game, which was seven innings by agreement. Vinci of the Sacs and Kunz of the Indians each allowed only four hits.

Seattle was trailing, 4 to 1, when the club went to bat in the last half of the eighth inning in the first game. The Indians tied the score by the end of the ninth and drove Tony Freitas, who had staved off their dangerous rally the day before, from the game in the tenth. Bryan finished the game.

The Sacs made two in the twelfth off Lamanski, who had relieved Kallio early in the game with two runs against him. Seattle's rally in the last half of the twelfth fell short one run of tying the count again. Hoag of the Sacs and Holland of the Indians knocked out home runs.

Maia Winner of Boat Race

Sailing over a nine-mile course the Maia, skippered by Joe Hayes and Eddie Fink, won the star-boat race yesterday off Long Beach. Harry Fisher's Dona Bertha II took second honors, while the Morning Star was third. The Dona Bertha I was fourth and the Actiee fifth.

One of the outstanding things of the victory of Maia was the fact that she defeated two boats with the latest creations in star-boat rigging, namely the Dona Bertha II and the Morning Star.

Tilden Not Drafted by Davis Team

PARIS, May 29. (AP)—Taking cognisance of reports that he would be drafted for Davis Cup service, Bill Tilden declared today that "the situation is absolutely unchanged, since I informed the United States Lawn Tennis Association that I would not be available for the 1930 team."

"I have not been chosen and I have received no further communication since from the U. S. L. T. A." he added.

A'S TRIP WASHINGTON

Al Simmons's Bat Aids World's Champions to Take Double-header; Yanks Cop Pair

PHILADELPHIA, May 30. (AP)—Led by Al Simmons's busy bat, the world's champion Athletics took the morning and afternoon games of today's holiday bill with the Washington Senators and cut the Senator's first-place lead to one full game.

The Mackmen won the first game, 7 to 6, after going thirteen innings, and copped a slugfest in the afternoon, 15 to 11.

Simmons hit a home run with two out and two on base in the ninth inning of the opening game, to wipe out the Senator's 6 to 3 lead, and scored the winning run by doubling and tallying on a single by McNair in the thirteenth.

In the second game, Simmons, who hurt his knee in the opener, batted as a pinch-hitter and hit Braxton for his ninth home run of the season with the bases filled in the fifth inning. This wallop sent the Athletics ahead.

Jimmy Foxx made three singles, two doubles and a triple in the morning game and two doubles in the afternoon. Cochrane, Miller, Bishop and Goose Goslin also made a homer apiece. Score:

YANKS ON TOP

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—The Yankees won both games of a double-header from the Boston Red Sox today, taking the first game, 6 to 5, and the second, 7 to 3. A five-run rally in the third inning brought the second victory after the Yankees had pulled the first out in the ninth inning. Boston's losing streak was extended to thirteen straight games.

Gherig drove out his eleventh circuit clout in the sixth while Reese's home run led the Sox rally in the ninth, which

PERMISSION IS GIVEN FOR RUN

Plans Are Completed for De Mar's Welcome

Many Athletes Work Out for Long Classic

Complete Rules for Event Will be Announced

Official permission from the city of Los Angeles to hold The Times pre-Olympic marathon June 14, was received yesterday by John F. Ness, one of the directors of the long-distance classic. The City Council officially adopted a report of the Police and Fire Committee to permit the staging of the event.

Robert Domingues, City Clerk, signed the order permitting the staging of the twenty-six-mile-385-yard race, starting from in front of the City Hall at noon, Saturday, June 14, and finishing in front of The Times Building at First and Broadway.

Plans for the reception and entertainment of Clarence De Mar, veteran Boston runner, are under way, Charley Keppen, director of the classic, announced yesterday. De Mar came west last year, and finished second to Harry Chaca, Sherman Indian, after a battle that lasted over the entire course. He has predicted that he will be harder to beat this season, as he recently won the Boston marathon for the seventh time. He had finished ninth last year.

A number of athletes took advantage of yesterday's holiday to practice for the long-distance run. Most of them work out at the various beaches, developing their wind, and their legs, by running for hours at a time.

The complete rules for the event have been drawn up and approved by the executive committee and will be published in full Monday, Keppen announced yesterday. Except for the time-limit, which is a new rule, the code is the same as last year.

BILLY ARNOLD IN RACE WIN

If the crash involving the six cars had not occurred, it is probable that Arnold would have smashed the track record for the race. The smash-up was so disastrous in its mechanical effects that officials slowed the other machines down to five miles an hour for four minutes until the wreckage could be cleared off the track.

Today's race was witnessed by a crowd 30,000 larger than the attendance of a year ago, setting a new record for the event. The weather was perfect for the drivers, but chilly for the spectators, it was frosty when they started, and the spectators shivered until Arnold flashed over the wire the winner in his thrilling finish.

1—Bill Arnold, Chi- cago		4:58:39.72	100.448
2—William Gerhardt, Detroit		5:00:37.18	98.854
3—Louis Schneider Indianapolis		5:00:30.68	97.241
4—Louis Meyer, South Gate, Cal.		5:14:07.07	95.253

10—L. D. Corum, In- dianapolis		5:51:39.09	85.249

The other ten remaining contestants were waved off the track after Corum finished.

CASANOVA MEETS VENABLE TONIGHT

Carlo Curtis moves indoors again tonight with a card of twenty-eight rounds of boxing scheduled at the Main-street Athletic Club. He has Sandy Casanova boxing the six-round wind-up. Jack Venable, a rough, tough 165-pounder from Oakland, will be the Mexican favorite's opponent. Casanova will be the favorite. He has won twelve straight bouts at Main street, six of them by knockouts.

Bobby Flores and Sergio Redam, bantamweights, will box the six-round semi-wind-up and Evans Fortune and William Keosabbain will box the four-round special. Fortune is a colored boy, the hardest hitter among the local 165-pounders.

Following is the preliminary card, all four-rounders: Lee Murchison vs. Gene Mullen, 154 pounds; Sol Ortega vs. Johnny Chrismas, 133 pounds, and Joe Saldivar vs. Henry Celaya, 135 pounds.

ARAGON, KING LEAVE FOR SAN FRANCISCO

HONOLULU, May 20. (AP)—Frankie Aragon of Phoenix, Ariz., and Trench King of Fresno, Cal., lightweight boxers who have been campaigning in the Philippines, left today on the Shinyo Maru for San Francisco. Young Nationalista, the featherweight Filipino who has fought in the United States, left the others here, deciding to remain in Honolulu indefinitely.

Diegel Plays His Chip Shot in Odd Manner

BY SOL METZGER

Leo Diegel has as odd a way of playing the wee chip shots as he has of putting. No wonder he gains the nickname of "Elbows." Diegel's putting has amazed thousands.

His chip is played in the same manner. Well over the ball, elbows opposed and pointing with the direction line. Then a sort of pendulum arm swing from the shoulders that sweep the clubhead through on line, picks the ball clean and tosses it high to the green, where its vertical drop aids in insuring a short roll.

Try his scheme some day when you are practicing. It certainly has a lot in its favor and it may be the means of solving this difficult problem of the chip for you.

Stop fooling yourself. If you are having trouble with those long iron shots, write Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for his free illustrated leaflet on "Long Iron Shots." Be sure to inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Northerners to Make Trip East

PULLMAN (Wash.) May 20. (AP) Eight of the Pacific Northwest's finest athletes will compete in the national intercollegiate track-and-field meet at Chicago June 6 and 7, with a possibility of six others making the trip.

"Hec" Edmundson, University of Washington coach, said here today that he would take Steve Anderson, hurdler; Rufus Kiser, miler; Paul Jessup, weight man; Crosby Pendleton, dash star, and Talbot Hartley, quarter-miler, to the national meet.

Ralph Hill, the new mile sensation; his brother, Clarence Hill, a two-miler, and Ed Moeller, discus ace, will represent the University of Oregon.

H. Hein of Washington State College has been promised the trip if he can throw the javelin 200 feet in the finals of the Pacific Coast Conference meet here tomorrow.

OHIO PREP RUNNER BREAKS HURDLE MARK

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Amsten Oliver, a 17-year-old Negro streak from Roosevelt High, Dayton, O., bettered the world's interscholastic record for the 220-yard low hurdles, winning his preliminary heat in 23.6, at the Stagg interscholastic today. The recognized mark is 24s. flat, set last year by Jack Keller of East High, Columbus, O.

MOORE WINS TEN-MILE RUN

NORWICH (Ct.) May 20. (AP)—Gus Moore, running under the colors of the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Harriers, easily led the field of seventy-two runners today to win the national A.A.U. ten-mile championship run. Moore has been the national cross-country champion for two years.

PETEE WRACK WINS RACE

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Petee Wrack, with Earl Sande in the saddle, won the $10,000 suburban handicap at Belmont Park today. The 5-year-old horse, which is owned by John R. Macomber, led Joseph E. Widener's Curate and the Wheatley stable's Distraction to the wire.

FIRST SHUTOUT

When the Hollywood Stars were crushed by San Francisco, 16-0 this week, the club suffered its first whitewash of the season. Ray Keating is the only Coast League hurler credited with three shutout games this season.

Sparring Partner's Teeth Knocked Out

Schmeling's Crouch May Produce Low Blows

Sharkey Has Good Workout With Braddock

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) May 20. (Exclusive)—There was a holiday crowd of nearly 2000 loyal German rooters around the ringside here this afternoon watching Max Schmeling punching away at a new sparring mate, Larry Bello. Larry was puffing and grunting and his somber, black eyes were distended in fright as he backed away from vicious rights and swishing, jolting lefts.

MAX SCHMELING

Suddenly Max popped him one squarely in the mouth. From the rear came a thick bass voice:

"Au backs, ein rechter und die zaehne waren lose!" Max turned and grinned. The crowd roared and Bello made for the nearest water bucket, a technical knockout.

The German was translated for us by a red-cheeked young aviator sitting next to us, Baron Koenig Warthausen, who said, "That means, 'Oh, boy, one right and the teeth are loose.'"

Max's powerful smash to the mouth knocked most of Bello's front teeth out. It was an impressive climax to a good, fast afternoon of sparring. Max worked two rounds with George Neron and another two with Lou Barba. He was in a constant crouch, always punching from the belt. In fact, if Max keeps up that low, crouching body attack against Sharkey it is logical to assume that in fifteen rounds of continual gunning for the stomach one or two blows may fall below it, as they did today against Neron and Barba.

SHARKEY HAS BRADDOCK GROGGY IN WORKOUT

ORANGEBURG (N. Y.) May 20. (Exclusive)—Jimmy Braddock got a big hand when he climbed into the ring to work with Jack Sharkey this afternoon, and it was this fact which produced the most interesting workout Jack has exhibited to date in his preparation for his battle June 12 against Max Schmeling.

Braddock, confident young fighter, with a terrific punch in his hand, began dancing around as though he meant to make Jack look foolish.

Sharkey feinted, Braddock missed a jab and Jack caught him off balance, coming in, with a right. Jimmy's knees sagged, an astonished expression came over his face and he stumbled backward. A punch would have finished him, but Sharkey saved it. Still groggy, Braddock climbed out of the ring.

OUTBOARD RACE ON AT STOCKTON TODAY

STOCKTON, May 20. (AP)—With the elite of California's outboard racers in attendance, Stockton opened its fourth annual water carnival and regatta today with more than a score of the best drivers in their fastest craft roiling after coast and national records on the surveyed course in the deep water channel in mile time trials.

H. S. "Ferry" Ferguson and a group from Lake Elsinore headed the Southern California invasion and the Pacific Coast champion found the best of the San Francisco and delta area here to give battle. More than sixty contestants are entered for the 3-day meet.

The competition will open at 10 a.m., tomorrow in the first of the class races and will continue until late Sunday afternoon, the two-day program carrying 30 events in practically every outboard, runabout and speed boat division.

RENE DE VOS TO MEET BRITISH RING CHAMP

LONDON, May 20. (AP)—Jimmie Bronson, American boxing manager, announced today he had completed arrangements for a bout at the National Sporting Club here in October between Len Harvey, British middleweight champion, and Rene De Vos, Belgian title-holder from the Bronson stable.

Negotiations are under way, Bronson said, for a world-title bout between De Vos and Mickey Walker, the title-holder, in the United States this summer. If De Vos wins the title in this match, Bronson said, he will defend the world crown against Harvey in October.

ANGLERS FLOCK TO AZUSA FISHING CLUB

Yesterday found one of the largest crowds yet to fish at the Rainbow Angling Club's Azusa branch, since the branch was opened about a month ago. Many of the members fished until late in the evening, having the time of their lives casting flies with the aid of "Moonlight."

The Rainbow branch now keeps open for fishing evenings until 9 o'clock. Anglers are enabled to fish with flies or bait by the aid of cleverly concealed tinted flood lights, which cast enough light for the anglers to see and for the trout to see the lures.

SHEELY BOOSTS MARK

Early Sheely boosted his batting average many points when he hit safely five times in five trips to the plate in Thursday's game. Sheely is batting within three points of the .400 mark and ranks second to Ike Boone as manufacturer of safe hits.

PLANS FOR PORT PROJECT READY

Specifications Out Today on Fish Harbor Job

Opening of Contractor's Bids Set for June 11

Dredging Work Estimated to Cost $75,000

BY WALDO DRAKE

Contracting firms will this morning receive copies of the Harbor Department's specifications on the Fish Harbor dredging project, entailing the removal of 300,000 cubic yards of material at an estimated cost of $75,000. The job will have the double value of giving Fish Harbor a much-needed twenty-two-foot depth as well as a 3500-foot entrance channel of that depth to accommodate the new fleet of large offshore fishing craft, while the dredged material will be utilized to fill Reservation Point, nearby, to its necessary fifteen-foot level. Bids will be opened by the Harbor Department on June 11.

The interior of Fish Harbor will be dredged in a fan-shaped area, starting at 165 feet at the harbor entrance and widening gradually across the harbor to the full 1400 feet along the cannery wharves. Approximately 165,000 yards of earth will be removed in this section. The 3500-foot entrance channel, running seaward in a southeasterly direction, will be 150 feet in width at the bottom, sloping out to 165 feet at the floor of the bay. A total of 115,000 cubic yards of earth will be removed in cutting the new channel. Disposal of the dredged material on Reservation Point, or New Deadman's Island, will raise that reclaimed area three and one-half feet above its present height.

Completion of the project will double the utility of Fish Harbor, since the twenty-two-foot depth will permit entrance, fully loaded, of the largest fishing craft now in operation.

WARNING ISSUED ON MARINE RADIO RULE

A warning that all licensed ship and coastal radio stations must observe the international regulations requiring semihourly watches on the international distress, or "SOS," wave and that the requisite silent periods be strictly observed in the interest of safety of life at sea has just been issued by the Federal Radio Commission. The communication explains that the commission has been advised that both ships and land stations have recently been very lax in observance of this important regulation. The circular adds:

"Failure to comply with this provision will be considered as sufficient grounds for revocation of license or refusal to renew license or for action leading to prosecution under Section 32 of the Radio Act of 1927."

Two more 11,000-ton motortankers are building in England for the Los Angeles fleet of C. T. Bowring & Sons, it was announced yesterday by Capt. Inigo Jones, master of the Bowring tanker El Oso, in port from Buenos Aires. They will both sail on their maiden voyages in October, the first to be named El Lobitos.

Hugh P. Fitzpatrick, well-known local shipping executive, left last night for San Francisco with the body of his brother, Eugene Fitzpatrick, who died at his Wilmington home on the 28th inst., following an acute attack of nephritis. Funeral services will be held today.

First bluefin tuna of the season, eighty tons, were brought in yesterday by Nick Mosich's eighty-foot purse seiner Oakland after being out ten days to undisclosed waters. Several tons were sold to the fresh market at 12 cents a pound, the rest going to canneries. The season ordinarily opens in June, but the record catch was May 29, 30 and 31, 1921, when more fish were seined than canneries could handle.

Nippon Yusen Kaisha's fourth new motor liner to call in seven months, the Heiyo Maru, is due from Yokohama June 3, on her maiden voyage to South America. She is 482 feet long, of 10,000 gross tons, has a capacity for 122 cabin and 550 steerage passengers, and her Sulzer Diesels give her a speed of sixteen knots. The liner gives this service five ships, and increases calls both ways from one every six weeks to monthly. Among the passengers is Lothar Persius, one-time vice-admiral of the imperial German navy, and an early exponent of undersea craft.

The week-end heralds an impressive array of major passenger vessels. Today will see arriving the Panama Pacific liner Pennsylvania with 500 travelers from New York, and the Lasco cabin ship Calawali with 277 from Hawaii. At noon today Lasco's flagship City of Los Angeles will carry out 160 travelers for Hawaii. Tomorrow noon the Dollar liner President Madison will bring forty from the Orient.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

...entering the tent of Achmet Zek, he searched the interior thoroughly. He tore the rugs from their places and scattered the contents of box after box over the floor. He investigated whatever else was within the habitation of the raider chief; but the pouch of pretty pebbles rewarded his search. Satisfied at last that his belongings were not in the possession of Achmet Zek, who had decided to secure the "she."

After that he would further search for the pouch containing the jewels of Opar. Motioning Chulk to follow him, the ape-man passed out of the tent by the same way he had entered it, and walked directly toward the hut where Jane Clayton had been imprisoned. He noted with surprise the absence of Taglat, whom he had expected to find awaiting him outside the tent of Achmet Zek, but he was accustomed to the unreliability of apes and gave it no serious attention.

...so Taglat did not cause interference with his plans, Tarzan was indifferent to his absence. As he approached the hut, the ape-man noted that a crowd had collected about the entrance. He could see that the men who composed it were much excited, and fearing that his disguise should prove inadequate to the discovery of his true identity in the face of close observers, he commanded the ape to betake himself off to the far end of the village and there await him.

Chulk waddled off, keeping to the shadows. Tarzan advanced toward the group before the doorway. He mingled with the blacks and Arabs, trying to learn the cause of the commotion, totally forgetting in his interest that only he carried a spear and a bow and arrows, and thus might become an object of suspicion. Which was just what happened! As Tarzan shouldered his way forward, an Arab grabbed him, crying: "Who is this?" at the same time snatching back the hood from the ape-man's face.

Multitudes Pay Tribute to War Dead in Ceremonies Throughout the G

The Gratitude That Lives on in the Hearts of Hundreds of Thousands of Americans, Residents of the Southland, for the Men Who Sacrificed Life and Limb in Defense of Country was expressed here yesterday in solemn ceremonies conducted generally throughout the section. Roads and byways were jammed from sunrise to sunset with cars carrying a reverent populace to ceremonies and cemeteries, while every patriotic organization embraced in the roster participated in the observance. Most stock markets, including the New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco exchanges, will also be closed today.

JANTZEN SALES AT HIGH POINT

Total for 1930 Fiscal Year Now Estimated at $5,450,000

Based on sales for the first six months of its current fiscal year, Jantzen Knitting Mills for the fiscal year to end August 31, next, will show total sales of approximately $5,450,000, an increase of more than 25 per cent over 1929, the previous peak year, according to a statement issued yesterday.

For the six-months' period ended February 28, last, total sales were $3,191,900, as against $2,505,789 in the corresponding period of the previous year, a gain of 27.3 per cent. Sales in the first half of the fiscal year normally represent somewhat less than 60 per cent of the year's total.

In addition to increasing its sales volume, the company is now in a position to take advantage of the lowest commodity prices since the post-war period and to supply an expanding world-wide market with a product that shows little fluctuation in price, it was pointed out. The price of the principal raw material, wool, has declined about 25 per cent during the year, while the wholesale price of the company's units is listed about 5 per cent below 1928 prices. For this reason a higher ratio of earnings to sales is anticipated this year.

Comparison of results in the last four years shows unit sales and dollar volume have doubled, net earnings have more than tripled and per-share earnings have nearly quadrupled. This record, according to the statement, is due largely to increased plant efficiency with the decline in raw material costs contributing to the higher profits.

New Exchange Issues Report On Activities

California Stock Exchange during the month of May had a total trading volume of 263,682 shares with a market value of $1,119,269, according to a report issued yesterday by Jacob Nathan, manager of the exchange. The average daily number of issues traded in during the month was 14.16.

Since the opening of the exchange January 15, last, the trading to date has involved a total of 809,221 shares with an aggregate market value of $4,997,955.66. The monthly records in addition to May were January (fifteen days) 32,596 shares valued at $141,188.05; February (twenty days) 100,741 shares valued at $617,457.12; March (twenty-six days) 192,171 shares valued at $1,387,176.93; April (twenty-four days) 220,021 shares valued at $1,732,866.47.

The most active issues in the trading for the year to date included Arkansas Natural Gas "A," 9450 shares; Bolsa Chica "A," 9045 shares; Cities Service common, 5790 shares; Cord Corporation, 3240 shares; El Camino Oil, 139,368 shares; Exeter Oil "A," 48,700 shares; Fox Theaters "A," 4275 shares; General Petroleum Corporation, 9700 shares; Forrest E. Case Earnings Running Ahead of Last Year

NEW YORK, May 30. (Exclusive) Extreme weakness in the agricultural equipment issues and in J. I. Case Threshing Company's stock in particular in the past few days has brought forth many rumors that the first-quarter earnings were below expectations and that the outlook for the remainder of the year is unfavorable. However, it is stated in the best-informed circles that the earnings of J. I. Case thus far this year are running substantially ahead of the same period of 1929, and that the present slackness in business is only seasonal.

Although the company publishes only an annual report and no sales figures are available, it is not unlikely that it received a good share of the total exports of farm machinery during the first quarter despite the fact that during the spring months it was seriously handicapped in its operations by the rearrangement of its tractor plant and the installation of new machinery.

Earnings for the year ended December 31, last, totaled $3,653,782, or $20.42 a share on the average number of shares, or $19.04 a share on 194,470 common shares which were outstanding at the close of the year.

DOUGLAS OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Navy Order and Expected Work for Army Indicate High Total of Unfilled Business

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Financial prospects of the Douglas Aircraft Company were given another boost yesterday by the Washington announcement of a new contract for torpedo and bombing planes for the United States Navy. Approximately $940,000 is involved under this order, which will insure the maintenance of capacity operations by the Santa Monica company for several more months.

News of this award by the way comes as somewhat of a surprise to the followers of the Douglas company, who have been looking for a similar announcement from the Army. It is generally believed in the industry that the Douglas company is on the list for a new army contract for approximately $2,750,000.

EXPECTED IN JULY

Formal awarding of this contract is not expected, however, until the beginning of the new government fiscal year in July. Trade reports have intimated the order would call for at least 150 airplanes of the general-purpose type, suitable for observation flying, light bombing, combat work and photography.

If this new business materializes, the total unfilled orders on new army and navy equipment this year would amount to approximately $3,690,000. In addition, the unfilled orders on the Douglas books at this time amount to about $2,000,000, or a possible total for the year in the neighborhood of $5,690,000.

Recently it was reported here, but not confirmed by the Douglas company, that an order had been received for ten military planes to cost $250,000 for the account of the Nationalistic Chinese government. In the past the company has built equipment for the Mexican army, the Peruvian navy and the Norwegian navy.

GAIN INDICATED

The outlook for 1930 earnings is indicated by the comparison of prospective business of $5,690,000 for 1930 with approximately $4,000,000 of gross business reported for 1929. In 1928 the gross business amounted to $1,960,866.88.

For the fiscal year ended November 30, last, net earnings totaled $403,364 after all charges, including taxes, equivalent to $1.19 a share on the 338,692 shares outstanding. Net sales for the fiscal year were reported at $2,500,000, compared with $1,961,000 for the preceding year.

At the end of the calendar year, the company reported unfilled orders of about $2,500,000, involving work for both the Army and the Navy. The Navy business consisted of the PD-1 flying boat involving twenty-five units, while the army work was for more than sixty observation planes.

In the last several days Douglas shares have attracted speculative interest on reports of negotiations with the newly organized General Aviation Corporation, the General Motors Aviation Holding Company. Advices from the East suggest, however, that only tentative conversations have been held.

BANKER PURCHASES COMPANY INTEREST

Purchase of an interest in the Hollywood Bond and Mortgage Company, 1739 North Vine street, by Edwin A. French, a banker from Keokuk, Iowa, and for the past seven years in the banking and real estate business in Southern California, was announced yesterday. The company will make a specialty of handling large bond issues, having New York connections for such transactions. L. G. Muller, formerly with S. W. Straus & Co. of Chicago, will be in charge of this department.

OUTLOOK FOR TILE COMPANY BRIGHT

PITTSBURGH, May 30. (Exclusive) — Operations of the National Fire Proofing Corporation during the current month are continuing at a fair rate, according to officials of the company. Conduit operations are good and as building projects increase with the warmer weather, the tile department is expected to pick up considerably. The company anticipates a good year both as to operations and profits.

MOTGOMERY WARD & CO.

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc., the second largest factor in the mail-order field and one of the leading retail distributors in the United States, has begun to awaken from its quiescent state, which followed its 1929 status as one of the most actively traded stocks on the exchange.

Operating from Chicago headquarters, the company has developed mail-order sales into all sections of the nation; its export department has further developed sales mainly to Canada, Mexico, South America and the Far East. For the past few years' expansion, however, has been through a change in merchandising policy of opening retail chain and department stores to supplement its mail-order business, in 1929 more than two-fifths of the sales volume coming from its stores.

Earnings reached their high record in 1928, with $17,704,000, compared with $13,027,000 in 1927 which had been the top figure up to that time. In 1929 net income receded to $13,434,000, a decline in the face of sales gain, and attributed to the costs of establishing and stocking 285 new store units during the year. Prepaying of shipping charges by competitors further caused a drastic slump in the company's mail-order business. Adoption of the prepayment plan by the company and adjustment of mail-order prices has since taken up this slack.

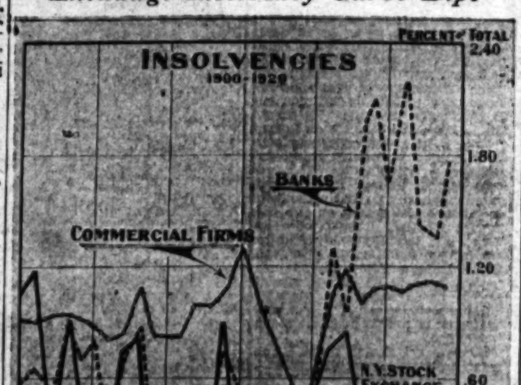
BANK OF ITALY UNIT OCCUPIES NEW HOME

The Lincoln Heights branch of the Bank of Italy today begins to transact business in the modern banking rooms of the new Bank of Italy Building, southwest corner of North Broadway and Daly. The bank occupies the corner of a one-story building of modernistic design, while two merchandise establishments complete the North Broadway frontage.

ROGERS LEAVES FOR EAST

Hartley Rogers, head of the investment banking firm which bears his name, left last night for the East. He will visit New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other financial centers to arrange contracts for new financing which is expected shortly.

Exchange Insolvency Curve Dips



Bank Mortality High

How the New York Stock Exchange over the last quarter of a century has, through self-imposed regulatory measures, strengthened the financial position of its members is shown in the foregoing chart. Back in 1900 stock-exchange insolvencies accounted for a large proportion of our failures. Now insolvencies of New York Stock Exchange members run much lower relatively than insolvencies either of our banks or commercial concerns.

TRADE REPORTS SHOW DULLNESS

Envoys Reveal Depression to be Universal

Argentina May Business Unusually Quiet

Australian Shipowners' Plight Unparalleled

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—The international character of business depression was reflected in the May reports to the Commerce Department by observers for the American government in twenty-five countries representing every zone on the globe.

Virtually without exception trade commissioners in Asia, Europe, Latin America and elsewhere reported a prevailing dullness of business conditions.

Some excerpts from the detailed review give a glimpse of the situations observed:

SALARIES CUT

Australia—New South Wales civil service salaries have been reduced one-eighth; Australian shipowners declare they are in the worst position in the history of the commonwealth and have refused to sign contracts with shippers.

British Malaya—Native purchasing power continued on the decline and there is a noticeable shortage of cash coming in from consumers. Cessation in rubber tapping is expected to react adversely to May business.

Canada—Business conditions continue generally quiet, with a slight improvement in industrial operations, though this is spotty.

Chile—The government's policy of reducing taxation under the ordinary budget is creating a better business tone. Downward trend in commodity prices and other causes has resulted in smaller wholesale orders.

EXCHANGE UNSTABILIZED

China—Troop concentrations and disturbances continue to hamper trade in North, Central and South China. A continually weakening silver exchange precludes import trade commitments, and until justments can occur toward placing forward business on even a partially secure basis.

Costa Rica—Merchants are heavily overstocked and there is little demand for luxury articles. Collection of old debts is becoming more difficult.

Cuba—The general tone is pessimistic and the tension throughout the Cuban business community persists.

Dominican Republic—Price levels are so low as to offer little encouragement to agricultural producers.

Ecuador—Imports into the entire country remain reduced.

Haiti—The general situation remains very unfavorable.

COLLECTIONS POOR

Honduras—General business conditions on the North Coast continue good, but collections are poor.

India—Foreign trade for April was considerably lower than in 1929, due to lower commodity prices and disturbed conditions in the country.

Italy—Returns for the first nine months of the fiscal year show central government taxes collected 2.56 per cent below those of the previous year.

Mexico—Dullness prevails in most staple lines, owing to low purchasing power in the interior.

Netherland East Indies—Generally unfavorable conditions continue to prevail but slight improvement is expected next month.

Peru—Depression continues unabated in Peru.

Philippine Islands—The usual April decline is adding to the general depression prevailing since last year.

Porto Rico—During the last two months economic conditions have shown undoubted improvement. Business in all lines is greatly encouraged.

New Zealand—Prices for products are increasing slightly and the general outlook is better than at this time last month.

Trinidad—Business slow.

Kansas Utility Bonds Offered

Public offering of $18,000,000 Kansas Gas and Electric Company first mortgage bonds, 4 1-2 per cent series, due 1980, is being made by Dillon, Read & Co. at 93 1-2 and interest to yield about 4.85 per cent. The proceeds are to be used in connection with the redemption on September 1, next, of all the company's first mortgage sinking fund 6 per cent gold bonds, Series A, $14,000,000 now outstanding.

The utility supplies at retail electric power and light service to fifty communities in Kansas and also supplies at wholesale electricity to thirty additional communities in that State for retail distribution by others. Net income before interest and appropriations for renewals and replacements for the twelve months ended April 30, last, was $3,045,011, equivalent to about 4.2 times the annual interest of the new bonds and to 3.3 times the sum of such interest and the annual interest on the company's outstanding $3,000,000 gold debenture bonds.

ANALYZES THERMOID

R. L. Dunn, Jr. & Co. has issued for general distribution a report analyzing the growth and present position of the Thermoid Company, it was stated yesterday by Irving Eddels, Los Angeles resident manager for the local house.

CHILE COPPER PROFITS HIGH

Annual Report for 1929 Held to Show Foresight of Anaconda Chief in Acquiring Property

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, May 30.—When John D. Ryan and his associates of the Anaconda Copper Company bought the Chile Copper Company there were some stockholders who questioned the wisdom of the move. But that day is long since past. The investments of the Anaconda Copper Company in Chile have extraordinarily demonstrated the foresight and wisdom of the company's management, for the Chile Copper Company has proved a veritable a veritable gold mine for Anaconda.

The report of the Chile Copper Company for 1929, just published, shows that this great company produced copper for 4.744 cents per pound and made an operating profit of 13.431 cents on every pound of copper sold. And it sold 212,500,000 ponds, at an average of 18.175 cents per pound.

Right now, with copper at 12.421 cents per pound (according to the Engineering and Mining Journal of the 23rd inst.,) the Chile Copper Company product can still make better than 7½ cents per pound in operating profit. So Anaconda stockholders have grounds for encouragement even in these times of dropping copper prices.

Three of Mr. Kreuger's statements stand out:

(1.) The Stockholm Stock Exchange does not deal in the securities of a single company whose business is less than twenty years old. No undigested securities here.

(2.) Of the fifty-four different companies, whose stocks are quoted there, every one paid dividends for 1929. No industrial Swedish bond issue offered to the public in the last forty years has ever been a default.

(3.) Swedish industry is international. Out of twenty companies in the world, the most strongly entrenched in foreign fields, five or six are Swedish.

"Business may be down throughout the world, but Swedish industry has not noticed it yet. Our business activities for 1930 are fully up to the record of last year. And we have not changed our tariff walls since the war," were his concluding remarks.

Plenty to think about here.

Net Earnings of Corporation Group Lower

Although aggregate net income for the 345 industrial, public utility and railroad companies which have thus far reported was 29 per cent smaller in the first quarter of 1930 than 1929, ninety-three of these concerns were, nevertheless, able to show increased earnings, according to a recent survey of the Standard Statistics Company of New York.

The better situated lines include cigarette, motion picture, food, natural gas, electric power and certain miscellaneous industries. The same condition is likely to prevail during the second and third quarters. A tabulation of changes by industries follows:

DEMAND ON WOOL MART IMPROVES

Weekly Review Reports Buying Activity Gains and Prices Firming

BOSTON, May 30. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston tomorrow will say:

There is a broader demand for wool in the eastern seaboard markets and prices are firmer, though not quotably dearer this week. Demand favors chiefly the fine wools still but there is more demand for quarter and half-blood combing wools and some interest at length, in three-eighths combing. Woolen wools still are rather slow.

Buying is expanding in the West and rather more than half of the domestic clip is believed to have been sold or consigned to date. Prices are showing a slight upward tendency in some sections of the West, with best fine staple clips costing right around 70 cents, clean basis, landed in Boston.

The foreign markets are generally firm this week.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to May 28, 1930, inclusive, were 55,712,000 pounds, against 76,278,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to May 28, 1930, inclusive, were 88,077,400 pounds, against 98,161,385 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Scoured basis: Texas—Fine 12 months (selected,) 73@76; fine, short 12 months, 70@72; fine 8 months, 68@70. California—Northern, 65@67; middle county, 63@65; southern, 60@62. Oregon—Fine and F. M. staple, 72@75; fine and F. M. Fr. combing, 70@72; fine and F. M. clothing, 63@67; valley No. 2, 67@68.

STOCK LIST IN UPWARD MOVE

Short Week Closes With Marked Firmness

Money Easy With Exchange Rate 3 Per Cent

Promising Expansion in Reserve Credit

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—The current week has contributed little or nothing of importance or interest to the financial markets, security traders called it a week after the close of business on Thursday, leaving a stock list that was showing marked firmness in prominent places and a general tendency to move upward. The bond market was so apathetic that Tuesday's sales established a new low for the year. Commodities affected by speculation were irregular.

Money remained easy. The holiday and month-end settlement period brought some loan calling, but withdrawals were not sufficient to affect the New York Stock Exchange rate of 3 per cent. Time funds, which have been drifting slowly downward for months, touched the lowest levels of the past decade. The weekly statement of Federal Reserve member banks in leading cities revealed a further contraction of $78,000,000 in commercial borrowings, and also a fair gain in security holdings. There was a rather promising expansion in Federal Reserve credit.

TREND BULLISH

Stock market professionals shifted position frequently, with a preponderance of sentiment seeming to favor higher prices. Severe bear pressure against the farm implement shares early in the week and against the rails in each session was offset by strength in other groups.

The weekly reviews of the iron and steel trade reported virtually no change in conditions noting another small decline in operations and further price concessions. The growth of the natural-gas industry, which seems to be the feature of the news in the utilities, is being accompanied by a rapid expansion in demands for steel pipe and this factor caused considerable optimistic comment. Inquiry for steel from the automobile industry is expected to be maintained at close to present levels into next month.

BOND LIST DULL

The bond market continues to disappoint its supporters. Although the spread between money rates and the yield from the best liens is about 3 per cent in favor of the latter, the list cannot shake off its dullness. The bank statement indicated improved buying from that important source, but the individual investor refuses to be attracted. Bond men hope for improvement after the German reparations issue is out of the way.

Bank clearings for the country as a whole showed a decline of about 10 per cent over the previous week, with a much larger increase in New York City, commodities failed to show a halt in their downward course and the department of agriculture's index of leading produce staples was at the lowest level for May in nine years.

Weakness of the far eastern exchanges was based on the slump in bar silver, which touched several successive new lows.

The $7,000,000 increase in brokers' loans was accounted for by the rise in New York City member bank borrowings for their own account. Loans for out-of-town banks and for the account of others showed a rather sharp decrease.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Light of Western Stars." Out where the West begins there is romance for Richard Arlen and Mary Brian.

Palace, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th—"Devil May Care." Ramon Novarro gets shockling and singing both in a Napoleonic romance.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Soldiers and Women." Another robust romance of the usual sort presenting Grant Withers and Alleen Pringle.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Cuckoos." One laugh after another is had at the expense of those two clowns, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Across the World With Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson." Amazing incidents of these travelers' expeditions to the South Seas and Africa.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"The Big Pond." Reviewed in today's Times.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Devil May Care."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Criminal Code." A remarkable bit of somber artistry, beautifully portrayed by a cast headed by Arthur Byron.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Strictly Dishonorable." A New York success about Bohemian romance, which may or may not prove disappointing. Starring Margaret Perry.

El Capitan, Hollywd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Brothers." A sure-fire stage hit in which Brent Lyrell returns to the theater as two brothers.

Mason, Broadway near First—"The Importance of Being Earnest." Oscar Wilde in the parlor keeps conversation cracking in his masterly style.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Wound Stripes." A war curse finds Gethsemane in a tragic drama. Interesting but only fairly sympathetic.

Philharmonic, 5th & Olive—The Duncan Sisters. Something new by these two favorites, also repetition of their most popular numbers.

Vine Street, 1615 Vine—"The Great John Ganton." George Fawcett makes a welcome return to the stage, but in a somewhat time-worn discussion between capital and labor.

VARIETIES

ENGELS SHUTS DOWN CALAVERAS COPPER

STOCKTON, May 30. (AP) — The Engels Copper Company has ceased all work on the Calaveras Copper Company's property at Copperopolis, Calaveras county, and 300 men are suddenly without work. The Engels company has been operating the property on an option for more than a year. Work of sinking in one shaft will continue, it was announced today. Low price of copper is supposed to have caused cessation of operations.

FARM BOARD MEMBER ASKS FOR PATIENCE

ABILENE (Tex.) May 30. (AP)—Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm Board, today asked for patience on the part of the public while the board attempts to work out the enormous problems which it was created to solve. The board member was the principal speaker at today's session of the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here.

IN MEMORIAM

MARBUT. Miss Jeanette Marbut, my noble sister and beloved pal, passed from this life one year ago.

"I saw not the lift of the curtain,
Nor heard the invisible door,
As she passed where life's problem uncertain
Will follow and vex her no more.
I linger and weep on the threshhold—
The threshhold each mortal must cross—
Then I lay a new wreath down upon it
To mark my great sorrow and loss."

CONVICT AT OHIO PRISON SHOT IN RIOT

Killing Stops Attempt of Forty-seven to Fight Way to Freedom

LONDON (O.) May 30. (AP)—Guards at the London State prison farm today shot and killed one convict, who, with forty-six other inmates, attempted to batter his way to freedom from a cell block. The forty-seven were among prisoners brought here from the Ohio penitentiary April 28 after the Easter Monday penitentiary fire in which 320 convicts perished.

The prisoner shot was Sam Mazello of Trumbull county. Bullets pierced his head and heart when he and his mates refused to obey orders of the guards to stop the disturbance.

The shooting came as a climax to forty-eight hours of unrest within the prison. After the convicts had broken much of the equipment in their cells and began to storm the gates, Supt. W. F. Amrine gave the order to fire on them. No prison wall surrounds the farm, and had the prisoners escaped from the cell block they would have had free access to the outside.

When Mazello fell dead the other convicts returned to their cells and became quiet. Amrine told them he would stand "no foolishness," and intended that no further disturbances should occur. The County Coroner who investigated the shooting gave a verdict of accidental death.

MOTORIST MEETS DEATH

NAPA, May 30. (AP)—Ira R. Whitton, 28 years of age, of Sacramento, was killed near here early today when his automobile ran off the highway and plunged into a ditch. He is believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel. He leaves his widow and two sons.

También Europa Tiene que Afrontar el Grave Problema del Trabajo

WASHINGTON, Mayo 30.—No es los Estados Unidos el único país que se halla ante el triste problema de la falta de trabajo. La estadística comparada, correspondiente al primer tercio de 1930, formada por los ministerios de Trabajo y de Comercio, demuestra que es más aguda que en los Estados Unidos la falta de ocupación en la Gran Bretaña y en Alemania.

La estadística relativa a los sin trabajo en dichos tres países durante los primeros trimestres de cada uno de los últimos cinco años, demuestra, no sólo que los tres han sido afectados por la actual depresión industrial, sino que han sufrido más de ella los dos países europeos, particularmente la Gran Bretaña.

Al paso que en los Estados Unidos la inocupación ha disminuido como en 11.36 por ciento de 1926 acá, en el mismo período ha aumentado en un 12.56 por ciento en Alemania, y en un 30.89 por ciento en la Gran Bretaña.

En Mayo 1 de 1930 había en Alemania 2,081,000 personas, y 1,912,000 en la Gran Bretaña, sin contar las del norte de Irlanda que reciben socorros en la forma prevista por las disposiciones gubernativas que amparan a los sin trabajo. Estas cifras pueden dar idea de la situación obrera en esas dos naciones europeas.

Aunque se han publicado muchos cálculos, sin fundamento sólido, referentes al número de desocupados en los Estados Unidos, no existen aún datos oficiales sobre la cuestión, y no los habrá hasta que esté completo el censo de 1930.

Remitiéndonos a las estadísticas de seguros británicas y alemanas, observamos un aumento de los sin trabajo durante los primeros cuatro meses de 1930, si bien la situación alemana presenta ligera mejoría en Abril, la que no se acusa ni en la Gran Bretaña ni en los Estados Unidos.

R. M. Stevenson, jefe del negociado de Comercio Exterior y Doméstico en el ministerio de Comercio, que compiló las estadísticas inglesa y alemana, ha explicado que acaso se deba la mejoría notada en Alemania el 6 de Mayo a que ese país ha iniciado trabajos de construcción y de otra índole en el exterior.

NOTAS LOCALES

Los Judíos Observarán el Pentecostés

Millares de judíos de Los Angeles se están apercibiendo para la celebración del "Shabouth', o sea la fiesta de Pentecostés, que dará comienzo mañana en la noche, y que continuará hasta la noche del lunes. Servicios religiosos de interés para judíos liberales y ortodoxos se celebrarán en varias sinagogas de Los Angeles y sus alrededores.

Celebrada en su origen como la fiesta de la cosecha, llegó más adelante el "Shabouth" a estar en íntima relación con el suceso más destacado de la historia del pueblo judío; es a saber, la comunicación de los diez mandamientos, y la entrega por Moisés de ese sagrado código al pueblo de su raza. Hoy se da énfasis al mensaje del "Shabouth" en todos los templos reformados y las modernas sinagogas, mediante la impresionante ceremonia de confirmación que se celebra año con año.

El doctor Mayer Winkler, rabino del Templo del Sinaí, anuncia que veintiún niños y niñas serán confirmados en dicho templo mañana en la noche.

O Paga, o Tritura Rocas

Arthur B. Miller, de Arcadia, quien, al decir de su esposa, anda buscando trabajo desde hace diez años sin conseguirlo, va a tener ocupación fija en los dos próximos años, a menos que entregue $40 mensuales para la manutención de sus hijos, Carmen, de 14 años, y Ehrman, de 12. Tal ha decretado el juez municipal MacCoy.

Miller fue declarado culpable de no proveer al sostenimiento de sus hijos, después de haber oído la declaración de la señora Daisy Miller, que refuta el aserto de Arthur de que no tiene trabajo. Tendrá éste que ir a triturar piedra a $2 por día de salario, que serán entregados a sus hijos, si no deposita inmediatamente $320 en la oficina del procurador municipal, con los que pueda quedar garantizado el pago mensual de $40.

Sentenciado por Destilar Licor Prohibido

Durante las doce semanas venideras, no podrá pasar en su casa los fines de semana Joe Romo, pues ha sido convicto de uso prohibido de alambique. En un principio, lo había sentenciado el juez superior Desmond a un año de reclusión en la cárcel del condado. Entonces, Alfred Paonessa, defensor de Romo, rogó se tuviera clemencia para con su defenso, y el tribunal redujo su sentencia a noventa días.

La defensa arguyó más pruebas para demostrar que el cumplimiento de tal sentencia dejaría en circunstancias aflictivas a la familia de Romo, y el juez Desmond demostró aún mayor indulgencia, y ordenó simplemente a Romo que se presentara la noche de cada viernes al alcalde de la cárcel del condado, durante doce semanas, y que trabajara en la prisión los días sábado y domingo.

Northcott Has Slight Recovery

SAN QUENTIN, May 30. (Exclusive)—Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician, today said Gordon Stewart Northcott took nourishment and showed some slight improvement, but his general condition remains serious.

TARIFF FOR FARMERS SUPPORTED BY EDISON

PORT MYERS (Fla.) May 30. (AP) Thomas A. Edison favors a protective tariff for farmers and believes that such would bring about greater agricultural development and national prosperity. He expressed his opinion in an interview at his laboratory here today without interrupting his experiments with plants and weeds in search of a substitute for rubber. He kept steadily at his tasks, talking as he worked.

ATTACHE OF COURT WILL GET HONORS

Betty Marshall Graydon

GIRL TO GET LAW DEGREE TOMORROW

Fellow Students Earlier in Day Will Give Breakfast Honoring Betty Graydon

Betty Marshall Graydon, for several years a familiar and attractive figure as an attache of the Superior Court and for the past four years appraiser for the Probate Court, tomorrow will receive two signal honors. First, she will be the honor guest at the Mayfair Hotel at a breakfast sponsored by her fellow-girl students at Loyola University celebrating the fact that later in the day she will be given the degree of bachelor of laws by the law school of Loyola University.

When the ceremonies begin tomorrow afternoon at Blessed Sacrament auditorium, William T. Aggeler, Superior Court judge, will stand beside Miss Graydon and receive an honorary degree from the university, where he has been an instructor for several years. Judge Aggeler had his early law training from the young woman father, woman's father.

Miss Graydon at one time was secretary to the late Sidney N. Reeve, then judge of the Superior Court. She resides at 2406 Schisel street.

FOX SALES CONVENTION ENDS TODAY

Department Announced to Make Pictures in Foreign Languages

A departure for the Fox Film Corporation was announced yesterday at the annual convention of sales managers at the Ambassador with the organization of a new foreign department for the production of Fox-Movietone pictures for non-English speaking countries. The announcement of the organization of this branch came from Sol M. Wurtzel, superintendent of production.

The first foreign version picture made by the Fox company, "One Mad Kiss," was such a success, Wurtzel stated, that it was decided on maintaining a foreign-version department.

The Fox convention will close tonight with a dinner-dance given by Winfield R. Sheehan, vice-president and general manager, at the Cafe de Paris at Fox Movietone City, Beverly Hills. It will be attended by the delegates, players and studio staff. The delegates leave for the East tomorrow night.

BIDS WILL BE SOUGHT

The City Council has instructed the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for the improvement of Los Feliz Boulevard from Seneca avenue to Brunswick avenue.

FLYERS THWART FLAMING DEATH

Landing Skill Saves Lives of Plane Occupants

Firemen at United Airport Quell Blaze Quickly

Accident Only Marring Note of Field's Opening

Two children and three flyers narrowly escaped a firey death yesterday afternoon when the tri-motored monoplane in which they were riding over United Airport, Burbank, caught fire in midair.

Quick thinking by the pilot and co-pilot, however, prevented injury to any of the party.

The ship was brought skillfully to the airport runway and the quintet scrambled out before the cabin and wing covering was eaten off swiftly by flames.

THOSE IN CRAFT

Those in the craft were:

Bob Burgen, pilot; Bob Ridell, co-pilot; Richard B. Barnits, manager of the Los Angeles Municipal Airport; Frances Jones, 12 years of age, and Robert Jones, 10, children of Dr. Floyd B. Jones, 734 North Walnut street, Burbank.

The craft, an experimental cabin transport Ogden Osprey, had taken off during the dedication program of the airport and had circled the field when fire broke out in the right motor nacelle.

Burgen side-slipped to a perfect landing, keeping the flames away from the cabin. As soon as the ship stopped, squarely before a crowd of more than 10,000 persons, the fire raced along the wing to the cabin.

FIREMEN QUELL FLAMES

Members of the Burbank Fire Department sped across the field in the fire truck stationed at the field for such an emergency and put the blaze out before the gasoline in the plane's wings exploded.

The ship probably can be repaired, flyers pointed out, as quick work by the firemen prevented the wooden wing structure from igniting. The covering was burned from practically all the plane, but the metal fuselage skeleton and motors were not believed to have been damaged seriously.

Dr. Jones's children said they saw the flames in the air. They declared they were not frightened as Burgen came back to the field so swiftly and skillfully that they did not have time to think of their danger until they had been hustled from the plane and taken home.

It was declared by an Ogden representative last night that the motor fire hazard of the experimental craft has been eliminated.

AIRPORT OPENED

The blaze was the only incident to mar a day of ceremonies and air thrills that formally opened the new $1,000,000 United field.

Two air races, stunts, music, glider demonstrations and a dance marked the first day of the three-day program.

Twelve airplanes took off from the airdrome shortly before noon to drop floral offerings at cemeteries in and about Los Angeles. Seven others from Wilson's Airport, and twelve from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport joined in the Memorial Day tribute to flyers killed in the World War.

McADOO SPEAKER

William Gibbs McAdoo delivered the airport dedicatory address before massed formations of members of Aviators' Post, American Legion, Spanish American and Civil War veterans, Beverly Hills fife and drums corps, Burbank and North Hollywood fife and drum corps, and Burbank Municipal Band.

Between races, Col. Arthur C. Goebel went aloft in his Waco speed-wing biplane and demonstrated upside-down and vertical flying for nearly half an hour.

Eighteen Boeing P-12 pursuit planes and six giant bombers from Rockwell Field, San Diego, commanded by Maj. Carl Spatz, landed at the port and were on exhibition. Other commercial planes, including the Lockheed Sirius of Col. Roberto Fierro, which he plans to fly across the Atlantic; the speed-record Lockheed Vega of Lee Shoenhair; the transcontinental craft of Col. Roscoe Turner, were on display. They will remain at the port today for inspection.

The speed race for planes with 200-horsepower motors over a forty-eight-mile course was won by Peyton Gibson of Curtiss Flying Service in a Cessna; Lee Miles took second in a Stinson and Dick Dodds finished third in a Waco.

Honor Paid to Those Who Gave All

CITY'S MASSES BOW THEIR TRIBUTE TO HERO DEAD

With a prayer for everlasting peace in her heart, Los Angeles paid tribute to her departed war heroes yesterday with flowers and flags, the tread of marching veterans, the praise of orators, the crash of martial music and, finally, the solemn notes of the bugle sounding "Taps."

"Somehow, the whole world stretched out before us as these men passed in review," Dr. R. B. von KleinSmid said in his address to the thousands who attended the services in Exposition Park and saw veterans of all wars march past the grand stand.

The gratitude of the nation to those who served their country in war—some to make the supreme sacrifice—and the rededication of its citizens today to the cause of world peace was the theme of Dr. Von KleinSmid's talk.

"It is not what they gave, but what they might have attained that presents the larger aspect of the sacrifice these men and women laid upon the altar of citizenship," he pointed out. He then traced the sacrifices made by the country's war heroes from one conflict to another in order that the same institutions of democracy might be secure to the following generation. And he saw in this matter of citizenship not only duty to one's country, but the privilege to hand down to generations to follow these sacred institutions of democracy unsullied and untarnished.

"But this is an era of peace," he said. "Peace—peace is the everlasting prayer in every American heart. Nor do the honors and glories of peace detract one iota from the honors and glories of war. There are those who still believe that stalwart people cannot attain the full stature or manhood without the experiences of battle. They know not manhood.

TASKS OF PEACE

"The tasks of peace are not less arduous than are the tasks of war."

He expressed the belief that men can build strongly enough to avoid war. He did not mean to say, he added, that there will be no more wars. He could not agree with those who say that the way to peace is to avoid preparation for war. "It is up to us to see that we are ready for the war that might come," he said.

Among the tasks of peace he listed that of educating the people, raising the intellectual standard to the point where people will recognize the futility of war. Such people will, when the crisis comes, give the best they have in order to preserve their democracy, he said. Then, too, there is the industry of peace—a great factor. "The man with the dinner pail is performing a service which all too frequently is undervalued," the speaker said. "Those in the shop in preserving peace, prosperity and plenty in the land are making the future peace."

HUGE PROCESSION

The program at the park, under the direction of Col. E. R. Cheeseman, was preceded by a parade in which units of more than a dozen veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries participated. They began with the Grand Army of the Republic and ended with the R.O.T.C. organizations of the public schools and the Boy Scout troops. There were massed colors, bands and drum and bugle corps.

Among those on the speakers' stand were Mayor Porter, Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who sang; Elsie Janis who, on request, recited "Lest We Forget," and the following men who have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor: Robert H. Von Schlick, E. E. Lyon, Louis Van Iersel, David Hayden and Warren J. Shepherd.

BISHOP OFFICIATES

The invocation was given by Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, major-chaplain. Col. Charles H. Haskin of the G.A.R., read Logan's general order establishing Memorial Day; distinguished guests, including members of the local consular corps, were presented; J. H. Luke of the G.A.R. gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address; the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, C.N.G., played the "Star Spangled Banner," and taps were sounded by the buglers of four wars, as follows: W. H. Mershon, Civil War; W. Haskell, Indian War; Otto Mashek, Spanish-American War, and Jerry Quick, World War.

During the morning the Rainbow Division veterans conducted their memorial services at Exposition Park in conjunction with the Federation

by Harry Carr

THERE is no kidding about it; Los Angeles has touched bottom in the matter of financial deflation and is starting on the up grade again.

The Julian stock scandal, the crash in stock prices and the panic in Hollywood caused by the sudden change from silent pictures to talkies were a series of disasters under the weight of which the real estate market reeled.

SIGNS OF HOPE

The $10,000,000 sale of the Alphonzo Bell properties; good rains and the passage of the water bonds signalize the fact that we have paid in full for our folly and that a new era is opening. It will culminate in the Olympic Games of 1932.

Los Angeles is about to begin a vast new growth and it is up to us—for once—to prepare therefor.

MORON STUFF

We have shown less brains in planning for our own growth than any other large city I know of.

We have an imposing City Hall so masked by ugliness that it is lost. It was designed for a hill and was set in a hole.

The Public Library is by far the finest piece of public architecture in town, and is badly placed.

We have the old Plaza, which should be the center of picturesqueness, charm and color—and it is a cargo truck stand.

THE PASEO

The only public work in Los Angeles that doesn't show the moron touch is the new Mexican Paseo on Olvera street — which was planned by private enterprise and which still struggles under the opposition of short-sighted private property interests.

ASK MARY—SHE KNEW

Before we really start going again we should try to figure out the way. I am not sure that we couldn't turn over the job to Mary Pickford. The most enlightened plan I have ever heard for the future of Los Angeles is one that she wrote for The Times about five years ago.

TREES

In my opinion they should be flowering acacias. The acacia is a tough tree that grows very rapidly. In the spring it is a golden glow of feathery blossoms—absolutely so loaded with blossoms that you can't see the tree. Imagine what our streets would look like—long avenues of golden drapery!

I think tourists would come from all over the world to see such a sight. I have a row of six or eight such trees on my little ranch at Tujunga which become a Mecca for sightseers in the springtime. Pola Negri came out one day and said it was the most beautiful sight she had seen in America. Imagine a whole city of such widespread loveliness.

SHELTERING HOME GETS LARGE SUM

Announcement at Lunch of $25,500 Gifts to Jewish Institution Cheered

Two gifts totaling $25,500 were announced yesterday at a luncheon meeting attended by workers in the emergency building fund campaign for the Hebrew Sheltering Home for the Aged.

Amid continued applause, Philip Stein, one of the directors, made known that Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Getz have contributed $20,000 jointly to the fund and that Mr. and Mrs. Saenger have donated $5500. The latter sum was pledged by the Saengers prior to their recent departure for Europe.

Stein pointed out that the Meyer-Getz contribution was the outgrowth of a visit Meyer made to the institution several weeks ago. The visit revealed fifty aged men and women—inmates of the home—housed in old cottages that have been condemned as a fire hazard.

The campaign was reported as productive of excellent results to date by speakers, who included Judge Elias V. Rosenkranz, William W. Bearman, Adolf Sieroty, Emil Brown and President A. Mark. Marco H. Hellman, chairman, read a telegram from Mrs. J. A. Stodel, now in San Francisco, in which progress of the women's groups was traced.

The luncheon, given at the Elite, 633 South Flower street, was presided over by Aaron Riche, vice-chairman of the campaign.

ASSESSMENT MAPS GRANTED APPROVAL

The City Council has approved the assessment district maps for the improvement of Rosine Drive from Pico Boulevard to Airdrome street, the improvement of Rhodes avenue from Oxnard street to Burbank Boulevard, the improvement of Las Palmas avenue from Hollywood Boulevard to Selma avenue, the improvement of the Stoner avenue and Nebraska avenue district, the improvement of the Vineland avenue and Cantara street district, the improvement of Walnut street from Victoria to Lucille avenues, and for the improvement of the Gregory Way and LeDoux Road district.

"Times" Men Pay Honor to Tragedy Dead

Members of The Times composing room yesterday paid their semi-annual visit to Hollywood Cemetery and adorned with floral offerings the monument that marks the last resting-place of the twenty men who lost their lives in The Times explosion and fire October 1, 1910. A large delegation of intimates of the victims made the trip in accordance with a custom established on the first anniversary of the disaster.

The Times composing-room men paid this silent tribute to the memory of their dead twice each year, on October 1—the anniversary—and on Memorial Day. No formality characterizes the visit; the survivors merely place fresh wreaths on the solitary shaft of marble, give up a moment to meditation and then return to their work.

City Hall Tree Plans Revealed

Removal of four large pepper trees from Averill Park to the City Hall grounds and replacement of a cedar of Lebanon tree, at an estimated cost of $300, has been referred by the Park Commission to Supt. Shearer and Landscape Engineer Hall for investigation and report.

President Van Griffith revealed that a plan is on foot among a group of citrus enthusiasts to have the City Hall grounds copiously planted with orange, lemon, avocado and other fruit trees from Southern California orchards to allow tourists to see what kind of fruit grows in the Southland.

SUPERVISOR WRIGHT WILL GO TO ALASKA

Henry W. Wright, member of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, will leave June 5 for Alaska, where he will spend a month on his vacation. The official will carry greetings from Mayor Porter and the Board of Supervisors to mayors and Federal officials in cities in the Far North. While in the Yukon district he will endeavor to call on old-time acquaintances of the late R. F. McClellan, former chairman of the county board here, who, in his early days, spent a number of years as a prospector in Alaska.

HUNDREDS AT VIADUCT CEREMONY

Glendale-Hyperion Span Dedicated as Memorial to World War Dead

With hundreds of persons in the audience before him and scores of men, women and children lined along the great bridge above, Harry A. Towers, commander of Griffith Park Post, No. 353, American Legion, yesterday dedicated the Glendale-Hyperion Viaduct "to the memory of the heroes of the World War who paid to their country the last full measure of devotion."

The beautiful structure, completed in 1928 at a cost exceeding $1,600,000 as a memorial to America's heroic dead, was presented by Councilman Randall and response to the presentation was made by Homer Chailiaux, commander of the Seventeenth District, American Legion. He spoke of that organization's activities in behalf of America's welfare in time of peace as well as in days of strife.

The American Legion is especially interested in the youth of our country, lending its support to all movements which have for their purpose the development of the character of those boys who one day will become citizens of our great republic," said Commander Chailiaux.

Music was furnished by the Firemen's Band and Mrs. John Wise, soprano. The speakers included H. L. Nichelson, chairman of the dedication committee; Merrill Butler, designer of the viaduct; H. H. Winter, engineer in charge of construction; City Engineer Jessup, Hiram J. Wambold, representing the Central Business District Association; Hugh McGuire, president of the Board of Public Works; Maj. John

Narcotic Agent Leaves Today

Jack Dennison, for several months a Federal narcotic agent in Los Angeles, will leave today for San Diego to take charge of the government narcotic office in that city. During the few months he and V. H. De Spain have been operating as Federal narcotic agents in the Los Angeles district, they have made forty-six arrests. Of these only two cases were dismissed, while thirty-five convictions resulted and nine cases still are pending.

MUEZZIN TO CALL SHRINERS

Thousands Will Respond for Ceremonies That Mark Visit of Imperial Potentate

The Shrine muezzin call will be heard at the Shrine Civic Auditorium by 6500 Nobles when they attend a ceremonial session at Al Malaikah Temple, at 4 p.m. today in honor of Imperial Potentate Leo V. Youngworth.

It is on special occasions, when the head of the order pays an official call, that the sacred call is issued from the minarets on top of the Shrine Temple. Promptly at 4 o'clock a Muezzin, dressed as are the blind Mohammedans whose function it is to call to prayer twice daily, will ascend the stairs in the western minaret of Los Angeles temple and make the call to the sons of the Mystic Shrine.

Inside of the temple the Nobles will participate in a mysterious and sacred ceremony as the Imperial Potentate, led by the Potentate of the temple, Fred J. Wadley Jr., ascends the throne and sits in the oracle chair.

This chair, used only on such rare occasions, is one of the prized possessions of Al Malaikah Temple. According to the story attached to the chair it was taken from the tomb of an Egyptian ruler and presented to Noble Louis M. Cole.

Immediately after the secret ceremonies the temple will receive some 100 candidates for initiation into its mysteries. At 5:30 p.m. a supper will be served. Adjournment is expected at 9 o'clock so that the Nobles leaving to attend the Shrine convention at Toronto, may board their two special trains which leave the Southern Pacific station at 10:15 p.m.

Accompanying Mr. Youngworth will be 200 Nobles and their wives. The uniformed patrol, band, chanters and drum corps of Al Malaikah Temple, headed by Potentate Wadley, and other officers of the local Shrine organization, will form the escort of honor. Delegations from Honolulu and from San Diego also will join the party.

The party will go to Toronto by way of Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, Lake Louise, Banff, Winnipeg, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago.

HOBBLING VETERAN HAULS OLD GLORY TO HALF-MAST

While all other flags in the city flew at half-mast yesterday, the flag on the pole on the Courthouse lawn flapped merrily at full peak, some functionary apparently having forgotten that May 30 is marked in red ink on the calendar as Memorial Day.

On his way to a cemetery, where, it developed, he intended to lay a wreath on a monument to those of his comrades who heard taps for the last time, an aged Civil War veteral paused and glanced at the colors aloft. He looked again. Then he nearly dropped his cane.

He hobbled over to the flagpole, took off his black felt hat and laid it reverently on the ground. He straightened his bent shoulders in a rigid salute. Then he grasped the halyards and although the ropes for a moment seemed to be tangled in his long white whiskers, he slowly hauled Old Glory to a proper position of respect.

Newspaper reporters who rushed from near-by press rooms asked him his name.

"I don't keer for any notice in the papers, fellers," he said. "Just say I was one of the boys who helped Gen. Grant at Shiloh, and I ain't too old to help Los Angeles county show some respect for the comrades we left on the battlefield."

And the veteran went on up Temple street to catch a Sawtelle car.

THRONG AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Memorial Day Ceremonies Joined in by Veterans in Colorful Exercises at Arlington of West

By "Times" Staff Correspondent

WEST LOS ANGELES, May 30.—Supporting themselves on canes and crutches, more than half the 500 Civil War veterans still living there hobbled out of their quarters and stood among the 15,000 other persons who witnessed the impressive services at the National Military Home today. They ranged from 82 to 103 years of age yet all, despite their handicap, stood as erect as possible as the colors passed in review.

The program began at 9 a.m. with an invocation by Chaplain S. A. Drummond. Then followed the parade, in which 5000 persons, including veterans of all wars, hundreds of school children and delegations representing fifty patriotic organizations of the Southland, participated. Eight bands and two fife and drum corps provided the martial airs to which the marchers paraded past the main hospital building, that the veterans confined to wheel chairs might witness the spectacle through the windows. The parade was in charge of Capt. Rex P. Enochs, Reserve Officer Training Corps commander at University High School, West Los Angeles.

The day's oratory was provided by Supervisor John R. Quinn, Past National Commander of the American Legion; Col. John A. Hadley, governor of the home, and John Q. Morton, 97-year-old G.A.R. veteran.

Supervisor Quinn paid glowing tribute to the war dead, concluding by declaring the country is working to repay the living. Much as it would like to do so, he said, the United States never can fully compensate the veterans for their services and sacrifices.

Col. Hadley in his brief address urged that in the future the people of Southern California concentrate their annual Memorial Day services at the National Military Home and cemetery. The cemetery, he declared, is truly the Arlington of the West. There is pending before Congress a bill appropriating $50,000 for the beautification of the cemetery.

CHIEF HOLD-UP SEARCH WIDENS

Police Believe Gang Back of Santa Fe Robbery

Associates of Marion Nixon May Aid Investigation

Their Acquaintances Will be Checked by Officers

Adopting the theory that the bandit who boarded the Chief, the Santa Fe's crack train, Wednesday night, and robbed Marion Nixon, screen actress, her husband, and another passenger, and got away with $6500 in jewelry and $975 in cash, is one of a gang of gunmen who had carefully planned the hold-up beforehand, Captain of Detectives Seager yesterday directed the members of his police robbery squad to concentrate their efforts in a check-up on all persons known to have had acquaintance with associates of the actress.

Reconstruction of the robbery indicates, Capt. Seager pointed out, that the bandit boarded the train with the sole purpose of holding up the actress and her husband, Edward Hillman, and Ruby Keeler, wife of Al Jolson.

THEORY EXPRESSED

The supposition is that members of the bandit ring acquainted themselves with the movements of the victims and so planned the robbery.

Hillman and Miss Keeler both had compartments in the one car. Hillman's wife, according to her own plan, accompanied him as far as Pasadena and there left the train. Miss Nixon was wearing a $6500 diamond ring. Miss Keeler is said to have had about $35,000 worth of jewelry with her.

After making unsuccessful attempts to get Miss Keeler to open the door, the bandit went to the Hillman compartment.

After taking the ring from Miss Nixon and several hundred dollars in cash from Hillman the bandit stopped at the compartment of Robert E. Lehman, a Detroit business man, and relieved him of $175 in cash.

It took only a few minutes for both robberies and before trainmen, apprised by the porter of the presence of the bandit, could reach the scene the bandit had swung off the train at Mission Tower.

Description of the man, said to be about six feet tall, weighing about 155 pounds, youthful and of ruddy complexion, was broadcast immediately throughout the State. No trace of him, however, has been found.

A reward of $1000 for the bandit's capture has been offered by W. K. Etter, general manager of the Santa Fe here. Check of all pawn shops has been made by police, but Capt. Seager declares it is unlikely that the bandit or his supposed confederates will make any attempt to dispose of Miss Nixon's ring here.

HALLIBURTON PLANS NOVEL OF HOLLYWOOD

Richard Halliburton, author of "The Royal Road to Romance," who came to Hollywood for a short visit, will now remain here indefinitely while writing a novel entitled "Hollywood." Halliburton intends to use his impressions of the film capital and its important personages as the background for his novel, sketches of which have already been submitted to his publishers. The author-traveler came to Hollywood to confer with film producers on his other novels.

Chiropractors of State Open Session Here

Opening one of the largest meetings of chiropractors ever held in California, 700 delegates to the third annual convention of the California Chiropractors' Association yesterday approved a series of resolutions asking further recognition by industrial compensation boards of their signatures on illness and injury documents.

Working with nationally known leaders of the science, including Dr. C. E. Schillig, La Crosse, Wis., president of the Universal Chiropractors' Association, the delegates are seeking to obtain for California the same laws and representative State boards of chiropractic examiners contained in other States.

Among speakers on yesterday's program were Alan Bixby, who spoke on "Chiropractic for the Rehabilitation of Disabled Veterans," and Annie Riley Hale, national representative of the American Medical Liberty League, on the activities of the Seventy-first Congress on chiropractic measures.

Prominent among the speakers on today's program will be Judge Fricke, who will talk on criminal mental disorders and their possible cures. Other speakers will include Dr. Joy M. Logan, author and lecturer; Dr. T. F. Ratledge, president of the Ratledge System of Chiropractic Schools; A. W. Grieve, business efficiency engineer, and Dr. E. C. Fortin.

Election of State officers will be held today.

The convention sessions are being held at the Biltmore and will close tomorrow night. Clinical demonstrations are being conducted for both delegates and the public.

Week-Ends Jail Sentence Given Still Operator

For the next twelve weeks Joe Romo will be away from home over the week-ends. He was convicted of operating a still. At first Superior Judge Desmond sentenced him to a year in the County Jail. Then Alfred Paonessa, Romo's attorney, pleaded for additional clemency and the court reduced the sentence to ninety days.

But when the defense offered proof that infliction of such a sentence would place other members of the Romo family in destitute circumstances Judge Desmond amended the sentence, ordering Romo to report to County Jailer Peoples every Friday night for twelve weeks and to serve Saturday and Sunday in jail.

The remainder of the time Romo must work for his family.

CLUB TO GIVE PROGRAM

The South End Italian-American Social and Political Club will give an entertainment program for members and their families tomorrow night at South Park Auditorium, 608 East Fortieth street. Among those on the program will be Paul Cenci. Refreshments will be served. The committee on arrangements includes P. Stabile, P. Simone and F. Maini.

At present she is teaching English in the Beaver Country Day School, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

WINS DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST AUTOIST

Miss Elva Case

Miss Elva Case went to Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday all covered with scratches and bruises, for which she demanded $585 damages, following an automobile accident, in which she asserted O. G. Phillips was at fault.

"Look here, Your Honor," explained Attorney William M. Raines, pointing to the plaintiff's forehead. "Here's a big scratch. And here—" he pointed to her arm.

"Any more scars?" inquired the court.

"Oh, yes, some injuries about the knees—"

"Never mind," interposed the judge hastily. "Judgment for the plaintiff, in the sum asked."

The defendant did not appear in court.

OIL TARIFF SPONSOR TO PUSH FIGHT

Oklahoman Convinced That Duty Will Stabilize Petroleum Industry

Determination to continue a fight for a protective tariff on petroleum and its products was expressed here yesterday by Russell B. Brown of Ardmore, Okla., on behalf of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, of which he is counsel and executive manager.

Brown declared his belief that a tariff on oil will mean the stabilization of the petroleum industry and the protection of American labor and the consuming public against the gradual invasion of an alien enemy.

"We are determined to make the fight until the tariff, or its equivalent, is written into the statutes of the country and for the stabilization of all prices and the protection of all American markets for the Americans themselves," Brown said at the Biltmore.

LEGIONNAIRES TO MEET

Past Commanders' Night is announced by the Los Angeles Post, No. 6, American Legion, to be celebrated next Thursday in Patriotic Hall. Prominent Legionnaires announced to attend include Judges Yankwich, Scott, McComb, Sheldon, Bogue, Stafford, Blake, Schauer, Bowron, Turney, Guerin and Rosenkranz. Supervisor Quinn, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, City Attorney Werner, City Prosecutor Nix, Councilman Ingram and Sheriff Traeger. Eugene M. Berger is to preside.

LEEWAY GIVEN TO EX-SAILOR

Judge Hearing Divorce Case of Wife Defers Alimony as Husband Explains

Alimony leeway was given Harry W. Barner when he appeared before Superior Judge Guerin in divorce proceedings filed by his wife, Mrs. Margaret E. Barner.

"I just got out of the Navy and haven't as yet found a job," Barner explained.

"You are entitled to a little leeway to get adjusted to life ashore," said Judge Guerin as he postponed the case three months.

Freedom Fight Made for Gold-Star Mother

Determined efforts are being made by Richard Gusweiler, attorney of San Diego, to free Mrs. Ada Tenney, a Gold Star mother recently arrested by Federal prohibition officers for the asserted possession of ten pints of liquor when she crossed the border from Tia Juana.

Mrs. Tenney lost four children in the World War; two daughters, who served as nurses, and two sons. Mrs. Tenney was stopped at the border with her nephew, Frank L. McManus. A number of friends have gone to her aid.

Thirty-seven to Receive Degrees

Thirty-three graduates of the college of law and four of the college of music and arts will receive degrees at the commencement exercises of the University of the West to be held next Wednesday evening in Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street. Superior Judge McLucas is to deliver the graduation address and the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. A. G. H. Bode of St. James Cathedral, Pasadena, who in addition will take a degree of bachelor of music.

Among others slated for degrees in music are Sister Celestine of St. Mary's Academy and Sister Cecelia of the parish school of Our Lady of Loretta Church.

The musical program incidental to the exercises will be provided by Manuel Galea, Mirtella Clarke and Montague Machell, members of the faculty of the college of music and art.

Wife Flays Mate in Suit Answer

Mrs. Mary L. Spann wants it understood that she doesn't mix mange cure for her dogs in her cooking utensils, according to the answer to her husband's divorce complaint on file yesterday. In fact, Mrs. Spann doesn't even admit that her dogs have mange.

The husband, Alfred G. Spann, is accused of taking women to Tia Juana and losing $700 gambling with them there, according to Mrs. Spann's answer. On other occasions, he would run around with women and then falsely accuse his wife, she asserted.

MEXICAN WAR HEROES HONORED

Bronze Marker Placed at Avila Adobe

Participants in Memorial Ceremony

FOR the first time in its history Los Angeles yesterday morning officially paid honor to the memory of soldiers and sailors of the Mexican War on Memorial Day.

In a ceremony conducted jointly by the Historical Society of Southern California and the California History and Landmarks Club, a bronze marker was unveiled at the old Avila Adobe on Olvera street, showing that the historic house was the headquarters of Commodore Robert Field Stockton on January 14, 1847, when Los Angeles began its permanent existence as an American city.

Both American soldiers and sailors took part in the capture of Los Angeles under Stockton, and the two divisions of the service were represented at yesterday's program by Col. William Mitchell of the Organized Reserves, United States Army, and Capt. A. H. Woodbine of the Naval Reserves. The two officers were introduced by Dr. Owen C. Coy, director of the California State Historical Society, who presided.

Dr. John C. Parish, president of the Historical Society of Southern California, and Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, founder of the California History and Landmarks Club, spoke. The latter was assisted in unveiling the bronze marker by Miss Lillian A. Williamson, vice-president of the Historical Society of Southern California. The California History and Landmarks Club was represented by its president, Mrs. C. I. Walker.

To Mrs. Forbes belongs the distinction of having originated the custom of strewing flowers on the sea on Memorial Day in honor of the sailor dead.

...from the Spanish-American War Veterans, American Legion, Grand Army of the Republic and British War Veterans and Nurses.

The Elks' memorial service took place at 11 o'clock with the drill team forming an escort of honor to the flag and the lodge memorial ritual was given by Exalted Ruler Frank S. Hutton. The musical program presented was under the direction of Lieut. Harold W. Roberts and J. Arthur Lewis.

Rev. Bruce Baxter of the University of Southern California was the principal speaker at an afternoon memorial service in the park at 1 o'clock when a musical program was given by the choir of the First Baptist Church in the Grace Chapel.

WELCH CHORUS SINGS

The Gwent Male Chorus, Welsh singers, were the features of a musical program yesterday morning at the Angeles Abbey Mausoleum when a Memorial Day service was held. Rev. George Taubman, pastor of the First Christian Church, Long Beach, was the speaker.

The newly constructed Calvary Mausoleum was dedicated yesterday morning at a Memorial Day service conducted by Bishop Cantwell, assisted by Rev. Michael O'Gorman and Rev. Henry W. Gross as deacons of honor. Music by the diocesan priests' choir and the band of the St. John's Military Academy were included in the musical program.

Following the dedication service a solemn mass was celebrated and the graves of soldiers and sailors in Calvary Cemetery were decorated.

EAST LOS ANGELES

More than 2000 exservice men and members of service clubs marched in a Memorial Day parade yesterday in East Los Angeles to the Atlantic Avenue Park, where a monument "To the Fallen Heroes of All Wars" was dedicated. The parade music was given by the Union Pacific System band. The parade was the second annual Memorial Day celebration sponsored by the East Los Angeles Memorial Day Committee.

Special Memorial Day music by Cantor A. Silverman and the choir of Temple Sinai were included in the program at the temple. The address was given by Samuel Rummel, with Mayor Porter as the guest of honor.

Members of the City Club joined in a tree-planting service in celebration of Memorial Day in the Memorial Grove in Elysian Park yesterday morning.

The burial plot of the Pacific Coast Showmen's Association yesterday was the scene of a quiet observance of Memorial Day. John S. Lyon, chaplain of the association, conducted the ceremonies.

Dr. Frederick Warde gave the address at a service yesterday morning at the chapel of the Los Angeles Crematory Association, which also included a musical program.

MEN OF FIVE WARS AT MISSION SERVICES

A memorial service in which the veterans of five wars participated was conducted at the Midnight Mission last night under the direction of Brother Tom Liddecoat. The auditorium was crowded, the families of veterans and members of the American Legion making up a large part of the audience.

Among those who attended were fourteen veterans of the Spanish-American war, two Civil War Veterans, one Confederate veteran, three veterans from the Indian wars of 1877 and 1878, and seventy-nine members of the American Legion.

The program was in the hands of the American Legion and music was furnished by George Oxford, Taft Warner, Jay Keating, Harry Stone, Lyman Bistead and Lee Randolph. A dramatic number was given by Jack Bennett, and four veterans of the World War gave a drill.

Reneel Colby delivered the address, and after the sounding of taps by the American Legion a short address was given by Brother Tom.

Dorton, manager of the international banking department of the Bank of Italy at Los Angeles and an instructor in the Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Banking, will conduct an extension class on "banking for foreign trade" for the extension division of the University of California, according to announcement by Miss Margaret Wotton, executive secretary of the class department. The course will be designed for manufacturers, importers, exporters and their staffs.

CIGAR SMOTHERS DRUNK CHARGE

Accused Auto Driver Freed as Officer Declares Tobacco Monopolized Breath

One of the first campaign cigars of the year aided Otto Maier, 1411 West Sixtieth street, to escape trial on felony charges of drunk driving, when he appeared in Municipal Judge Russill's court for preliminary hearing.

Police Officer W. M. De Armand testified that he arrested Maier after a collision at Temple and Beaudry streets.

"Could you smell liquor on his breath?" asked Leonard Wilson, defense attorney.

"No," the officer answered. "He was smoking a big black cigar and all I could smell was the tobacco."

Judge Russill dismissed the charge for lack of evidence.

TEST TO DECIDE MIXED UP SUITS

County Seeks to Determine Status of 1000 Cases

They Involve Sums Ranging as High as $2000

Municipal Court May Get Ex-Superior Actions

Efforts to dispose of more than 1000 civil court cases involving sums ranging from $1000 to $2000, now pending in the Superior Court, the legal status of which has been in question since the Legislature increased the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court in 1929, will be made in a test action to be carried before the Second Division of the District Court of Appeals.

This was revealed yesterday when County Counsel Mattoon and Superior Judge Blake were designated to represent the Superior Court of Los Angeles county in the action.

LEGAL STATUS LACKING

According to the County Counsel the cases pending have not had any legal status since the Legislature increased the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court to try civil cases involving sums up to $2000.

Following the passage of the amendment the question arose as to whether the Superior Court retained its former jurisdiction in the cases pending at the time the new law was adopted or whether they must be refiled.

CASE EXPLAINED

The test suit which it is hoped will settle the issue is one brought by the Architectural Tile Company against the Superior Court and Judge Blake to obtain a writ of prohibition preventing the judge from dismissing the pending actions.

Deputy County Counsel Cushman, acting for Mattoon, contends the cases must be refiled and tried in the Municipal Court to comply with the new law.

SHOT FIRED AT EX-WIFE CAUSES QUIZ

Montebello Man to Face Arraignment Today on Charge of Assault

Accused of having fired a revolver at his divorced wife, Mrs. Nina B. Thorner, 212 South Maple street, Montebello, Albert Thorner, 35 years of age, 1503 Whittier Boulevard, Montebello, is scheduled to be arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, today in the Montebello Justice Court.

Thorner, according to Deputy Sheriff Hooker of the Belvedere substation, shot at his wife from his automobile when she closed the door of her house. The bullet, he reported, passed through the glass of the door about fourteen inches from Mrs. Thorner's head. Two small children were in the house at the time. Hooker subsequently reported he recovered the gun from a relative of Thorner.

Mrs. Thorner recently obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Contract Given Contest Winner

Ruth Doren, 19 years of age, of 1811 North Berendo street, yesterday signed a forty-weeks contract with Panchon and Marco, to be featured as a dancer. She won the finals at Loew's State in the beauty and talent quest conducted by all the Fox-West Coast theaters in the city as a part of the observance of Harold B. Franklin month.

RUTH DOREN

Miss Doren was born in Mexico City of German parents. She studied dancing there and came to Los Angeles three years ago.

Irate Husband Cuts Furniture

Bert F. Clark and his wife, Jane Clark, had an argument the day they separated, it appeared from the records of Superior Judge Guerin's divorce court, and when Clark got through wielding the family butcher knife, instead of there being a three-piece set of furniture in the parlor, there was a 250-piece one.

"I'm sorry, but rather than cut my wife, I relieved my feelings by cutting the furniture," said Clark, when questioned by his attorney, John S. Cooper.

Walk on Track May Cost Life

LONG BEACH, May 30.—While carrying a log of wood for a fire he had built on the beach, M. G. Proctor, about 30 years of age, of 935 North Emily street, Anaheim, was struck by a Pacific Electric train, and may die of his injuries. He was walking along the track and did not hear the train approaching. He was taken to Community Hospital.

BRIDGE REPAIRS ORDERED

The City Council has directed City Engineer Jessup to proceed with the repairs of railings and lighting appliances on the North Broadway bridge, the expense being estimated at $500.

ABOLITION OF PLANNING CHIEF URGED

Cement Mill Foe Declares Whitnall's Job Useless in View of Bell Action

Thorwald Siegfried, one of the most active of the opponents of the application of Alphonzo Bell to erect a cement quarry in the Santa Monica Mountains, taking note of the fact that the City Planning Commission is hunting a successor for Director-Manager Whitnall, whose resignation is effective July 1, has written the City Council proposing that the position be abolished.

Siegfried rakes up the squabble over the Bell permit, declaring that the commission, which approved the application, never consulted Whitnall but leaned toward Bell without the benefit of Whitnall's advice.

Since the Bell matter is probably the most important zoning case ever before the commission, Siegfried declares the office of director-manager is useless since this official's recommendations were ignored in the matter. He gives as his opinion that Whitnall is resigning because of the Bell incident.

"If the commission is going to decide such grave issues without consultation of its expert advisers," states Siegfried, "and upon personal and political considerations that threaten the ruin of the community, I think it would be absurd to spend the taxpayers' money for the superfluous salary, and it would be still more absurd to invite a gentleman of qualifications, such as Mr. Whitnall has brought to the office, to endure such an experience as has been referred to above."

Apparently the matter of the cement quarry has been ended by the sale of the Bell holdings to a syndicate which plans to develop this community as a high-class residential area.

SOLDIER HOME HEROES MARCH

tery and $20,000 yearly for its maintenance.

Comrade Morton, the G.A.R. veteran, delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

With the conclusion of the formal program, veterans and school children spent the rest of the day placing floral offerings on the 10,000 graves in the cemetery, in which they were joined by a squadron of airplanes which dropped flowers from the sky.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES CONDUCTED ON SHIP

Minute guns flashed, taps faded into echoes and floral tributes were cast overboard and dropped from a squadron of planes overhead as the climax to a colorful Memorial Day ceremony aboard battleship Idaho at high noon yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor.

Veterans of three wars gathered with officers, sailors and civilians on the quarter deck for the ceremony. Overhead protruded fourteen-inch guns which cast their shadows across the floral pieces surrounding the speakers' stand. Back of a group of Civil War veterans were lashed scouting planes, attesting the changing methods of war.

The services were opened by B. L. Hunter, commander of Navy Post 278, American Legion, who introduced W. J. Sterling, commander of the Dewey Congressional Medal Men's Association, as master of ceremonies.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was delivered by Commander Charles H. Hall, G.A.R., followed by remarks on the Spanish War Veterans by A. A. Underwood of Camp No. 43; oration by Col. Leroy Smith and presentation of survivors of Admiral Dewey's Fleet by Capt. N. Goldman, D.C.M.M.A.

The response for the Navy was given by Capt. Henry L. Wyman, commanding the Idaho. Benediction was said by Lieutenant-Commander W. L. Thomson, ship's chaplain.

HONORS PAID DEAD AT FOREST LAWN

GLENDALE, May 30.—Glendale paid tender tribute to the city's heroic dead at Forest Lawn Memorial Park today when the symbolic grave was heaped with masses of blooms and a bugler sounded taps at the close of the services that were conducted in honor of the city's war veterans. Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of Central Christian Church, delivered the oration and the Glendale Elks' Band rendered a number of patriotic selections. Mrs. Audrey Hall Billingsley, past department president of the Sons of Union Veterans auxiliary, read Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. The parade preceding the services at the cemetery included representatives of every patriotic organization in the city, with Col. J. D. Fraser, Chief of Police, as grand marshal. Prior to the services the special committee appointed by the local American Legion post and its auxiliary decorated the graves of the soldiers who rest in Forest Lawn.

FLOWERS STREWN ON SEA FOR WAR DEAD

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 30.—This city paid its annual tribute to the soldier dead today when a morning parade, starting at the City Hall, marched to Woodlawn Cemetery, where G.A.R. rites were observed. Veterans joined with school children in decorating soldiers' graves. All patriotic organizations, including the G.A.R. and affiliated women's orders, United Spanish War Veterans and auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary, Disabled American War Veterans and auxiliary and the American Legion, were in the long line of march. Boy and Girl Scouts and city officials were prominent in the throng.

At noon the Women's Relief Corps served luncheon in Patriotic Hall and in the afternoon a flower-strewing ceremony was observed on the Ocean Park pier, blossoms being spread on the waves in tribute of those who died at sea. The final program was at the Municipal Auditorium, Ocean Park, where Harold T. Garrick, Commander of the Santa Monica American Legion post, was master of ceremonies.

W. F. Brasswell gave the memorial address and Comrade H. B. Steward read Gen. John A. Logan's Memorial Day orders. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by J. C. Millman. Rev. E. J. Bradner delivered the opening prayer and benediction. E. J. Driscoll related a true Civil War story. The Santa Monica Municipal Band played patriotic airs and Billy Lennon, boy tenor, was the soloist.

PASADENANS OBSERVE DAY AT CITY PARK

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 30.—Reaffirmation by Americans of their confidence in the government of the United States is the surest way to build the widest road to peace, asserted Montaville Flowers, author and lecturer who delivered the principal address at formal Memorial Day observances attended by 3000 persons in Memorial Park.

John McDonald, G.A.R. veteran who has served as program chairman for local Memorial Day exercises for thirty years, presided and introduced speakers and musicians.

A large gold star was placed on the symbolic grave of the "Unknown Soldier," by Mrs. Anna Jones Field, president of the Woman's Relief Corps, as a tribute to Gold Star Mothers who decorated the graves of their sons in France today.

Prof. R. L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors, dedicated the new Memorial Park outdoor stage which has been named "The Gold Shell" because of its shape and golden exterior.

Prior to the patriotic parade this morning, members of Pasadena Post, No. 13, American Legion, held Memorial services in the post's clubhouse, 131 North Marengo avenue, for their dead comrades in arms.

A special tribute was paid to memories of the following five local Legionnaires who have "gone west" during the last year: Antone Geiger, Frederick J. Walker, Herbert A. Bream, William E. O'Donnell and Stephen A. Jamieson.

School to Give "Jeanne d'Arc"

"Jeanne d'Arc," a pageant in six episodes by Percy Mackaye, will be presented by pupils of Roosevelt High School June 6 in the school auditorium, 450 South Pickett street. A cast of 200 will participate. The title role is to be played by Margaret Barton. Rehearsals are proceeding under direction of Camilla C. Gear, dramatics instructor.

This is just a reminder—send your old carpets today to the Hoffman Rug Works of 2914 W. Jefferson street to have them made into fluff rugs! This excellent concern also makes colonial rugs from rags and charges very modest prices. EMpire 2048 is the phone number.

A handy twine holder is a small funnel, suspended from the kitchen wall in a convenient place by the small ring attached to it, place the ball of twine inside and run the end of the string through the funnel end.

A dessert which is "different" is hard to find so in giving you this one today you are having a sweet which is decidedly out of the ordinary. This recipe calls for Guasti concentrated grape juice with which I am sure most of my readers are familiar—and if they have not used this most excellent product of the Italian Vineyard Company, I hope they will at once make themselves acquainted with it, because it's wonderful for desserts of all kinds and make such splendid beverages . . . as a matter of fact you will find it indispensable in the summer time, especially for cooling drinks. All better stores sell Guasti concentrated grape juice so I feel certain you will have no difficulty in buying it.

Grape Maraschino Tapioca: One-half cupful Guasti concentrated grape juice, one and one-half cupfuls of water, five tablespoonfuls of tapioca, ten maraschino cherries, two tablespoonfuls of cherry juice, one-half cupful chopped nuts, one cup whipped cream, pinch salt. Cook grape juice, cherry juice and water with tapioca until tapioca is clear. Cool and add nuts and cherries. When cold add whipped cream.

Now is the time to have your overstuffed furniture reupholstered! Let me suggest that you have H. E. Simank of 725 W. 9th street do the work for you. Mr. Simank is a past master in the art, you know. He also can design special pieces of furniture for you—and I might add carries a large line of foreign as well as domestic fabrics. TUcker 2482 is his phone number.

For a burn, mix equal parts of white of egg and olive oil, apply at once and cover with a piece of old linen and no blister will result. Or, apply baking soda, cover with a cloth and keep it wet with cold water.

If towels are laundered at home there comes a time when some sort of whitening process is necessary. Place the towels in a boiler of cold water to which has been added white soap flakes and the juice of one lemon. Set a low burner and gradually let the water come to a boil. Wash and rinse well and hang while very wet in the direct sunlight.

Always frame your photographs as well as other pictures if you would preserve them properly—and always take them to one of Mathews Paint Company's stores to have them done in the most ultra fashion. Their made frames and their moldings are ever so fashionable, being suited for every kind of portrait, etching or print — indeed all pictures will find a suitable background at Mathews. Now that photographs of brides and graduates are the thing, take in all such likenesses as soon as possible, won't you? Mathews Paint Co., has three convenient locations: One at 1245 S. Hill, another at 1550 N. Vine, Hollywood, and a third at 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

A handy funnel for filling salt and pepper boxes, etc., can be quickly made by using the corner of an envelope, cutting off a small part of the tip.

Of course you will be going down to San Clemente—that's a foregone conclusion, and of course you will have luncheon at Travaglini's Cafe, San Clemente, another foregone conclusion, for having tiffin there out in the patio, a most charming place to dine, is quite the thing to do. And oh, but you will enjoy your repast! The food is absolutely delicious while the hospitality of the host—Mr. Travaglini, himself—leaves nothing to be desired. San Clemente is just a short two hours' drive from Los Angeles on the Coast Highway.

You should see and buy the unique animal-shaped bottle openers in brass at Otto Steinen's Cutlery Shop, 210 West Third. (VAndike 5791.) They have just arrived from Europe and make a most practical gift or bridge prize—costing but 50 cents. There are, as well, many other novelties for any occasion in this very worth-while shop.

Paste a large Manila envelope in the back of the cook book for holding untried or favorite recipes. A small card file index is also convenient and inexpensive for this purpose; paste recipes on the cards and file in alphabetical order.

If a cork breaks and falls inside of a bottle, put enough ammonia in the bottle to float the cork and put it away for a few days. The ammonia will either eat or destroy the cork enough to permit its removal.

Is your husband particular about the way his shirts fit? Now why don't you have them made to his own individual measurements by Arthur M. Werner, the Custom Shirt maker of 111 S. Spring st. (MUtual 1580.) Mr. Werner does such excellent work! He also does altering and repairing of all kinds.

A wooden box outside the kitchen door, with a lid on hinges, is a splendid receptable for the milk bottle until ready to take it in.

A fine table mat for hot dishes can be made from the top of an old straw hat; the edge should be bound with tape.

Old clothes you can't use any longer and miscellaneous articles you do not want any more should all be gathered together and sent to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 717 Maple avenue, TUcker 1203, which utilizes all these things in an amazing way. This is such a worthy charity—deserving of your patronage you'll find.

A good hot dish remover—Flatten out the sides of a 5-cent fire shovel and use for taking hot dishes from the oven, or, use a cheap tin dustpan.

Think of the simplicity of serving Mayflower potato chips on all occasions—and you know they are always popular with your family and guests because of being intriguing crisp and invariably fresh as can be. The Laura C. Scudder famous Mayflower Potato Chips be reminded, are sold at all better stores.

To cool a dish of pudding or any hot food quickly, set it in a pan of cold water which has been well salted.

TWO WOMEN DIE IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Four Other Persons Hurt Seriously in Series of Memorial Day Mishaps

A woman was killed and her man companion injured seriously last night in an automobile collision two miles east of Monrovia, deputies of Temple substation reported to the Sheriff's office. Pauline Eaton, 30 years of age, 6082 Carlos street, Los Angeles, died on the way to the Monrovia Hospital. H. W. McFarlane, 6806 Santa Monica Boulevard, was taken to the hospital suffering a basal fracture of the skull. Deputies reported that the car McFarlane drove was in collision with one driven by Charles Behring, 434 West Tenth street, Azusa, on Huntington Drive near Mountain avenue. Behring and two passengers received cuts and bruises.

Struck by an automobile last night, an unidentified woman was killed instantly at San Pedro and Thirty-eighth streets. Witnesses told Policemen Crum and Baher that the woman became confused and walked in front of a car driven by B. J. Tezle, 40 years of age, 441 West Seventy-third street.

The dead woman was described as being between 65 and 70, 150 pounds in weight, and 5 feet 5 inches in height. She had graying dark hair, brown eyes, and wore a green silk sweater and skirt, brown coat with black fur collar, and black low shoes.

F. L. Thomas, 30 years of age, and his 5-year-old son Phillip of 810 Santa Fe avenue, Compton, suffered probable fatal injuries, and Mrs. Thomas was hurt in a collision between their automobile and a Pacific Electric car at One Hundred and Tenth street and Central avenue yesterday forenoon.

Thomas was treated for a possible skull fracture at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. The son was taken to the Watts Clinic with a similar injury. Mrs. Thomas was severely cut and bruised.

WIFE OF LEE SHIPPEY INJURED IN CRASH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 30. (Exclusive) Mrs. Madeline Shippey, wife of Lee Shippey, columnist of The Times' "Leeside o' L. A.," was injured seriously today in an automobile collision at Alpine street and El Molino avenue, Pasadena. Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Eakman, 194 Mariposa street, Sierra Madre, with whom Mrs. Shippey was motoring, also were injured in lesser degree.

Mrs. Shippey, who is 31 years of age and lives at 61 West Highland avenue, Sierra Madre, was riding to Los Angeles in the Eakmans' coach when it was struck broadside by a roadster driven by Florence Pollard, 18, of 1600 Los Robles avenue, police report. The coach was thrown entirely around and slightly damaged. Mrs. Shippey and the Eakmans were taken to Pasadena Emergency Hospital. The columnist's wife was transferred later to Pasadena Hospital, where X-ray photographs were taken to ascertain if her left shoulder is fractured. The lobe of one ear is lacerated.

Maricopa Road Nearly Ready Up Vine Mountain

VENTURA, May 30.—Work on the Maricopa Road is forging ahead at a lightning pace, and motorists soon will be able to enjoy drives in Ventura county hitherto inaccessible by automobiles, County Engineer Charles W. Petit announced today following a two-day inspection tour of the territory.

Within two weeks, Petit declared, the first three miles of roadway up Pine Mountain will be completed, with a large place for cars to turn around, and a wonderful view possible from a machine.

This place is reached by driving up the slope from the Cuyama River Valley, part of the Maricopa artery, which portion already is finished.

FORENSICS RESULT TOLD

REDONDO BEACH, May 30.—Patricia Coates was awarded the Langworthy Cup as winner of the tenth annual declamatory contest of the Redondo Union High School yesterday. Laura Gibbs received second place and Martha Constad third. Bob Murphy and Orville Kemp were accorded honorable mention. Judges in the event were Mrs. Margaret J. Frick, Mrs. J. E. Duffey and Judge Sam G. Austin.

A radio telephone service has been inaugurated between Spain and Chile.

Today's Bible Text

For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.—2 Cor. viii:12.

IT'S A GIFT

Lives of great men remind us that the busiest people invariably are the ones who can find the most to do.

HELPFUL SURGERY

DESTINY

There is something inescapable, inevitable, in this march toward destiny of Fascist Italy, said Benito Mussolini, as the big parade approached him.

SHOWMANSHIP

Wilton Lackaye says the only difference between Billy Sunday and Aimee McPherson is that Billy thought of it first. But he will have to admit that Aimee has gone Billy one better.

NO LONGER A JOKE

From the report of the experts we should judge that "jake" was concocted from the formula of one of those vaudeville cocktails we used to hear the comedians tell about.

HOT AND COLD

San Francisco is credited with originating the style of wearing summer dresses and fur coats, but New York seems to be the place where the combination is the best guarantee against weather changes.

RAGS

A news item says that Lithuania is shipping rags to the United States. As far as we know, there is no tariff on rags. Evidently our prosperity does not furnish enough rags to go around for home consumption.

BY THE BEARD

Five youngsters amputated the beard of the Mayor of Fredonia, Iowa, and were sentenced by His Honor to attend Sunday-school once a week for the next year. Possibly so that they might hear what happened to some other kids who took liberties with a prophet!

HAEMOPHILIA

H. R. H. Alfonso Pio Christino Eduardo Francesco Guillermo Carlo Enrique Eugenio Fernando Antonio Venacio, Prince of Asturas, eldest son of King Alfonso XIII of Spain, has haemophilia. It is a wonder it hasn't proved fatal.

FOR SOCIAL WELFARE

Cynics often are heard to say that this is a cold, heartless world, and there are times when it seems so even to the optimistic mind. But that there is an appreciable growth of the altruistic spirit is seen in the increased amounts given by charitable people in this country to aid the distressed and in the furtherance of social and educational schemes. It goes to show that Whittier was right when he sang of "the steady gain of man." For in no more conclusive way can this gain be evinced than by the development of altruism.

Not only as the result of the increase in population, but also in the matter of what might be termed per capita benevolence does the growth of this spirit manifest itself. It is evidenced, too, in a large way by the liberal manner in which our Federal, State, county and municipal governments are taking care of superannuated and disabled civic workers and the poor in general.

John A. Lapp of the department of social science of Marquette University says in June Current History that public and private agencies for social welfare are now expending more than $3,000,000,000 a year in their work, which is now prosecuted on an enormous scale. It may be that the increase in charity funds is partly due to the strong appeals made by Community Chest organizations. But the fact that the people seem more and more willing to listen to such appeals indicates the growth of a generous spirit among them. Then, too, our public treasuries have more to expend for social welfare than formerly, due to our national prosperity.

The United States takes better care of its needy citizens than does any other country in the world.

THE EVIDENCE IS IN

Opponents of the naval limitation treaty have, it is announced, no more witnesses to call, and its proponents will not call many, so that it is quite possible action may be had in the Senate at the regular session and there will be no necessity for an extra session. According to Senator Johnson, "the case is complete and conclusive." The phrase is a true one, but not as Senator Johnson means it. All the testimony, hints, accusations, rumors, fears, distortions and the like have, it is true, been mustered that could be mustered against the work of the London conference and they are conclusive in the treaty's favor.

Boiled down, the criticisms amount to this: That the United States will have but eighteen cruisers of 10,000 tons, mounting eight-inch guns, instead of twenty-one; that it is permitted to build 143,000 tons of six-inch gun cruisers instead of 105,000 tons; and that, under the submarine clauses, the United States Navy could not successfully attack Japan in her home waters.

As to the latter contention, it is a criticism not of the treaty, but of the theory on which the treaty, any limitation treaty, is based. That theory is that any satisfactory limitation treaty will leave each of the signatories secure in its home waters. Certainly the American delegates would have been very remiss if they had signed any treaty which would not leave the United States secure in its home waters. The Japanese delegates were bound equally to a similar duty.

If the treaty did not safeguard Japan, or Great Britain, or the United States, against successful attack at home, there would have been no treaty. The Washington treaty of 1921 was based upon the idea that each power should have a navy stronger in its own waters than that of any single power that could attack it; the present treaty merely extends the principle. What fault can be found with that?

As to the controversy between larger and smaller cruisers, vast differences of naval opinion were disclosed, some officers attacking, some supporting, the declaration of Admiral Pratt, commander-in-chief of the fleet, that the smaller vessels are for all practical purposes and under conditions as they will be found, as good as or better than the larger ones. But there are few who will be willing to assert that the United States is going to lose any war, or even be seriously endangered, by being short three cruisers of the ideal number suggested by the naval experts.

It is being contended that the United States conceded everything and got nothing in return. This is complete nonsense. The fact is that both Great Britain and Japan had a head start over this country in the matter of cruiser construction and that they have forgone this advantage and agreed to allow the United States to catch up. That this forbearance was no doubt due in large part to realization that the United States could, if she decided to do so, outbuild either or both, does not alter the fact. The treaty permits us to achieve parity with Great Britain, and superiority above Japan according to an agreed ratio, upon a comparatively inexpensive basis; and it makes certain that there will be no building race, at least until 1936.

If the treaty ratios are less favorable to the United States than some of the Navy experts think they should be, they are more favorable to the United States than the ratios actually existing. The United States Navy will be relatively more powerful, as compared with either Great Britain's or Japan's, in 1936 than it is in 1930. In other words, we are gaining, not losing, in relative strength.

It is also being contended that the United States will not have parity in sea power with Great Britain, because the latter has more naval bases and more merchant ships convertible into cruisers. There is nothing in the treaty which forbids us to obtain more naval bases or to build more merchant ships. We are actually doing the latter, under the Jones-White law, and at a rate that will in time pull us up to equality.

Ratification of the treaty will have an excellent effect in several respects, not the least of which is removal of the suspicion of our motives which without doubt has been held in Japan. No sensible person believes that Japan has any aggressive purpose toward the United States or doubts that Japan's naval building during the last ten years has been defensive and created by fear of American aggression. However unfounded this fear has been it has existed, and it is an excellent thing to have it removed. The fact that the treaty makes Japan secure at home is actually one of its best features.

COMPLICATED MOTIVES

Queer paradoxes often spring from the acts of criminals and the consequences imposed by the laws of society. To the student of penology the present plight of the Wineville murderer, Northcott, presents some interesting points for argument.

Northcott's crime was exceptionally vile and atrocious. His life is justly forfeit by the laws of the State and the consensus of right-minded people. But though a convicted murderer he is still a human being and he is so seriously sick in San Quentin Prison that the doctors fear nothing but an operation will save his life. But to undergoing this operation the prisoner strenuously objects.

What would be the most logical course to pursue in such a case? Should there be some legal means for compelling the patient to have his life saved so that it may be snuffed out later on under the terms of his sentence? At present there is not. The law does not permit a major operation without the consent of the patient. So that it is possible for a convicted murderer to die a natural instead of a violent death.

On the other hand if sickness intervenes should the law consider itself defeated because the condemned man dies of blood poisoning or pneumonia or gastritis instead of of by strangulation or neck breaking? After all, so far as society is concerned the death of the murderer is all that the crime demands. Why not, then, permit him to suffer death from what may be called "an act of God" rather than to reserve him a little time longer so that he may die by the hand of man?

But, objects humanity, it is outside of our civilized standards to allow a sick man to perish without making some effort to restore him to health. On the other hand reason sees little humanity in raising a man from a sick bed so that he may be in condition to ascend the thirteen steps to the gallows.

In the case of Northcott what is the motive dictating the course being pursued? Is it sympathy for a suffering human being that would persuade him to submit himself to the relief offered by the surgeon? Or is it the fear that if nature be allowed to take its course the gallows will be cheated of a legally acquired victim?

BACHELORS

Bachelors in Great Britain with an income of $5000 are taxed $659.75; married men, $558.50. These two classes in the United States pay $13.13 and $5.62, respectively. With a couple of million more women in England than men, how do the bachelors manage to escape?

LEST WE FORGET

A BRIEF HISTORY
By James J. Montague

Lang syne in Caledonia
Some canny Scotsman said:
"This is no place for sic' a race
We maun look far ahead.
Our great grandchildren's children
In years that are to be
Maun saitch for health (an' also wealth)
Far, far across the sea."

And so he knit his eyebrows,
And scratched his shaggy head
And gazed across the gorse and moss
Where'er his vision led,
Till he thought out a pastime
That promised gold and fame
For many a "pro," and now you know,
How golf became a game.

His great-grandchildren's children
Are here in thousands now
To teach us dubs the use of clubs
And when to swing, and how.
And many thousand others
Are quite prepared to quit
The moor and fen and hummock, when
The quota will permit.

All honor to the Scotsmen,
A braw and bonnie race.
Who've made today our U.S.A.
A more delightful place.
The sons of Caledonia
In calm content may smirk,
But what care we? They've set us free
From too doggoned much work.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

THEY were driving out a suburban boulevard when they passed an artistic-looking wayside restaurant.

"That looks like a nice place," said the dear old lady. "Why not dine there?"

Sweet, Old-Fashioned Girls

"Slang is so old-fashioned," asserts an eastern magazine.

Men who like sweet, old-fashioned girls should find this section of the country a paradise.

History in San Clemente

Years ago some newspaper back East started a fifty-years-ago-today column, republishing news items from its files of fifty years previous. And since then many other newspapers have copied the idea. But in Southern California, where cities spring full-fledged from the Jovian brow of some subdivider genius, as Pallas Athene sprang from the brow of Jove, ancient history and our local dawnmen are much nearer to us. Witness this department heading in El Heraldo de San Clemente:

What Was Going on ONE YEAR AGO In San Clemente

Southern California Spanish

Driving through San Clemente and reveling in its Spanish atmosphere, one realizes how appropriate it all is when he learns that the place was built by Don Ole Hanson.

The Atmosphere That Clings

In days of the dons they built quaint old adobes,
Where fun and fiestas had permanent runs;
This new home of mine (after ninety more payments)
Oft brings me sad thoughts of the days of the—duns.

BYRON DUDD.

For the Class in Geography

Mrs. Olga McKibben, manager of a downtown apartment-house, wanted to know, the other day, where McNeil's Island is. "I called up two local newspaper information bureaus," she asserts, "and also called up the Public Library. All of them told me that McNeil's Island is in San Francisco Bay. What do you think about it?"

We thought so, too, and asked several fellows in the office and they all said it is in San Francisco Bay. But when we looked it up we found it is in Puget Sound.

That shows how innocent we newspaper men are. We not only have never been to McNeil's Island but none of our associates have.

Looking Backward

You laugh and say
You do not think the way
The sun shines through my pepper tree
To be Sufficient cause for ecstasy.

Well, my sun is in the East,
Lad,
And all the happy hours, to me,
Come tumbling down the path of gold
That filters through my tree.

VIRGIL WESTBROOK.

St. Francis of the Shopping District

He is an important man and his private office, in a downtown office building, is guarded by a long string of anterooms and secretaries. Those who get into it find it a very quiet and dignified office, as restful as a secluded wood. That suggestion of a secluded wood is enhanced by the faint murmur of running water, somewhere behind a screen which hides one corner of the room. And from behind that screen sometimes comes the twitter of birds.

Most people who get in there, intent on their own business, hardly notice these things. But if you would look beyond the screen you would be surprised to see that though the shade is partly down over the window, the sash is open and fronting that window, in a lovely little fernery, are bird seed and a bird bath.

Every day dozens—perhaps hundreds, for they're spied on so little there is no way of telling—of birds alight on that window sill, look brightly at that misplaced bit of woodland loveliness, as if fearing they'd only dreamed it before, hop in and sample a crumb or two, take a plunge in the bird bath and fly away. Sometimes so many of them are sunning themselves on the window sill that it's dangerous to look out of the lower windows. A darting bird might collide with your head, or something. But the birds appreciate it and many and various of them rejoice in it. You might expect that only the street gamins of birdland, the sparrows, would be there. But in this spacious city there are many trees, even in the downtown district, and many a song bird which has gone apartment-house is inspired to joyous outbursts by that oasis in the desert of big business.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

SUCH IS PROGRESS
(Philadelphia Public Ledger)

The announcement that the J. B. Sickles Company of St. Louis is quitting the harness-making business it has conducted for ninety-six years marks another victory for the automotive age. Founded in a little shop in 1834, when ox carts were common, the concern literally grew up with the West. In the heyday of migration over the Santa Fe and Oregon trails, it supplied much of the harness used by wagon trains which started from St. Louis.

Its passing must have appeared inevitable during the last decade, for in that period horse-drawn traffic was steadily crowded off the streets and highways by the motor car. But its decline, though an inevitable accompaniment of progress, will be regretted, however impersonally, by many individuals who viewed harness-making not as a prosaic business but as a fine art. For art it was.

THAT DEAR SENATE
[New York Evening Post]

In less than a minute's time, without discussion and without a roll call, the Senate yesterday confirmed the appointment of Mr. Owen J. Roberts of Pennsylvania as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. This is one of the most interesting political phenomena of recent times. Mr. Roberts is more of a conservative than Mr. Hughes or Judge Parker. He is counsel for and a director of the great corporation known as the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Yet not one of the noble progressives raised his voice against him. Why? It must be that they simply knew they could not "get away with it." They had put on a big show on Hughes, they had repeated it with knockout effect on Parker. But when it came to a third performance they knew they could not hold the crowds. So their high principles, their devotion to "the fathers" serenely faded away into silence.

THEY'RE LIKE HAM AND EGGS
(Portland Oregonian)

A correspondent of the Lewiston Tribune, whose views appear in a recent issue of that admirable newspaper, undertakes to prove that liquor and poverty are not boon companions. And this he does by asserting, in an ex-cathedra manner, the greatest poverty to exist where liquor is unknown. Unless he has in mind the squalor of utter savagery, or of China, one cannot imagine which people he intends, or where they may dwell. For to the rest of the world, to the world that he knows, and we, liquor and poverty are inseparable pals. They are cause and effect. They are as Damon and Pythias. They sit cheek by jowl to table.

CHEER FOR BULLS
[Christian Science Monitor]

Many reasons have been advanced why prospective owners of American securities should be "bullish" for the long pull, but one of the most potent arguments seldom mentioned is the reduction in the public debt of $10,200,000,000 since 1919. This may be, as Will Rogers might put it, "a mere bag of shells" for the government, but it represents about $500 for each of the estimated 20,000,000 families in the United States.

HISTORY OF TARIFF
[St. Louis Post Dispatch]

No President has vetoed a tariff bill, but Mr. Hoover is doubtless aware that several of his predecessors wished they had.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

XXII

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

BY CHARLOTTE M. BROWN, Librarian

In the year 1700 ten Connecticut pastors met in a small town near New Haven, each with a small collection of books, forty in all, and founded Yale University, each saying as he laid his contribution on the table, "I give these books for founding a college in this colony." Thus was the beginning of a great university and a great library, with the library as the corner-stone of the university.

In the first catalogue of the University of Southern California, called the "Prospectus," 1880-1881, donations of good books were solicited from friends of the university. About 700 volumes were received. Half of them belonged to a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who placed his books in the hands of the faculty, subject to the order of the owner, for the use of the students. The library was open one day each week.

The library grew slowly by donations, but was unorganized until the year 1887, when Rev. John Dickinson joined the faculty as professor of science and was announced as curator of the museum and librarian; Prof. E. T. Merrill also became a member as professor of Latin.

In the autumn of 1887 these two professors began the organization of the library, which then numbered over 1000 volumes. In the selection of books for the library the president of the board of trustees insisted that the Shakespeare must be the strictly "Bowderized" edition and "such immoral poets as Byron must be forever excluded from our chaste domains." Quoting from Dr. Merrill, now a member of the University of Chicago faculty, "We found a handful of books, chiefly school-books, the remains of some minister's library and a mass of public documents. That was all. No book appropriation and no library room." Through the efforts of these two scholars, the library was classified and every effort made to increase its resources and usefulness; but it was not until years later that a regular appropriation was made for the purchase of books. In 1888 a large sum of money was voted by the trustees for a library building and books, but this was never made available. The president of the trustees also requested Prof. Merrill to make out a list of 30,000 books for later purchase. Dr. Merrill reported, "I did not think that a useful task and did not carry it out, as there was too little prospect of funds for considerable purchases."

In 1901 Mrs. Loretta May Crowell became the first full-time librarian. Miss Sarah K. Miller became librarian in 1904 and remained four years. In 1905 George I. Cochran, now president of the board of trustees, started the Dean Cochran Memorial Library and for several years the only money available for the purchase of books came from Mr. Cochran. He also placed in the library many volumes from his father's collection and his gifts have continued, until at present the Cochran Memorial Library numbers many thousands.

When the present librarian, Charlotte M. Brown, became librarian in 1908, there were 9000 volumes, including public documents and pamphlets. There was no card catalogue. The staff at that time consisted of the librarian and one student assistant.

At present there are eight school and departmental libraries in the university, with full-time librarians in charge, a regular staff of twenty-one and thirty student assistants in the general library. The resources of the library now number 150,000 volumes, being increased each year by over 8000 accessions.

The library is still using the original room given over for that purpose in 1885, but many rooms in Old College have been appropriated until nearly the whole of the ground floor, first floor and part of the second floor are being utilized.

The departmental libraries on the campus are, school of architecture, science, Rainwater Memorial Library of Sociology in the school of social welfare, school of religion, Hoose Library of Philosophy, Stowell Research Library in Education, school of medicine and school of law. Off the campus are the college of music and university college libraries.

The Hoose Library of Philosophy, founded as a memorial to the late James Harmon Hoose, contains over 7000 volumes of material covering every field of philosophical research, besides many rare volumes of incunabula and manuscripts and extensive files of the philosophical and psychological journals of Europe and America.

Through unceasing efforts the library's collection of Californian and Western American historical material is becoming one of the most valuable departments. It now contains many volumes out of print and not easily obtained, except by collectors with unlimited means, and is used constantly by the students and faculty in western history and related subjects. The activity of the library may be gauged in some measure by the book circulation statistics, which show a total of 260,119 for the past fiscal year.

CONCLUDING STATEMENT
By Rockwell D. Hunt

Such a university as the local institution is composed of many educational units—it is an ever-widening circle with its numerous segments. But like the social organism itself, it is something more than the sum of its individual parts. It has a vital spirit of unity, like the American Federal State, which is vastly more than a mere confederacy of commonwealths. Its ideals, its sacred traditions—the all-pervasive atmosphere—are among its most treasured assets.

The spirit back of the University of Southern California, with its phenomenal history and many activities, is best explained by recalling the conditions of its founding a half-century ago. The institution is the child of much sacrifice and deep devotion, dedicated even before its birth to the highest possible development of character, attainable only through a wise combination of the training of the intellect and the culture of the heart. Triumphant faith subdued mountains of difficulty and the faith of the fathers still lives.

Conspicuous among the cardinal principles or articles of faith of the university—in addition to the indispensable requirement for high scholastic and professional standards—proclaimed at the beginning and emphasized throughout the five decades of eventful history, are the following: (1.) Co-education—complete equality of opportunity for both sexes throughout all departments. (2.) Religious atmosphere—the institution having been founded and nurtured under distinct Christian auspices. (3.) Toleration—all divisions of the university open to students without reference to religious affiliation or preference. (4.) Character—the unfailing recognition of the truth of David Starr Jordan's chaste statement, "The highest function of the college is the formation of character, the training of men and women in purity and strength, in sweetness and light."

And thus has the University of Southern California taken an honored place among the universities of America, in numbers today exceeding every other university, save one, west of the Rocky Mountains, ample in organization, eager to serve. Its growth and expansion have been typical of the development of metropolitan Los Angeles and of the Southland. As The Times said in a recent editorial entitled, "Enduring Monuments," "The one school that has grown in the heart of Los Angeles and has been part of its very life is the University of Southern California." Situated as it is, the institution is essentially a city university, unhindered, however, by the political handicaps which often threaten a municipally owned university.

As already pointed out, the service of the university to the city has many aspects. To mention but two or three of these here, note the work of the school of education and of university college, which attract many hundreds of teachers in service as well as train other hundreds for teaching positions in the city and the State; observe the pioneer work of the school of citizenship and public administration which has illimitable possibilities for the improvement of the public service; and consider the highly advanced instruction and valuable research being fostered by the only completely organized graduate school in the Southwest.

Any institution that would serve its constituency as the University of Southern California is called upon to serve must have the substantial support of the citizens of its community. In educational work it is axiomatic that the more advanced the grade of work undertaken the greater is the per capita cost. Thus the expense of purely graduate instruction is far in excess of that for elementary and secondary training, or even undergraduate college education. As the range of higher activities increases to meet the demand of a people avid for education, such as the population of Los Angeles, the needed facilities in qualified personnel and every kind of equipment increase markedly in expense.

After fifty fruitful years the university has come to the dawning of this day of rejoicing. After much tribulation she enters upon her semicentennial celebration with jubilation and glad acclaim. Her triumph is the triumph of Los Angeles. In this year of jubilee the university salutes the city, even as the loyal alumnus salutes alma mater and offers to the city now facing the sesquicentennial year, her own inspiring motto, Palmam qui meruit ferat.

THE WORM TURNS

Oh, pity the poor pedestrian
Who asks for a place to walk!
He weakens beneath the third degree
And now is prepared to talk.
The hit-and-runs get the boulevards;
The birdmen get atmosphere;
The peripatetic sojourner
Gets nosed off the highway clear.
He isn't equipped for burrowing
A promenade underground;
Nor fashioned forsooth with feet of web
To ramble the seas around.
He asks for a place to walk, not run,
To nearest of exit-ways
That offers escape from noise and strife
Which shortens his span of days.
Oh, give him a footpath for his feet—
Tune in when the cables talk—
"Los Angeles has pedestrians—
They ask for a place to walk!"

N. W. KEIGHTLEY.

PEN POINTS

Another clever game is to observe a representative group ment and try to guess what represents.

A woman doesn't make a of a man. Is the candle blame if a fool moth know it will burn?

Ah, well; if history there will be somebody to the enemy while America ready for the next war.

What's the use? When college expenses stop, it just the kids will have that much spend on gas.

Home is a place where youngsters stop to say before spending their vacation somewhere else.

A boob is one who pretends believe something he doesn't lieve to keep from being a boob.

The great issues of the are those a Supreme nominee never has expressed opinion about.

The doctor who sends neurotics away for a rest is enough not to say whose rest.

Americanism: Expecting man to fight for his sealing his doom by waiting til the flood comes to teach how to swim.

The decent and honorable sum a Senator can spend is sum required to elect the who is expressing his opinion about it.

"If you expose yourself gradually you won't blister," says M.D. So that explains the survival of stomach linings.

And you never see a bronze statue of a man who wonders why somebody didn't do something about conditions.

One great trouble with the world is that nobody can see the umpire to the showers when he goes bad.

In this face-varnish era, how many a girl is born to blush unseen.

There's one consolation. You can become a billionaire and boss the country without having to tell anybody what your beliefs are.

There isn't much Communism in America unless you count the way people feel about an umbrella.

Correct this sentence: "I don't care how stylish they are," said the flapper; "I simply won't wobble along on high heels."

RIPPLING RHYMES
by Walt Mason

MINE ENEMIES

My enemies oft run me down as they go drilling through town; they sit before the county jail and promulgate some dreadful tale, concerning my unpleasant breaks; my gems and fierce mistakes. They lean against the old stone wall and there get in their deadly work. Then comes a chap who overheard each caustic gem and carping word; the grievous story he relates, and curse those gossip-dishes and vow a vengeance deep and dire and threaten like a house afire. "Jim Jimpson said you play a flute when all such work should be mute, when weary people long for sleep, for slumber tranquil, calm and deep. Your music keeps them all awake, it makes their carved spirits ache; they wish that they might leave their bed, and break your flute across your head. Dad Baxter said you had a dog that sets the neighborhood agog; it barks and howls at people's heels until the parsing pilgrim feels that one who keeps so foul a pest should end his eternal rest." I hear a dozen tales like these, the output of my enemies. And I remain in language warm, "It's time I staged a big reform: if I can't people of their sleep by playing music stale and cheap, I'll hang the flute I've played so long, and silence keep at evensong. And my pup makes people fret, I'll take him to the village vet, and have him chloroformed tonight. —I'm always anxious to do right. I thank my enemies who show the way in which I ought to go. The flattery of loving friends is much comfort to a writer man, but they have nothing much to say if he's inclined to go astray; he has to follow, as his guide, the hunch his enemies provide. And so I bless the carping bunch who have supplied the useful hunch."

Cool Comfort for Travelers

Railroad passenger cars in Europe have been equipped with a cooling system which makes the temperature comfortable inside the cars when it is extremely warm outside. Electric fans blow air through an ice chamber before it is circulated through the car.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

GOLD CAKE

One-third of a cup of butter, two-thirds of a cup of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, one and one-fourth cupfuls of sifted flour, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half a cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of orange extract. Cream the butter, gradually cream into it the sugar, beat the yolks of the eggs until they are thick and lemon-colored, then add them a little at a time to the creamed butter and sugar. Sift the flour before measuring, then sift it with the baking powder and add it alternately with the milk, add the orange extract. Place in an oiled and floured loaf cake pan and bake in a moderate oven.

BUTTER ICING

One tablespoonful of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of sifted powdered sugar, one tablespoonful of cream, one-half teaspoonful of lemon extract, the white of one egg. Cream the butter, add the sugar to it, a little at a time, diluting it gradually with the cream, then add the extract, beat the white of the egg until stiff, and add it to the mixture. Continue the beating until the mixture is thick enough to spread on the cake.

JELLIED HAM SALAD

One pound of cold, cooked ham, cut in small dice, three pimientos chopped fine, three tablespoonfuls of finely chopped sour pickles, two cupfuls of hot stock, two tablespoonfuls of cold water, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one bay leaf, one slice of onion and two whole cloves. Soak the gelatine in cold water and dissolve it in the hot stock, adding the bay leaf, sliced onion and the cloves, allow to simmer gently for five minutes, then remove the onion, clove and bay leaf. Mix the remaining ingredients in and allow the mixture to cool, oil a mold, and line it with slices of lemon alternating with slices of hard-boiled eggs, pour in the mixture and allow to set until hardened. Turn onto a platter that has been garnished with lettuce, parsley and ripe olives.

SCALLOPED COCKTAIL

Drain two cupfuls of scallops and pour cold water over them, cut into small pieces, cover with boiling water, and allow to cook for five minutes, drain, chill and measure and mix together one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of finely chopped chives, one teaspoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of Tabasco sauce, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of grated horse radish, and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Chill the sauce well, and just before serving pour it over the chilled scallops and serve in cocktail glasses, garnished with a piece of parsley and a slice of lemon.

SPEEDY RELIEF FOR SPASMS IS MOST DESIRABLE

While we dislike to utter warnings of possible happenings to children, it has been brought to our attention that we talk too infrequently of "spasms" which are of such common occurrence.

There are certain types of children more susceptible to spasms than others, even given the same provocation. These children belong to the nervous type and are probably, in most cases, rickety children also. Whether the nervousness and inclination to convulsions is caused first and foremost by the malnutrition or by the nervous constitution is hard to say. The whole thing goes around in a circle.

Overindulgence in any kind of food which results in a digestive upheaval may end in convulsions. The forerunner of most of the children's diseases is a convulsion. One experience sends the mother post-haste to some authoritative source for information about what to do when the child has a spasm and how to prevent it, for there are few more terrifying sights.

STARTS WITH FEVER

The child begins by having a fever that may rapidly rise to alarming heights. Then he begins to stare fixedly into space and ends by twitching in every muscle, a gurgling noise and foam coming from his mouth.

Strip the child. Heat one quart of water as quickly as possible. Dip a heavy Turkish towel into the hot water, wrap the child in the towel and cover with a dry blanket. Put a cloth wet in ice water on his forehead. Call the doctor. Putting the child into a tubful of hot water is even better, but when it is a question of heating a tubful of water and just enough to liberally wet a large Turkish towel, it is desirable to do that which can be done most quickly.

The mother should take the precaution of submerging her own elbow in the water to make certain that while good and warm it is not hot enough to burn the unconscious child.

The object is to bring the blood to the surface and thus relieve the overworked heart.

KEEP CHILD QUIET

When the child has regained consciousness and the spasm is over, not before, give a simple laxative and relieve the lower bowel with a cool water enema. The use of one teaspoonful of salt in one quart of water is effective.

Then put the child to bed, keep him quiet, give only water to drink and avoid any return of the spasm. Children have convulsions from overindulgence in any kind of food and for comparatively trivial causes, so it behooves a mother of this type of child to keep a watchful eye on all the food he eats at the table and between meals.

The child who has frequent convulsions or loses consciousness for a few moments several times a week should be seen by a doctor, as such convulsions are far more serious and of different origin.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

A song is always good to hear;
It means that happiness is near.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE FINDS A NEIGHBOR

As you know, Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse, had their home on one side of the Green Meadows. They were living in an old tin can in the bushes. Being fond of the open meadow, as you know, Danny spent a great deal of time cutting private little paths in the grass of the Green Meadows. These little paths led from the edge of the bushes out to certain places on the Green Meadows where the grass was especially good.

Now, as Danny worked cutting these private little paths, he would stop every once in a while to listen to two beautiful songs. They seemed to come from the sky. In truth, they did come from up in the air. One was the song of Carol the Meadow Lark and the other was the song of Bubbling Bob the Bobolink. Danny knows the songs of many of the feathered folk but he knows none in which there is more joyousness than in the songs of these two lovers of the Green Meadows. For Carol the Meadow Lark and Bubbling Bob the Bobolink are meadowfolk.

Although Danny had often stopped to listen, he had not given the subject much thought until one morning when he had carried a new path quite a distance out on the Green Meadows. Then it occurred to him that Carol the Meadow Lark seemed to be singing almost over his head. He looked up. There, just as he expected, was Carol. What a joyous song it was! Carol came down at the end of the song and it just happened that he alighted in the grass near Danny.

"That was fine!" squeaked Danny.

"What was fine?" asked Carol, pretending not to understand.

"That song," said Danny. Then he sighed and added: "I wish I could sing like that. Do you sing just for the pleasure of singing?"

"Sometimes," replied Carol. "Just then I was singing to Mrs. Meadow Lark. In fact, I do most of my singing to her. When she hears me singing to her, she knows that I am not far away."

"That was fine!" squeaked Danny

"Where is she?" asked Danny quite bluntly.

"Just where she should be," replied Carol. "She is sitting on her eggs."

Danny was interested right away. "Do you mean that you and Mrs. Meadow Lark have a nest somewhere around here?" asked Danny.

"We have a nest," replied Carol, "and there are five eggs in it. I don't say that it is around here."

"You don't say it," said Danny, "but just the same I know it is. If you were singing to Mrs. Meadow Lark, that nest must be right near at hand."

"Oh," replied Carol, "my voice carries a long way. Mrs. Meadow Lark can hear me when I am halfway across the Green Meadows."

Danny grinned, but he didn't let Carol see him do it. He felt certain that that nest was very near. Carol wasn't fooling him a bit. "I am just wondering," said Danny, "if we are neighbors."

"Do you mean that you are living over here, Danny Meadow Mouse?" inquired Carol suspiciously.

"Of course I'm living over here," replied Danny. "You wouldn't find me here if I were not living here. Nanny and I have a home not far from here—a very good home. Where did you say your home is?"

"I didn't say," replied Carol; and spreading his wings, he mounted up singing as he went.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

GIVE YOUR CHILD A HEALTHFUL VACATION

The growing bodies of children are greatly handicapped during the school months when they are compelled to sit at desks and remain inactive during most of the day. At the end of every term children look pallid, irritable, temperamental and obviously played out. The younger children are often seriously overworked. If you wish your child to have the best of health you should see that it receives a complete change during the summer months. Some type of physical outdoor activity is most essential. Your children should be allowed to play and enjoy the full glory of the fresh air and out of doors. Older children may be given some healthful occupation which does not confine them indoors. Usually, there is plenty of farm work, and boys of high-school age, for example, may be sent to help harvest for a few months.

Of course, the vacation should not be spent entirely in work even though it is healthful work. Everyone should have a period of the year where he can forget all troubles, worries, and responsibilities, and simply play and enjoy life. You no doubt realize how important this is for yourself, but it is much more so for a child or youth, as it leads to a contented mind as well as a healthful body. It is usually better to get a complete change of scenery. If you are on a farm, take your child for a vacation to the mountains or seashore, or if you are in the city, take your child to see the grandeurs and wonders of nature.

Children usually detest a good many of their studies, but still they are forced to remain in the classroom from six to eight hours, and a pernicious practice is being carried out of having them take home extra work that requires two or three hours to complete. If such overtraining is continued for any length of time, it is certain that it will ruin the mind and intelligence of the children, so that they will grow up fit for no practical purposes. It is certainly carrying this cramming too far if you insist on having your child study very much during the summertime.

You should make special efforts to guard the diet of a child during vacation time. Many people have a tendency to forget all they know about diet when they go on a vacation and sometimes their wrong eating habits injure them more than the good which comes from a change of scenery and environment.

During the summertime, when you can have the children with you at home, be sure to regulate their diet as closely as possible. During the school year the problem of school lunches has to be met, but in vacation time the children can always be at home during the noon hour, and can be fed the proper kind of wholesome food, which is so hard to secure in school cafeterias, and difficult to take in lunch boxes.

During the summer season teach your child to excel in various kinds of athletic games, checking up on his daily activities at the end of each day. Give him praise and possibly even prizes every so often, for proficiency in winning physical contests. He will not have time to develop any vicious habits or mannerisms if encouraged in this manner to do the right kind of wholesome exercising.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Ready for Service

Have you ever had a lovely last-minute invitation that you had to refuse because all your party dresses were either in need of cleaning or some small but necessary alteration? If so, it should have taught you to have the party dress put in condition to wear before ever putting it back in its clothes cover. You will soon develop a feeling of satisfaction if you form this habit, that of knowing you are ready for any contingency.

Interesting Clippings

When you read an article in the newspaper or magazine that you know will prove interesting to someone else, why not take the trouble of clipping it out and either sending it to them or saving it for them? It is a small matter, but will please the other fellow tremendously.

FILM WIVES TO AID JUBILEE

Patronesses Organize for Bowl Event

Leaders in Hospital Benefit

Left to right: Mrs. Sid Silverman (Mary Saxon) and Mrs. Ralph Blum (Carmel Myers), two members of the patroness committee of 100 which will aid in the presentation of the Midsummer Jubilee.

THAT the feminine contingent of the motion-picture industry will take an active part in presenting the second annual Midsummer Jubilee at Hollywood Bowl on July 2, was evidenced yesterday when a group of the wives of film executives met at the home of Mrs. R. H. Blum (Carmel Myers) and made plans for the organization of a committee of 100 patronesses for the affair.

Among those present at the informal tea were Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, Mrs. M. C. Levee, Mrs. S. S. Mier, Mrs. Louis I. Hochstein, Mrs. A. Levine, Mrs. A. Shohan, Mrs. S. H. Berch, Mrs. A. T. Pelton, Mrs. Sid Silverman (Marie Saxon,) Mrs. John Kahn and Mrs. Zion Myers. Mary Pickford sent a telegram advising the committee that she would be delighted to work with the patronesses.

Those present at yesterday's meeting volunteered to serve a day each week at the jubilee headquarters, 6700 Hollywood Boulevard, where they will assist with the ticket sales for the show. All proceeds will go toward supplying additional hospital equipment for the Los Angeles Sanatorium at Duarte, the free and nonsectarian tuberculosis institution.

GIRL SIGNS JUDGMENT IN EARLE SUIT

Miss Salazar Will Use $17,000 to Prepare Self for Film Work

Dolores Salazar, Los Angeles Spanish girl, has signed a satisfaction of judgment which is on file today in the Superior Court, thereby performing the last act in her suit wherein she was given a verdict for $17,000 against Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, now residing in Paris.

The young woman, according to her attorney, Roger Marchetti, will use the money to complete her education and perfect her voice with a view of entering motion pictures.

Miss Salazar, 22 years of age, won her verdict in a suit against the artist for asserted breach of marriage contract. She contended the artist, much older than herself, wooed her in extremely romantic settings, and not only promised to marry her, but also set aside a sum of money for her maintenance.

They went to Paris where, according to Miss Salazar, the artist drove her from him and she made her way back to the United States the best way she could.

Earle, in depositions read at the trial of the suit, said Miss Salazar fell into his lap like a ripe peach. He contended he made no particular effort to win her.

LATE RISER GOT WRONG SUIT

Youth Held for Illegally Wearing Sailor Clothes Tells of Plight

Just because Jimmie Perez Paralto, 23 years of age, a former sailor in the Navy, slept two hours too long on the 23rd inst. he now faces a charge of illegally wearing the uniform of a sailor of the Navy, he explained to United States Commissioner Head.

Paralto said that he "bunked" with a former shipmate, who got up early and took his civilian clothes, leaving nothing but a sailor's uniform. Pangs of hunger finally induced the young man to don the sailor's uniform, he said, and he walked out into the streets, only to be arrested by Federal agents. He waived a hearing and was held to the United States District Court under $500 bail.

Real Value Appreciated Only When Set Goes "Dead"

KHJ to Present Array of Stars in Song Revue

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Peggy Hamilton, fashion expert.

World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

"You never miss the sunshine until the darkness comes" is as true in relation to radio as it is of other things in everyday life.

Not long ago, at about 7:30 in the evening an SOS was broadcast and all radio stations were requested to "get off the air" until advised to come back.

Every newspaper and radio station switchboard was besieged with inquiries from Mr. and Mrs. Public wanting to know "how come?"

With all the good-natured "wisecracking" at times about how the 9000 radio sopranos drive one to distraction, down deep in the heart of the radio owner is a regard for the marvelous invention, for the hours of entertainment that it can bring into the heart and home by a mere turn of the dial.

Even if the batteries do wear out sometimes; even if some artist or advertisement "burns one up"—we'd all sing "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight" if the good things on radio didn't come to us each night.

HITS ON DIAL TODAY

KHJ swings into its feature schedule at 10 o'clock this morning with a galaxy of studio stars. Sammy Carr, de luxe banjoist; Ted White, baritone-ballad singer; Leigh Harline, Elvia Allman and Nell Larson are to present a song revue. This is a new Saturday morning feature designed to reconcile women to house cleaning. You can't go wrong on it. At 2:15 p.m. the Crocketi Mountaineers will take listeners up into the Ozarks with plenty of hillbilly music and song, while 3 p.m. will bring the Melomaniacs, assisted by Chick Endor, Irene Beasley and the Wandering Minstrels in an hour of orchestral and vocal hits of the day. At 5 tonight Hank Simmons's "Show Boat" is to dock with another drama that will bring all the folks down to the levee. Villains in everything. At 7:30 p.m. Anson Weeks's Orchestra is to broadcast from the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City. At 8 tonight the KHJ chorus and orchestra will open a thirty-minute program with Robbins's "Theme Song Medley," and close it with a male chorus and orchestra featuring the old sea song, "Anchors Aweigh." Carl Omeron, Ted White and Elvia Allman will be guest artists. At 9 tonight Charlie Wellman is to devote an hour to "Chasin' the Blues," and he usually succeeds.

CURTISS TROPHY RACE

KFI at 12:30 noon will bring the Curtiss marine trophy race as described by Elinor Smith, aviatrix. At 7 o'clock tonight Blanche Crossman, Gretchen Garrett, James Burroughs and Everton Stidham will offer an hour of excellent music and song, assisted by the Pryor Moore Concert Orchestra. At 8:30 p.m. Harold Spaulding, tenor, will feature thirty minutes of semi-classic repertoire, accompanied by a concert orchestra. At 9:30 tonight the Three Sisters, Anna Kristina, Happy Chappies and Micky Conti will please with smiles and songs. For the owls there will be the KFI Midnight Frolic, from 12 to 2 a.m.

KECA should satisfy the most exacting ballad lover, for at 7:45 p.m. Lou Handman and Dorothy Taylor are to offer fifteen minutes of original ballads. Then there will be the Pacific Serenaders at 8 p.m., to be followed at 8:30 p.m. by Helen Guest in ballad repertoire. Eddie Armstrong, ballad singer, will be heard at 8:45 p.m., while at 9 o'clock Will Rounds's string ensemble with Arthur Lang, baritone, will be heard in songs and orchestra tidbits by Mendelssohn, Massenet, Delibes and others.

"VACATION DAYS"

KNX at 6 p.m. is to open the Paramount Hour with one of Paul Ash's stage shows, "Vacation Days." Among the entertainers will be Paul Ash, Marcia Freer, Jesse Crawford, Paul Small, Gierasdorf sisters and the Foursome Quartet. At 7:30 tonight June Pursell, original KNX girl, is to sing "Ten Cents a Dance" and other interpretations. Bill Hatch's Novelty Orchestra is a feature on this program. At 8 p.m. Comic Opera Night will come again—tonight a "Viennese Night," with the works of Franz Lehar.

TELETYPE UNIONIZING MADE AIM

Railroad Telegraphers at Conclave Amend Rules to Take in More Operators

Attempts at unionization of operators of teletype machines and "printers," new electrical communication devices, loom as a result of action taken at the just completed convention of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in Moose Hall, with more than 600 delegates, representing more than 60,000 members, present.

This was indicated yesterday by an announcement by Edward J. Manion of St. Louis, president of the order, that the constitution of the organization has been amended to embrace operators of the recently developed machines.

"Although teletypes and machines are not, as yet, in wide use," said Manion, "in the course of years we anticipate more than 10,000 persons will be engaged in operating them."

Manion said that the membership roll has been decreasing in recent years.

Additional work, creating opportunities for more men, is expected to develop as a result of a stand taken at the convention against the use of telephones in the dispatching of train orders and for a six-day week. Manion declared that the use of the telephone in connection with train orders opens a possibility of error.

Telegraphers, he said, work seven days a week, except in the case of those employed on the New York Central and Pennsylvania lines, where a six-day week is observed.

Manion was re-elected head of the organization and L. J. Ross grand secretary. Frank J. Ellison of Los Angeles was elected to the board of directors.

ITALIAN CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Natalia Merlo, wife of Tony Merlo, rancher near El Monte, yesterday entertained members of the Club Femminile Italiano of Los Angeles. After the serving of an Italian dinner, the women were entertained by Roy Stewart, motion-picture actor, who spoke to them in Italian.

FILM PRODUCER'S DAUGHTER EXTRA

Katherine De Mille

Seeking to win success on her own merits as an actress, Katherine DeMille, 19-year-old daughter of Cecil B. DeMille, motion-picture director-producer, has become a film extra. Miss DeMille is one of 150 supers appearing in society scenes.

"I mean to give myself a real trial in pictures," said Miss DeMille. "By doing so I will find out whether or not I am fitted for the work and if I actually want to follow a screen career. If I succeed I want it to be on my own merits. I am having a wonderful time."

SUBPOENAS IN HOSPITAL INQUIRY DUE

More Than Score Will be Summoned to Tell Jury of Asserted Conditions

Preparation of subpoenas for more than a score of witnesses to be summoned before the county grand jury Tuesday to tell what they know of "intolerable conditions" in the General Hospital will be started today by Fred Shelley, deputy District Attorney directing the investigation.

Meanwhile several new complaints received by mail yesterday will be added to the file of nearly 100 statements detailing asserted mistreatment and neglect of patients by hospital authorities.

The inquiry was started a week ago at the order of Dist.-Atty. Fitts. A separate investigation is being conducted by the Efficiency Bureau of the County Civil Service Commission, according to Shelley.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL WILL GREET ALUMNI

President Lawrence Lee of the Lincoln High School alumni has announced plans for a reception in honor of all graduates of the school who are expected to return to their alma mater on the occasion of a semiannual ball in the school gymnasium on the evening of Friday, June 6. Two loving cups will be awarded the best dancers. Officers for the year 1930-31 will be elected.

PETITIONS REQUIRED

The City Council, on recommendation of the Public Works Committee, has decreed that if downtown business men wish the streets decorated with trees between the electrolliers and flower baskets attached to the electrolliers, they should bring in majority petitions asking for this improvement.

TRIO SOUGHT AS WOMAN COMPLAINS

Wife Tells of Attempted Attack and That Her Husband Was Bitten in Struggle

Search for a woman and two men on assault charges was begun by police yesterday following report of Mrs. Maria G. Rincon, 25 years of age, of 490 North Aurora street, that she had been set for an automobile ride from the country against her will and before and subjected to an attempted attack.

Mrs. Rincon, accompanied by her husband, appeared at Central police Station and complained that in a desperate struggle to free herself from the men she had been bitten in the nose. She stated that while looking for work the two men, whom she had known casually, invited her into the automobile, the two men, to be driven to her home. Instead she was driven into the country, she said.

After the struggle in the car Mrs. Rincon said she was driven back to the city and kicked out of the machine at Ord and Spring streets.

WARNERS TO FILM "MAYTIME"

John Boles, Lupe Velez Slated for "Resurrection;" Goldstone Negotiating for English Actress; Dixie Lee Will Play in Four Fox Films

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"Maytime" once more is to be presented on the screen, this time as a musical, its true form. Sigmund Romberg, as you remember, is the author and composer, and the production had a long run on the stage several seasons ago. Since then it was made as a silent picture by B. P. Schulberg, with Gaston Glass and Ethel Shannon starred.

SIGMUND ROMBERG

Now Warner Brothers are to film the musical, which will include all the original Romberg music as well as being photographed in colors.

It is now planned that Irene Delroy and Jack Whiting will play the star roles in the production, Miss Delroy having achieved much popularity in her short career on the screen, while Whiting is one of the most promising players at Warners. Both are playing in "The Life of the Party."

No director is yet chosen, although it is rumored that Alan Crosland may get the assignment.

LAEMMLE, JR., HAS IMPORTANT PLANS

Carl Laemmle, Jr., Universal head, home from his successful sojourn in New York, where his two pictures, "King of Jazz" and "All Quiet on the Western Front," are proving hits, yesterday had some announcements to make.

CARL LAEMMLE JR.

Much is expected from the stereoscopic lens and from the new wide film and color processes which Universal technicians are perfecting, and it is expected that production will start immediately on two features.

"Resurrection," we learn, will have as its stars, as prophesied in this column the other day, John Boles and Lupe Velez. Miss Velez will follow in the brilliant footsteps of Dolores Del Rio in this picture.

"The Leather Pushers," which was so successful as a series of short-reelers, with Reginald Denny starred, is once more to be made, this time as a feature, perhaps. The star is not yet named. In any case it is to be a talker.

Dixie Lee to Star

Dixie Lee, it turns out, is not being overlooked by the Fox officials in their handing out of choice starring vehicles.

The little actress is scheduled for four pictures. These include besides those already announced, "Girls Demand Excitement" and "No Favors Asked."

Miss Lee has been making a big place for herself in the hearts of the fans during her short career.

Benita Hume With Tiffany

That charming actress, Benita Hume, English player, who pleased us so much at the newly opened California in "High Treason," may quite likely sign with Tiffany, we learned yesterday. Miss Hume has the leading feminine role in "High Treason."

BENITA HUME

Phil Goldstone is negotiating with her and though no roles are yet in mind for her, it is known that Goldstone proposes to star her. She is at present in London, and this will be her first trip to Hollywood and this country.

Charles King to Europe

While Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is lining up a story for that engaging young actor and singer, Charles King, he is looking forward to a vacation abroad.

King and his wife plan to take a trip to Europe this summer, spending three months in Paris, Berlin and London. King may also make a few personal appearances with some of the M.-G.-M. productions in which he has played, and which will be showing in London and Paris while he is there.

Ann Harding to R.-K.-O.

When "Cimarron" goes into production at R.-K.-O., with Richard Dix starred, it has been arranged that no less charming an actress than Ann Harding is to have the leading feminine role in the production. It is planned to borrow her from Pathe.

ANN HARDING

Miss Harding has been removed, at her own request, from the cast of "Beyond Victory," the Pathe special, due to her wish to have a vacation before working any more before the camera. So far no actress has been chosen to replace her.

Actress Here

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, noted English actress, has slipped into Los Angeles, ostensibly for a vacation and rest. She is stopping at the Ambassador Hotel at the present time.

HALL HONORED

The film colony will visit the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel Monday night when James Hall, featured in Howard Hughes's epic of the air, "Hell's Angels," now at Grauman's Chinese Theater, and Merna Kennedy, popular young film actress, will be guests of honor.

PRISON LIFE DEPICTED IN 'LAST MILE'

Play Coming to Majestic Carries Unusual Theme; Run Opens Monday

"The Last Mile," which comes to the Majestic Theater Monday night, has been the subject of numerous national magazine articles because of its new and unusual treatment of prison life.

With its entire action taking place in the death house of a penitentiary, the story depicts human beings facing the electric chair to which they have all been condemned. The reactions of these men to their fates, and their brazen attitudes toward life, in general provide theater fare that is unusual and different.

The success of "The Last Mile" has elevated John Wexley, its 24-year-old playwright, to an eminent state as an author. The entire production is under the personal direction of Lillian Albertson, who announces that tickets for all performances of "The Last Mile" are available at the Majestic box office and the forty branch box offices.

Actress Finds Role Pleasing

Ara Haswell, the young actress who plays the leading feminine role in "The Great John Ganton," starring George Fawcett at the Vine-street Theater, finds it singularly refreshing to play the part of a well-bred young lady of the Mauve Decade.

Miss Haswell has had a wide experience in ultramodern roles. Her performance in Mary Boland's play, "Ladies of the Jury," proved her natural facility in that type of role, it is said.

COMEDY AT EGAN TO GO ON ROAD

Brown and Forrest, producers of the comedy, "For Cryin' Out Loud," which has played at the Egan Theater for the past six weeks, announce that the play will close its Los Angeles engagement with tomorrow night's performance.

This early closing is due to advance booking for the road, and "For Cryin' Out Loud" will open in Portland the first part of June. Practically the same cast will be seen in the Portland engagement.

CHEVALIER AT PEAK OF FAVOR

Large Audiences See Him in "Big Pond"

Clever and Sympathetic Role Helps His Success

Claudette Colbert Heads Star's Support

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

A signal for packed houses these days is the news that M. Maurice Chevalier is on the screen. Ruling idol of the talkies that he is, he drew large audiences yesterday at the United Artists Theater. Naturally, the holiday was of benefit, but, regardless of that, attendance was significant of the interest in the clever French singer and comedian.

Chevalier is doing the role of Pierre Mirande in "The Big Pond"—the European who came over to America and made good in the chewing gum business. The picture is founded on the play which provided entertainment not long ago at a Hollywood theater. The plot has been changed sufficiently to afford a pleasant interest even for those who saw the original and it is also centered much more than was the stage version about the character impersonated by Chevalier.

George Middleton and A. E. Thomas were the authors of the footlight comedy. The screen adaptation was contrived by Robert Presnell and Garrett Fort, with the dialogue by Preston Sturges, who wrote "Strictly Dishonorable," currently on the boards. Hobart Henley was the director, and leading players in the film included the beauteous Claudette Colbert, George Barbier in a very successful humorous portrayal; Frank Lyon, Elaine Koch and others. Most of the names are unfamiliar because their possessors are from the New York stage, the picture having been produced at the Paramount studio in the East.

SYMPATHETIC ROLE

"The Big Pond" is ingenious entertainment. It is especially good because it presents Chevalier in one of the most sympathetic roles that he has yet played. You are rooting for him, so to speak, right from the start.

The scheme to bring him to America to undertake a business career is simply a trumped-up idea of the father of the heroine, and the girl's fiance, who hope that the home-town environment won't suit the young man from abroad. They think, too, that the girl herself will find him not so fascinating once he is removed from the Venetian setting, where she first met him, and where he was working as a tourist guide.

Neither the girl's parent nor her suitor counted on the Frenchman's determination. They were surprised by his enthusiasm for chewing-gum making.

The girl's father also discovers during the film that his imported employee has enterprise. This is brought home to him when Pierre furnishes him with an idea for a new kind of chewing-gum—one that shall contain pre-Volsteadian flavors. That happy thought of the hero's sends him right into the big position in the company that is turning out the choice product, and it is a novel and intriguing twist to the plot.

"The Big Pond" is really adroitly developed, despite a slight story, and it offers amusing touches, not just here and there, but all along the line.

SINGS NEW NUMBERS

Chevalier is responsible for most of the fun, and is ever so likable in this particular portrayal. For no special reason of plot he sings several songs. The numbers, "You Brought a New Kind of Love to Me," and "Livin' in the Sunlight; Lovin' in the Moonlight," are just his type.

The audience laughed consistently at the picture during the showing which I saw last evening, and enjoyed Chevalier immensely. A sharer in the mirthful response was Barbier in the role of the father. He is excellently cast, and knows the comedy points.

Miss Colbert appears in a less effective role than in "Young Man of Manhattan." She plays it, however, with marked distinction. Little Miss Koch is charming as the child, Jennie, and Frank Lyon, as the rival, is an excellent actor.

With Chevalier in the lead "The Big Pond" is certain of pleasing the majority of film goers. There are amusing additional numbers on the bill, including a Jack White comedy, "Oh! Darling" and the very well made Terry-Toon cartoon, "Hawaiian Pineapples." Gaylord Carter at the organ offers a medley of Chevalier songs.

Million Dollar Opens New Bill

The Million Dollar Theater is presenting an elaborate and well-rounded program this week.

Nelly Fernandez, Mexican dancing star, is receiving popular favor. Miss Fernandez is supported in her Rio Grande Revue by F. Melendes Del Valle, an adagio dancer. Joe Cook and company offer a jazz revue that is interesting in its contrast. Lyons and Waterman serve the comedy and the Three Society Steppers do a tap dance.

Contract Given Young Writer

Norman Burnstine, one of the youngest writers under contract to a motion-picture company, is to remain as a member of the writing staff at the Paramount Publix studios in Hollywood, for which this writer, who is still in his early twenties, has signed a new contract.

Burnstine was placed under contract to Paramount two years ago because of his original story, "Sins of the Fathers," made as an Emil Jannings starring picture.

Thrills and Comedy Mixed in Play

Lulu Mae Hubbard

Assists in the enactment of "The Whispering Gallery," which Henry Duffy will present at the President Theater starting tomorrow.

PREMIERE PLANS COLORFUL

The formal opening and dedicatory performance of the new Pantages Hollywood Theater will take place Wednesday evening with a gala premiere of "The Floradora Girl," an M.-G.-M. production directed by Harry Beaumont.

Eddie Cantor, popular screen and stage star, will take over the duties of grand master of ceremonies and will introduce the various notables who attend the event.

Fanchon and Marco are creating a special idea called "Rosegarden," which will be presented for the premiere only. Slim Martin and his band will provide the musical portion of the program.

The new theater is located on Hollywood Boulevard near Vine street and is a valuable addition to Hollywood's theater rialto.

NEW SHOW STARTS AT MIDNIGHT

Warner Brothers Present "Bride of Regiment" at Hollywood Theater

Seven notable players who have been starred or featured on stage or screen are cast in the principal roles of "Bride of the Regiment," First National's play with music, filmed entirely in Technicolor, which has its western premiere at midnight tonight at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood.

Vivienne Segal, stage star of "The Desert Song," and Ziegfeld's "The Three Musketeers," sings the title role. This is Miss Segal's third screen role. Allan Prior appears opposite her in his initial film part.

Walter Pidgeon as the Austrian officer has an important singing role. Louise Fazenda, Ford Sterling and Myrna Loy need no introduction to screen audiences. Lupino Lane, member of an old theatrical family, appears in a comedy part. John Francis Dillon directed.

Notables to Attend Local Debut of Star

With a large representation from the London colony of Los Angeles, leading English stars and a representative society and cinema audience, Maurice Moscovitch, noted actor, will make his first local appearance Monday night at the Belasco Theater.

The play selected by the distinguished star for his debut is "The Outsider," written especially for him by Dorothy Brandon, and in which he has starred in nearly every English-speaking country in the world.

Moscovitch is supported by a strong cast. The play is in three swiftly moving acts, and is declared to be one of the most exciting of dramas.

Canadian Plays German in Film

Fred Coppins, Canadian army veteran who won the Victoria Cross for valor, wears a German uniform and fires a German machine gun in the impressive battle scenes of "All Quiet on the Western Front" at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Coppins enlisted in Edmonton, Alta., in August, 1914, and after the war came to Los Angeles where he resided since. With the exception of forty former German and Australian soldiers, all of the "Germans" in "All Quiet on the Western Front" are veterans of Allied armies. Director Lewis Milestone had a general staff composed of one representative from each army engaged in the war while filming the picture.

Orpheum Plans Late Matinee

Plans have been announced by the Orpheum Theater for a special midnight performance tonight of "The Cuckoos," musical comedy film. The late performance will be presented immediately following the close of the last regular show.

"The Cuckoos" is based on the New York stage success, "The Ramblers," and in addition to Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, the cast includes Hugh Trevor, June Clyde, Dorothy Lee, Johyna Howland and Mitchell Lewis.

"High Treason" to Remain for Another Week

"High Treason," the romance and adventure tale of 1940 which opened Fred Miller's California Theater a week ago, has proven so interesting and entertaining that Miller will continue its engagement for another week.

"High Treason" is a talking drama unfolding a story of what the world and its people may be like ten years hence. It is filled with unusual situations, and the director and author attempt to visualize how people will live and fight when the world is even more highly mechanized than at present. Television in daily use; two-decker streets; tunnels under the English Channel; airplanes and dirigibles, as common as autos today, are shown in actual use.

For his second feature, Miller announces "Mamba," an all-talking, all-Technicolor romance of Africa, featuring Jean Hersholt, Eleanor Boardman, Ralph Forbes and a large supporting cast.

Sturges Comedy Fourth Oldest on Broadway

"Strictly Dishonorable," Preston Sturges's comedy which closes its local engagement at the Biltmore Theater on June 7, has become the fourth oldest play on Broadway, being exceeded by "Street Scene," "Bird in Hand" and "It's a Wise Child."

"Strictly Dishonorable" already has passed its 300th performance in New York and the Chicago company is in its fifth month. Besides the Pacific Coast company, which begins its San Francisco engagement June 9 at Erlanger's Columbia Theater, seven other companies are being organized by Pemberton, now en route to New York to play the piece in all parts of the world.

The producer admits that the popularity of the comedy has far exceeded his most optimistic hopes.

Arthur Clayton in "Decency"

Arthur Clayton, celebrated stage star, whose performance in "White Cargo" will be remembered, has been cast in one of the important roles in "Decency," coming to the Mayan Theater Thursday.

"Decency," an original stage play by Arthur Gregor, brings something new to the stage, and the advance demand for tickets augurs well for the success of the production which Perry Ivins is directing, it is said.

Katherine Wilson has the featured role in this play, being sponsored by Franklin Productions. Others in the cast include G. Pat Collins, Rose Dione, Dine Smirnova, Ticot D'Avril and Jesse Hurley.

EDITH VAN CLEVE HAILS FROM INDIA

Edith Van Cleve, prominent in the "June Moon" cast at the Hollywood Playhouse, was born in Bombay, India, but she came to America at such an early age that she has no recollection of such things as "salaams and curries" and was prepared when she read "Mother India" to find a character story of an old woman wearing a shawl.

She has supported Jane Cowl for several seasons, and was for two seasons with Grant Mitchell in "One of the Family" and "The Butter and Egg Man."

VIVACIOUS GIRL STARS AT WARNER

Alice White Has Typical Role in "Sweet Mama" as Singer and Dancer

America's girl friend, Alice White, takes a turn at the role of Good Samaritan to an embryo racketeer and as such saves him from foul play at the hands of the underworld in "Sweet Mama," arriving at Warner's Downtown Theater yesterday.

As might be guessed from this, the picture gives another version of night club-gangster life in a big city. It moves smoothly yand crisply to a melodramatic climax, wherein Alice, escorted by a squadron of the "city's finest," arrives upon the scene just as the inexperienced racketeer (and true blue at heart) boy friend is being forced to jump to his death from the roof of a high building.

To accomplish her mission of saving her sweetheart from his iniquitous pursuits, Miss White takes a job as an entertainer in the night club he frequents. In this capacity, she dances and sings as no one but the alluring Miss White can.

The film is good, if not particularly original entertainment, from start to finish. There are a lot of intimate scenes of supposedly authentic bright-light festivities, and no end of shots of gangster plottings.

David Manners, a likely-looking young chap who seems to be coming into prominence as a screen juvenile, is seen opposite Miss White. He is pleasantly intriguing as the boy friend, handling his lines and his part with facility.

Kenneth Thomson makes a suave and quite likeable racketeer chieftain. If he is not quite as menacing as one's conception of the typical hard-boiled gangster, he makes up for this in his play upon words and interesting characterization.

Who other than Robert Elliott, who had much the same job in "Broadway," plays the slow-moving, smart-thinking police detective. Lee Moran makes a colorful job of first assistant to Thomson in his underworld activities.

Alice White fans cannot go wrong on this picture. It is a First National production with screen version and dialogue by Earl Baldwin, direction by Edward Cline.

One of the accompanying short features on the program is a piece of slapstick showing Johnny Arthur in "His Bridal Night." Another is quite a ravishing dance creation in Technicolor for which Larry Ceballos is given credit.

"Ways to Strength and Beauty" Made by German Film Organization

Ziegfeld's campaign to glorify the American girl dwindles when compared to the organized German movement toward "glorifying the body beautiful." A pictorial revue of efforts in this direction, "Ways to Strength and Beauty," will be enough to send Filmarte patrons of the week straight home to a renewal of their daily dozen.

Nothing more distinctive has come to the screen than this melange of muscle play which has been put out by the UFA company under the direction of Wilhelm Prager. Dr. Nicholas Kaufman, it is said, wrote whatever story or continuity is credited to the film.

No pretense at story is made, however; all action being merely a symposium of muscular rhythm and sporting achievement. The propaganda behind it all is, of course, that civilization is destroying the perfection of the bodily machine and ways and means to combat this evil are shown.

Effects of great beauty are often attained as the human form transcends the purely physical and becomes an impersonal piece of art. The entire work is reminiscent of the Grantland Rice opuses. Many shots of the news-reel variety have been introduced among the more aesthetic poses to bring out the importance of the present world of "athletics." Perhaps these will have the more universal appeal, but it is that more idealistic portion which lends to the picture its distinctive beauty.

All moods of bodily activity are given space, starting back with the sports of the ancient Greeks and coming down through phases of the dance to the virility of baseball, football and similar competitions.

The earlier genius of Charles Chaplin is evident in "Police," a relic from the old Essanay days. The Chaplin pantomime can always provoke laughter, no matter the story.

Sid Grauman Arranges Late Show Tonight

So heavy are the advance reservations that Sid Grauman has found it necessary to schedule Saturday midnight matinees of "Hell's Angels," the Howard Hughes air spectacle, now having its world premiere engagement at Grauman's Chinese Theater. The first of the series of special midnight performances will be given tonight.

Film stars and other celebrities who were unable to attend the world premiere on Tuesday night are planning to have their first view at the air war drama and the prologue tonight.

Three years in the making, "Hell's Angels" is by far the most pretentious production to come out of the studios in many months.

Claude King Signs for Film

STORY FINISHED

Anne Caldwell, musical-play writer, will soon have released her initial screen effort. "Dixiana," for which she wrote the story, dialogue and lyrics.

STAR PUZZLE'S DEADLINE NEAR

All Lists of Words Must Be in by 6 p. m. Today

Intense Interest Shown by Many Readers

Educational Benefit Said to Have Been Great

A graphic barometer of the intense interest throughout Southern California in the Los Angeles Times star puzzle is shown in the thousands of letters that have come into contest headquarters expressing praise of this unusual feature.

While the main floor of The Times Building was swamped yesterday afternoon by persons depositing their lists of words, contestants have until 6 p.m. today to submit their answers. Officials of the contest want to impress contestants with the fact that if the lists are not brought into The Times office, they must bear a postmark before 6 o'clock tonight.

With The Times offering $3200 in cash prizes to the 112 persons who submit the greatest number of English words formed from the letters in the star, interest has been so intensified that many persons have kept working on the puzzle as a recreational and educational pastime, thinking only of the prize qualification when their lists have been ready to submit.

PRAISE VOICED

Mrs. E. A. Graham, 87 years of age, 4005 Wesley avenue, says: "I just wanted to tell you that not since I turned my back for keeps on the little old red schoolhouse where a spelling bee was our chief joy along competitive lines have I met anything so simply enjoyable as this of word hunting in The Times star puzzle. My daughter urges me to send you this list—perhaps she is unduly proud of her mother, and few girls seem to be that these days."

"I believe The Times is doing the people a real service in giving this contest," says Lois Kramer, 508 South Park View street. "One cannot work in earnest on a job like this without being benefited mentally; and the sticking to the work to a finish is also good discipline."

Mary G. Power of Tujunga declares that The Times contest started her on the road to health. She says: "Oh, haven't I had fun with this contest! In bed for the last fourteen months—since the contest opened I have done about nothing else. My doctor came yesterday and found big progress in healing has taken place. A lot, of course is due to my lying still and being happily occupied."

GOOD FOR CHILDREN

"I never enjoyed any game as much as this," writes Helen W. Vernon, "and I think for school children it is excellent. I hope you will have another one on the same order some time."

Mrs. Annie Marie Wood of San Diego declares that "picking out these words has been the most entertaining, intriguing game I have ever indulged in and The Times surely deserves a word of praise for giving us this enjoyable and educational contest."

"A 14-year-old boy says "prize or no prize it has been a great educational benefit to me." Man, woman and children from all walks of life reiterate this thought and according to those who have observed newspaper contests throughout the United States, The Times feature is the first contest ever presented that embraces the perfect reader service. There are no tricks in The Times contest and as soon as the judges have made their decision the list of words winning the $1000 major prize will be published in this newspaper.

Contestants are cautioned that there is no such thing as an extension of time limit. All lists must be submitted either at The Times office or in the postoffice by 6 o'clock tonight.

DISCOVERED AN OLD CIVIL WAR MONITOR

Some shipwrights in New Orleans, pounding the scales off the hull of a lowly iron ferryboat of antique design, discovered to their astonishment that they were dealing with a monument in naval history, says the New York Herald-Tribune. Investigation has shown that the hull of the ferryboat was once the U.S.S. Chickasaw, one of the four monitors that led Farragut's line into Mobile Bay in August of 1864, and the lineal ancestor of those super-dreadnaught battleships of whose abolition Mr. MacDonald is reported to be desirous.

Wooden vessels have often had long lives, but the discovery of an iron hull still in active service after some sixty-seven years is anything but usual. When one remembers that the Chickasaw was of an entirely new type, brought out in all the hurry of a war program to meet a need which had just been revealed by the pressure of war itself, her survival reflects credit upon the honest workmanship of her builders. The Chicasaw was one of the double-turreted monitors, the first improvement upon Ericson's original, and like the original, she must have been a purgatory below decks and a coffin in a seaway. The fourth in the line at Mobile, she was not heavily punished, but lay under Ford Morgan, chucking canister at its gunners while Farragut and the wooden ships went by.

The Monitor herself was lost at sea, and, so far as one knows, the whole ugly and historic brood of her sisters and daughters has long since vanished. But impracticable as those early designs were, they not only helped to win the civil war; they also remade the navies of the world. Farragut's Hartford, which was already an anachronism the morning after the fight at Hampton Roads, has been preserved. If it were possible to restore the Chickasaw to her original condition she would make an interesting relic.

Ah! News!

Next Door: Smith, I'm surprised to hear that your chickens have been over the wall scratching up my garden.

Neighbor: Surprised! That's odd. If your garden had come over the wall and scratched up my chickens I could have understood your astonishment.—[Army and Navy Journal.

Margie Traphagan

Desire to see a big city prompted Margie Traphagan, 20 years of age, to leave her home in Chrisman, Ill., last April and come to Los Angeles, she explained yesterday in the County Jail, following her arrest for Illinois authorities.

The young woman is a juvenile ward, she said, and is supposed to remain in custody of a guardian in her home town until she is 21 next October. She was traced by police to her place of employment in Venice and eastern authorities notified.

Old Quebec Bids for Tourists

To the unimaginative person a road may be only a road; just so much concrete or gravel, built and kept in repair in order that vehicles may traverse it with the least possible delay and inconvenience. To the Quebec Department of Highways, however, a road has a deeper significance, as the 1929 report clearly indicates.

"There is hardly a sphere of human activity with which highways have no concern, the report states. The highway is a medium of beauty, of social intercourse, of education and culture; it contributes largely to the prosperity of merchant and of farmer, of garage man and hotel keeper. Above all, highways are the foundation, the prerequisite of the tourist industry, an industry which is growing to such an extent that the United States tourist traffic in Quebec alone last year was estimated at $61,266,000.

"No roads, no touring," is the slogan of the Quebec Department of Highways, and so the roads are made as perfect as possible. But that is not enough. People must be told that these good roads are there, and when they come to them they must find touring so easy and delightful that they will return and bring others with them.

Publicity comes first. In 1929 an official was sent on a tour of propaganda through the eastern and southeastern States, and representatives were sent to exhibitions in various States, as well as in the Province itself. The department advertises in newspapers and magazines. A representative in New York and agents in Chicago see to the distribution of information and booklets. In the twelve months previous to the publication of the report 1,397,000 booklets, bulletins and maps were issued. The aim of the department is to attract tourist traffic and to distribute it to different parts of the Province. The sound principle laid down is that good publicity should advertise one district without disparaging another and should be based on truth and justice for all.—[Manitoba Press.

UNCLE SAM'S SECRET

The paper on which Uncle Sam's currency is being printed comes to the Treasury Department in Washington in sealed packages of 1000 sheets each. This paper is especially made for this purpose by secret process and must be guarded every moment to keep it from falling into the hands of counterfeiters, or spies of other nations. Before printing the bills the paper is moistened as it is then more pliable and receives the impressions more readily. Uncle Sam's secret process of making paper for his currency has never been discovered by any other nation, much as they would like to know it.

Good Thoughts

Silk stockings will last much longer if they are not ironed.

Include dandelion in your spring menus—for your health's sake.

Keep the tea, coffee and spices in covered containers to keep their flavor.

Clean the white enameled furniture with a soft cloth dipped in turpentine. Polish with a soft cloth.

Cane chair seats that have become sagged and loose can be made like new if washed in hot water and left in the open air to dry.

Frozen Meat Jubilees Held

To celebrate the jubilee of the frozen-meat industry a banquet was held recently in London. Practically all the food served had been refrigerated and some of it had come from distant countries. Speakers recalled the arrival at London docks, fifty years ago, of the first cargo of frozen meat, which consisted of forty pounds of mutton and lamb from Australia. It was also mentioned that Australia is the greatest meat-eating country in the world, with the United States second and England third.

She Walks Across Europe

Miss April Day, the authoress and traveler, is walking across Europe alone. She started from London, is touring Germany and Russia and will finish at Constantinople. She carries her own kit, which includes a portable tent and equipment, and presents a picturesque appearance on her travels. She will write a book about it. Miss Day has already walked across Asia and India and on her Asiatic trek she hiked the entire way round the wall of China, the first woman to accomplish such a feat.

DEGREES TO GO TO EIGHT ANGELENOS

Three Judges of Superior Courts Among Those to Receive Loyola Honors

Three Superior Court judges and five other well-known citizens of Los Angeles will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the annual commencement exercises of Loyola University, to be held Sunday afternoon in Blessed Sacrament Auditorium, Hollywood.

Those who will receive honorary degrees are Judge Aggeler, Judge Crump, Judge Fricke, Dr. Paul E. Bowers, George Breslin, Harry H. Culver, Louis J. Euler and A. I. McCormick. More than 100 graduates of the different departments of the university will receive diplomas on the same occasion.

The exercises, which are open to the public, will begin at 3 p.m. Attorney Isidore B. Dockweiler will deliver the address to the graduates, and the Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, D.D., bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, will preside and make the formal presentation of degrees and scholarship honors. Rev. Zacheus J. Maher, S.J., president of Loyola, will present the class for graduation.

CLASS WILL HEAR J. S. McGROARTY

John Steven McGroarty will deliver the principal address to the eighty members of Loyola High School's class of 1930 at the commencement exercises Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Blessed Sacrament Auditorium, Sunset Boulevard and Cherokee avenue. Rev. Father Raymond I. Butler, S. J., is principal of the school.

The program also includes a salutatory by Francis J. Barry, Jr., an address on "Loyola, Past and Present," by Darrell F. Finnegan, the valedictory by Edgar J. Thurin and the singing of the class song. Following Mr. McGroarty's address, diplomas will be presented to the graduates by Rev. Father John C. Ward, S. J., president.

Incidental to the program several musical numbers will be rendered by the Loyola High School Orchestra, under direction of Prof. Ferdinand Wismer.

WOMAN PIONEER DIES AT HERMOSA BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, May 30.—Mrs. Rose Pauline Lapp, resident here more than fifteen years, and of Southern California for fifty years, died at the family home at 140 Thirty-first street yesterday after a short illness. She leaves her husband, Eugene Lapp, and was a sister of Frank J. Frowis of Santa Ana, R. H. Frowis of El Centro, A. H. Frowis of Heber, E. J. Frowis of Westmoreland, Mrs. C. R. Smith of Oakland and Mrs. W. G. Huston of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be conducted from the chapel of P. C. Dellenbaugh & Co. in Los Angeles at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

FILM DIRECTOR WILL REPORT ON WORLD TRIP

Following his two months' tour of the world, Richard Wallace, film director, will return to Hollywood next week accompanied by his wife. Wallace made a survey in more than twenty Oriental and Mediterranean cities of the attitude toward American films and will make a report upon his arrival. Among the cities visited by Wallace are Tokio, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Manila, Singapore, Cairo and Alexandria. He landed in New York yesterday.

MAN HELD ON CHARGE PREFERRED BY CHILD

RIVERSIDE, May 30.—Although undergoing a two-hour questioning by attorneys, a 12-year-old girl yesterday refused to budge from her story and Tom McGuire, Corona service-station man, was bound over to Superior Court by Justice of the Peace Moore of the Riverside township court on serious statutory charges.

FLYING ASSEMBLYMAN TAKES OUT PAPERS

VENTURA, May 30.—Dan Emmett of Santa Paula, the "flying Assemblyman" from this district, took out nomination papers for re-election in the August primaries late yesterday at the office of County Clerk L. E. Hallowell.

KANSAS PICNIC TOMORROW

Former residents of Wellington, Kan., tomorrow will hold an all-day picnic at Little Griffith Park, near Los Feliz Boulevard and Western avenue.

OPERETTA SLATED

Luther Reed will start soon on the adaptation of "Babes in Toyland," the operetta which he will translate to the screen this summer for Radio Pictures.

Woodland Treasures

Studies carried on by the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Water show that a ton of oak leaves contains nearly three pounds of phosphate, about twenty pounds of nitrogen and seven pounds of potash. These leaves, if applied to agricultural land, have a definite worth and the practice of many farmers of "burning over the wood lot" is like burning up good money. If left on the forest floor the autumn leaves act as fertiliser to trees and flowers and also retain moisture, which helps in flood control. In any event, it is wise to consider dead leaves as treasure.

The Outside Porch

One housewife told how she got comfort out of her screened-in porch at the shore last summer with no discomfort from flying bugs. Instead of having the reading light on the inside of the porch screening they used an extension cord and placed it just on the outside. They could see just as well with it but it eliminated the constant effort, and sometimes success, of the swarming bugs trying to get to the light inside the screen. The swarming was all done on the outside.

"HUMAN GLIDER" TO SPIN IN SKY

Stunt Will Feature Closing Air Circus

Rex G. Finney

ZOOMING and spinning in a series of crazy gyrations imparted by a triangular piece of sailcloth sewn between his legs, Rex G. Finney, the "human glider" of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, will attempt Sunday at Grand Central Air Terminal the most sensational parachute stunt ever conceived, according to the concluding program of a three-day aerial circus at the Glendale airport.

Catapulting from a trimotored transport plane, Finney deflects his vertical descent by spreading apart his legs and actually zooms upward again in a flying-squirrel attitude before, his speed killed, his body hurtles downward again.

Bobby Trout, aviatrix, will attempt to shatter the world's altitude record for OX-5 motors in a cabined monoplane.

It's Quite Easy to Misquote

Mr. Edison is credited with an error in every one of the four lines he quoted from Gray's "Elegy," but none of his mistakes are material, says the New York Times. The sense and emotion of Gray's lines remain intact and there is no intrusion of alien words. The music does suffer a bit; most severely through the omission of the first word—

"(And) all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,"

and the transposition of the first two words in

"Await alike th' inevitable hour."

But as famous quotations go, Mr. Edison did very well indeed. There may be professors and other specialists who can reproduce a great line down to the last apostrophe mark and colon, but they will do it in the line of business. The speaker or writer who reaches into the past for the word or phrase apt to his instant use is more likely than not to do a little damage in the snatching.

Birkbeck Hill, in preparing his great edition of Boswell's "Johnson" made it a point to confirm every quotation, whether by Johnson or Boswell, or anybody mentioned in the latter's text or notes, by reference to the original text. And almost never was it the good fortune of Shakespeare or Milton or Dryden or Pope to be quoted with absolute precision by the busy readers and talkers of Fleet street. Not to speak of superfluous or missing or misplaced of's, the's, an's and a's, or the substitution of at's for in's and by's and the like, the adjectives were continually being mishandled. Let the candid reader of average good memory ask himself today just what is it that happens to the mercy whose quality is not strained. Does it fall like the gentle dew from heaven, or drop as the gentle rain, or what? And what does it fall on or up—the earth beneath or the place beneath? Will the witness, recalling that he is under oath, solemnly tell us just what did Thomas Jefferson say—that all men are born free and equal, or what?

Of this people's government of ours we all know that it starts out to be a government of the people. But does it go on to be a government by the people and for the people, or for the people and by the people? And just where does the word "and" occur in Lincoln's statement of the case? Well, we will not leave the average reader in suspense. The correct phrase—having just looked it up—is "of the people, by the people, for the people." How many Americans are aware of the comparatively moderate position taken by Francis Scott Key? He did not say, "Then conquer we must, for our cause is just." He said, "Then conquer we must when our cause is just." It is with the familiar quotations we live with as with the familiar people we live with—because of their proximity and intimacy we are apt to fall into the habit of taking slight liberties.

COLUMBUS A PIRATE?

If a Peruvian historian, Luis Ulloa, knows what he is talking about, Columbus was a pirate who visited America, probably Florida, long before 1492. Ulloa's evidence is obtained from documents discovered in an old castle at Simancas near Valladolid, Spain. He is going to embody his findings in a thesis to be given before the International Historical Congress at Seville, Spain. This Peruvian has been engaged in historical research for nearly forty years so ought not to go off half-cocked just for publicity purposes. But he will probably start a big rucus at the coming gathering of historians.

Trial in Double Glendale Killing to Open Today

August A. Gingell, Glendale merchant, charged with murdering his wife and her asserted sweetheart, is scheduled to go to trial today in Superior Judge McComb's court.

The complaint accuses Gingell of following his estranged wife and Sigurd Bjorneby, a musician, to an apartment at 1225 West Sixth street, where he shot them after delivering a scathing lecture. Police assert Gingell then walked down Sixth street and surrendered to a patrolman.

PLANS LAID FOR STREET

He Must Pay Up or Crack Rocks

Arthur B. Miller of Arcadia, who has been looking for a job unsuccessfully for ten years, according to his wife, will have one for the next two years unless he pays $40 a month for the support of his children, Carmen, 14 years of age, and Ehrman, 12, according to Municipal Judge MacCoy.

Miller was found guilty of failure to provide for the children after Mrs. Daisy Miller, 424 Westmoreland avenue, refuted his statement that he is out of work. He will serve two years on the rock pile at $2 a day to be paid to his children, unless he deposits $320 at the City Prosecutor's office immediately to insure the $40 monthly payment, Judge MacCoy directed.

OCTOGENARIAN'S WIFE NAMED IN WILL FIGHT

Thomas Cullyford, who married at the age of 82 years, was unduly influenced in his will-making by his wife, Katherine Cullyford, it is asserted in a contest by Alyce C. Bole, niece of the decedent, on file yesterday. Cullyford died October 14, 1929, at the age of 85, and his wife was left $22,000 of a $30,000 estate. Other relatives got $8000 in bequests of $500 and $1000.

PARK AGREEMENT SIGNED

The Park Commission, following a resolution of approval, has signed a five-year extension of the agreement by which the City of Los Angeles is allowed to occupy a portion of the Point Fermin lighthouse reservation for public park purposes. The agreement, approved by the United States Secretary of Commerce, covers the period between the first inst. and May 1, 1935.

Tale of Nagging Wins Divorce

"Things were so unpleasant at home I couldn't stand it any longer," Edward M. Caley told Superior Judge Archbald when asking the court to grant him a divorce from Myrna Taylor Caley.

"What did your wife do to make it unpleasant?" asked his counsel, Attorney Romaine L. Hogan.

"She was nagging me all the time. Then, too, about six months before we separated she took a position against my wishes. It was unnecessary for her to go to work."

The husband also asserted his wife was smoking continuously, against his wishes. A decree was granted.

STREETS TO BE IMPROVED

The City Council has directed the City Attorney to draft the necessary ordinances for the improvement of streets in the Florence avenue and Victoria avenue district.

PARK ROSE GARDEN AGREEMENTS DRAWN

Notice to the Park Board by the Board of Supervisors that the latter has instructed the County Counsel to prepare a renewal agreement between the Sixth District Agricultural Association and the Park Commissioners and the county, covering maintenance of the rose garden in Exposition Park for one year from July 1, 1930, to June 30, 1931, at a total consideration of $15,000, half to be paid by the city and half by the county, has been filed by the Park Board.

COST DIVISION APPROVED

The matter of dividing the costs of improving another exit from Santa Monica Canyon between Los Angeles, Santa Monica and the county, as submitted by Councilman Webster, has received the approval of the Council Finance Committee and has been referred to the County Affairs Committee.

Ruling Given on Question of Residence

It is only after a city position has been obtained that Ordinance No. 66,200, requiring all city employees to reside within the limits of Los Angeles, becomes effective, according to an opinion given to the Civil Service Commission by City Attorney Werner.

The ordinance, recently passed by the City Council, has caused some confusion among applicants taking civil service tests for city employment. Some of them believed that they had to shift their residence from the outside to within Los Angeles before taking the tests. The commission asked for an opinion.

Sheep Multiply and Add to Grief

Disposal of thirty-eight Persian sheep is being sought by the Los Angeles Humane Department following an opinion by Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller that the department has a right to dispose of them because of a lien for upkeep totaling more than $4500.

The department picked up eight sheep five years ago because of asserted violation of rules for humane treatment, and since that time the eight have increased to thirty-eight.

Right of the owner to obtain return of the eight lapsed some time ago, in the opinion of Kitzmiller, and interest in the offspring also lapsed because of the department's lien for maintenance.

IMPROVEMENTS APPROVED

The petition for the improvement of Ninety-second street from Central avenue to Main street has been approved by the City Council.

New Plunge to Open Tomorrow at Palos Verdes

The new $100,000 Palos Verdes Estates swimming pool and bath house will be thrown open to members and residents tomorrow. The plant is located about 100 feet above sea level at the foot of a bluff below the Malaga Cove playground.

The main pool is 60 by 150 feet and nine feet six inches deep at the further end of the basin. Filtered sterilized sea water is used.

Grant Leenhouts, who was for years with the Surf and Sand at Hermosa Beach, will be in charge.

The plunge and [illegible] been deeded to the [illegible] tion as an addition to the park and playground system.
